JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

[1]Editor Record and Guide:

The lien filed against us by Geo. Spaeth, stair builder, is unjust. He is not entitled to the last payment from us, per agreement with him, until the architect has approved his work, which we had to repair and complete; besides, the amount of his balance is $108.00 instead of $208.00, according to his own statements, if all his work would have been satisfactory.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Certified copy of judgment reforming deed to read "as joint tenants and not as tenants in common" action. Mary T Hughes agt Bartholomew Neville et al. Feb 10. ——
Election to accept legacy in lieu of dower right to property Jere T Story, dec'd. Margarita Story to whom it may concern. ——

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the correspoding date.

The Attention of Architects, Builders, Owners and Managers of Hotels and Apartment Houses is called to the New York Telephone Company's

PRIVATE BRANCH EXCHANGE SYSTEM.

By means of a Private Branch Exchange city and long distance telephone service, as well as an interior service, are available to every apartment, at very moderate cost. Most people depend so much now-a-days on the telephone service that a Private Branch Exchange, connecting with the New York Telephone System, is practically a necessity in the Modern Apartment House or Hotel.

Full information on request at any of the Contract Offices:

LUMBER.

Appended quotations are based almost wholly upon prices obtained for goods from first hands. Yard rates necessarily range much higher owing to the expenses attending sorting out and grading cargo and even car lots, besides which must be added the cost of handling and carrying until consumers are ready to invest. Terms of sale also prove important factors, and altogether it is impossible to give a line of retail quotations thoroughly reliable in character.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY.

Orders for the annual number of the Record and Guide Quarterly should be sent to the office of publication, Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey Street, immediately, to insure prompt delivery. This number will be ready for delivery in a few days It contains all the records for the past year annotated and alphabetically and numerically arranged Annual subscribers receive this number as part of their subscription; price to non subscribers, $10 per copy.

THE announcement that the Federal government proposes to put the legality of the Great Northern—Northern Pacific consolidation to a judicial test, could not have affected the Stock Market in the way that it did, if the condition of the latter had been a really healthy one. As a matter of fact the market has, so to say, only been waiting for an excuse to break and would have broken long before this had it not been for the manipulative tactics of interests that have large amounts of securities still to market. The public has held aloof from speculative ventures in stocks and bonds since their dangers were revealed in May of last year. Following a dull summer some very determined efforts have been made to lift prices, but without any real success. These efforts have been made more difficult in the past few months by the suspicions aroused by the bond issues of prominent companies and the announcement of plans of others obstensibly intended to develop their properties and give the shareholders more returns, but which were only too transparently schemes to raise new capital without the implications that would attach to a direct application to the market therefor. Such strength as the market possessed arose out of a belief that the concentrative and mutual interest arrangements of the past few years, gave the railroad and great industrial companies a position in which they could permanently maintain rates and prices on a paying basis, for even speculators and manipulators must have something upon which to base their actions. Now, if that prospect is to be dissolved or obscured by a legal process, which carries with it a doubt in the minds of the highest officials in the country of the legality of the combinations and common interests, there is little or nothing left to sustain the bull position. First we had inflated prices to serve as a caution; then the borrowings or intended borrowings of companies that were supposed to be above that necessity, and now the attack on the very principle that was relied upon to sustain both, accompanied by a growing belief that the President is not in as complete sympathy with the aims of leaders of finance and of industry as his predecessor in office was. After this there is nothing left for quotations to do, but to seek levels where prices and values will come nearer to each other than they have done for more than a year.

IT appears that foreign exchanges have also developed a reactionary tendency. The speculation in Kaffirs reached a new point of culmination and, although the cables say this is due to the larger interests shaking off their poorer following—how natural that should sound to us in New York, who have heard it so very often—it must be taken that the movement has been overdone and prices put to points presently unjustified by the progress made at the mines, or the rate at which the disturbed country in South Africa is approaching settlement. Where American shares are dealt in extensively, as at London, Amsterdam and Berlin, the markets of course sympathize with New York. Berlin and Paris are the points outside of Spain most interested in Spanish securities, and their nervousness is naturally increased by the news from the Peninsula, which indicates very depressed industrial conditions there in common with the rest of the Continent, and the danger of political upheaval not entirely eliminated. The barometer of Spain's condition are Spanish 4s, which, it will be remembered, touched 40 during the time or our little unpleasantness in Cuba and the Philippines, and, as they are the least secured of Spain's debt issues, they are the first to suffer. Their range is between the low figure previously given and 80. A number of German cement companies have lately issued their annual reports, which show such bad business in the past year that dividends have to be cut in two. These reports generally lament the loss of trade with the United States, but do not express any hopes of recovering it, apparently concluding that, if this trade is bad for the European makers in a period of unequalled prosperity and of the liveliest activity, in both public and private building in the United States, business lost must have gone for good into the hands of native cement makers. In other lines there is a little more cheerfulness, but all the same it must be understood that Europe is in a period of restricted activities, when capital accumulates in the banks, and the only borrowers are governments, national and municipal; when money becomes as cheap as it is plentiful and commerce and industry wrestle through poverty and depression as best they may.

The State Tax Policy.

IT has been amusing to note the way friends of the administration at Albany have been endeavoring this week to make New York City, or the representatives of New York City, in the Senate and Assembly, which for their purpose is the same thing, believe that the special taxes with which the Governor hopes to supersede the direct state tax, put money into the city's coffers. Such an assertion is ridiculous on the face of it, and is met at once by the question, Where does the money come from? It is argued, and there is no denying that, that the immediate effect of the legislation, imposing a tax for state purposes on bank, trust company and other corporate capital, by reducing the amount of the state tax, proportionately relieves the City; but nothing is said of the later loss that must be sustained through these subjects of taxation being reserved for State purposes only. A specimen of the arguments used was that the city collected on a trust company capital of, say, using round figures, $10,000,000, after allowing offsets, which at 2.30 would be $230,000; now, the State allowing no offset collects one per cent. on, say, $100,000,000, or $1,000,000, and as that sum goes in reduction of the State tax of which New York City pays about two-thirds, the latter indirectly receives $666,666 to compensate the loss of $230,000.

This ought, apparently, to end the case of those who oppose the State tax policy, but this tax legislation reacts very peculiarly on the city, and in ways that legislators do not possibly foresee. As an illustration of this the effect of the Raines law, considered merely as a revenue creating measure, may be cited. That enactment raised the license fee in New York City from $250 to $800, or increased the running expenses on the premises in which a liquor business was carried on $550, the equivalent of 5% per annum on $11,000 of capital, and the profit earning capacity of the premises was correspondingly decreased. The effect of this was a sudden drop in the value of this class of property necessitating in course of time, reductions in assessments estimated by competent authorities at $10,000,000. How this came about may be readily recalled to the minds of those acquainted with the extreme easterly and westerly avenues. The higher license fee resulted in the closing up of a great many liquor businesses and the throwing of the premises in which they had been carried on into competition with other stores, so that there was a good deal of moving to and fro, lessened rentals, and, finally, the least desirable of the stores were left vacant on their owners' hands. Considered as a temperance or a moral agent the Raines law may have compensated for its pecuniary defects, but we are not considering that phase of it, nor judging by what we heard last November did it amount to much. The Raines law had, however, one good feature that more recent State tax legislation lacks, and that is that two-thirds of the income arising from it in any community go to that community, so that in the case of New York City something is obtained from the higher license fee to offset the loss of the lower fee and of income on reduced valuations.

The most objectionable feature of this special State tax legislation lies in the fact that the State can only collect its own income by expropriating tax subjects that should belong to the localities and to which the latter can never thereafter have recourse for tax raising purposes and which may, thereby, evade part at least of their just responsibility to contribute to the public requirements. Thus, no matter how bank, trust companies and other similar capital grows, it can only be taxed for State purposes and the continually increasing burden of municipal expenditure must be borne by other subjects, the chief of which in colossal preponderance is, of course, real estate. At the same time it is the activities and opportunities of the cities that give the expropriated subjects their uses and growth; and, as a matter of final reasoning, it is still the cities that will pay all but a very, very small part of the State taxes. Why should not the cities then do the taxing?

THERE is a movement afoot for a rearrangement of the fire limits in the Borough of the Bronx, which, if successful, would very materially increase the area in which frame construction would be permitted. Generally the proposed plan is to run a line along 149th street from the Harlem River to the New York and Harlem railroad, thence northeasterly to 156th street, thence easterly to Trinity avenue and southerly along the latter thoroughfare, the Port Morris Branch railroad and Southern Boulevard to Harlem Kills, and so form one compact section in the southwestern portion of the borough in which the frame construction shall not be permitted. In addition to this the main avenues below 177th street to a depth of 100 feet on either side are, it is proposed, to be included in the fire limits, while the considerable intervening sections north of 149th street and 156th street are to be without them, as would be also the large territory to the east of the north and south lines named. Under the admission of their claim for local self-government that guided the partial separation of the boroughs in the amended charter, the Bronx may be supposed to know what is good for itself, but the existing fire limits were carefully laid out by the Building Code Commission after consultation with all interests and the Board of Aldermen ought to be careful to ascertain whether a change is really desired by the borough and not merely by a few dissatisfied people, before making one.

The Real Estate Situation

A number of very high prices have been paid during the past week for parcels both on 5th avenue and in other parts of the city. First among these may be mentioned the figure which Benjamin Altman gave at auction for No. 363 5th avenue. The parcel contains 2,200 square feet, and knocked down for $163,000, which is $73.18 a square foot. The daily papers have stated rightly that the records do not show any higher price than this paid for 5th avenue property, but it would be a mistake to take the value here established as the normal value of property on this part of 5th avenue. In order to get a common basis of comparison, the price per square foot is never supposed to include any contribution from the value of the building; but in the present case the building has been altered for business purposes and is leased for many years, so that while it is the kind of building which has been torn down in the vicinity, it certainly has a value independent of the location. Moreover, Mr. Altman is the owner of the abutting property. The consequence is, that while property on 5th avenue near 34th street is undoubtedly advancing, it has not yet reached as high a price per square foot as this sale would indicate. In relation to property in this vicinity, it is interesting to note that title was passed to the Broadway Tabernacle during the week, the consideration being $1,300,000. As the property contains 14,700 square feet, this is equivalent to $89 per square foot, which, considering the advantageous location of this plot, and the prospects of Herald Square, cannot be considered an excessive figure. More extraordinary is the price which the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Company is reported to have paid for the northwest corner of Exchange place and William street. This property measures 41.5 on William street by 89.7 on Exchange place. It is now occupied by the Bank of the State of New York, and adjoins the Wall street building of the insurance company which has made the purchase. The price is said to be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, and it was paid in order to protect the light and air of the Atlantic Mutual Building. We have frequently called attention to the increasing tendency on the part of the owners of these skyscrapers to buy abutting properties for this purpose; and as these abutting properties will not be improved, the question is pertinent, whether a legal limitation of the height of office buildings to the stories would not have resulted in the construction of just as much rentable space as does the present method of erecting eighteen or twenty-story buildings, surrounded by three and four-story buildings. Certainly the owners of two out of every three of these buildings have been compelled to buy adjoining property, and by so doing to diminish materially the profit upon their investment. Under the present circumstances the best way out of the difficulty is the purchase of as much property as possible in the beginning, and the erection of a building with courts that secure light and air to the tenants. In the case of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Co., the cost of protection has been enormously high, and the price paid per square foot—which is not far from $300—has been exceeded only three times in the real estate history of the city, and in each of these cases the area was much smaller than 3,333 square feet.

High Prices for Fifth Avenue Property.

AN interesting item in the week's business is the sale of Nos. 594 and 596 Broadway, extending through to Crosby street. Property in this section has been hard to sell in the past five years, and it is more than encouraging to announce a sale of a large building, and also that another deal of about the same size will be closed in a few days.

It is encouraging to be able to announce the almost unequivocal success of the sale of the properties belonging to the Peyton estate. The parcels offered were not with a few important exceptions situated in or near centers of lively speculative activity. They were for the most part detached houses, which gave a secure return upon a comparatively small investment—the kind of property which from the character of the market, one would not have expected to bring very high prices. Yet the prices were high; and it is safe to say that similar properties could many months ago be bought at private sale for lower figures. This sudden revelation of strength on the part of the investment market is justified by many considerations. Within the past year, the prices of stocks and bonds have been advanced to such an extent that improved real estate now has a substantial advantage over many other forms of investment. Moreover, this advantage will be still further increased by what promises to be a substantial reduction of taxes not only for the current year, but for the year following. The consequence is that, if the present general prosperity only continues for another twelve months, it is probable that real property will recover everything that it has lost during the past few years in the eyes of the prudent investor. In the case of the Peyton estate other considerations also had a considerable effect. A large proportion of the parcels offered were situated in the district, which was described in the last issue of the Record and Guide as the "Middle West Side." In an article upon that section we gave many cogent reasons, why this whole section will during the next ten years be the scene of an increasing activity and advancing prices. The improvement in the service of the street railways, the various developments arising from tunnel communication with New Jersey, and the spread of manufacturing enterprises will all have a beneficial effect upon this middle west side, and a man purchasing property west of 7th avenue, between 50th and Houston streets can not only get a good return upon his investment, but the practical assurance of an increased value for his property. It is no wonder that these parcels sold well, even when they were not situated in the neighborhood of some improvement, which will be shortly consummated. The final result of the sale will, consequently, encourage local property-owners, and bring out an increase of voluntary offerings in the auction rooms. Taken together, with the lively business which is reported in our "Gossip" columns, it affords an additional indication that good times are now actually at hand—on every hand some reports of large sales, frequently at record prices. The number of conveyances recorded and their total amount are running ahead of the large figures of last year; and the filings of new buildings, while behind the total of 1901 are becoming more and more diversified. A good many tenements and apartment houses are beginning to appear in the plans and an unusual number of mercantile buildings. Private dwellings are the only class of structure, of which not very many are on the boards. Apartment hotels are also still coming in strongly, and they are located for the most part on the West Side. The present movement, while very speculative, has behind it practically unlimited resources, and brokers and property-owners can look forward to a long period of prosperity, provided only the tendency toward higher prices does not overreach itself.

IF there are any city buildings, which ought to be securely protected against fire, it is buildings such as theatres and churches, in which large numbers of people congregate. Theatres particularly are both peculiarly liable to destruction by fire, because of the combustible character of many of the stage properties, and because of the many sources, connected with theatrical productions, from which the flames may start. Moreover, a theatrical audience is frequently overwrought and is very liable to panics. This necessity for fireproof construction of theatres has been fully recognized in the present building code. The long and elaborate sections on theatres and places of public amusement were drawn up by an architect, who has had a great deal of experience in the designing of such buildings, and who was fully competent to lay down the conditions necessary to the safety of the many hundred thousand people in this city, who frequently attend them. The consequence of the improved method of construction is that the New York theatre, which at one time were being burned down at a rate, which seemed to have some peculiar fatality attached to it, are now much less subject to destruction by fire. No theatre has been burnt down in this city since the old Fifth Avenue Theatre about twelve years ago. But New Yorkers cannot continue to count of this immunity, unless the sound provisions of the building code are fully complied with in the case of all newly constructed theatres. It is a matter of common report at the present time that there are in this city three theatres, or places of amusement used as theatres, which have not been built according to the law, and which, if the standards of the law are the standards of safety, must be considered unsafe. How these theatres came to be erected in partial violation of the law we can only guess; but the important point is, not how the violations came to be permitted, but that they exist and threaten the lives of people who use those theatres. We withhold the names of the theatres in question, because we have no wish to alarm the public or injure the business of lessees, who are not responsible for the manner in which the buildings are constructed, but we are prepared if necessary and unless some action is taken by competent authorities to give a bill of particulars. Fortunately, we have reason to believe that such action will be taken, and it should be quick and decisive.

COMPTROLLER GROUT is doing his best to secure a change in the date of levying taxes, which will relieve the city from the necessity of conducting its business on borrowed money. A full statement of the advantages, which he expects to derive from the change, and the manner in which he proposes to bring it about will be found in another column. It appears that he is trying to make the change an easy one for taxpayers. It would be obviously unfair to advance the date at which taxes are due from October 1st to February 1st all at once, thereby compelling the property-owners to pay in almost $100,000,000 of taxes twice within four months. The saving of $1,500,000 a year which the city, and ultimately the taxpayer, would derive from the change would be more than balanced by the loss, which he would suffer from the necessity of finding his taxes twice within so short a period. This difficulty Comptroller Grout proposes to meet by spreading the change over a period of six years, and advancing the date, on which taxes are due, first to August 1st, then to June 1st, and then to February 1st; and in case the property is sold, by providing for a division of the tax between the buyer and seller. On the whole the method proposed makes this very desirable improvement in the fiscal arrangements of the city as little burdensome as possible. The jump of four months from June 1st to February 1st might well be divided in half and distributed over more time; but apart from that detail the change will be well managed, if it is managed in the manner proposed. A saving of $1,500,000 a year, is one which will reduce all tax bills to almost one per cent. and a half, and opportunities to make such a saving are rare. The property-owners' associations would do well to support the Comptroller's bill.

A NEW aspirant for the honor of representation on the Board of Examiners is the United Real Estate Owners Association, who have sent a bill to Albany to secure this privilege. Here is another case in which denial would be unjust so long as the principle of construction of the Board is one of representation of appropriate associations. We understand, however, that a strong intimation has been given by those who speak from the card that no addition will be made to the Board this year. This prevented other organizations than those already named from applying to the Legislature for membership this year, but it may be taken for granted that next year there will be a determined effort to increase the numbers composing the Board of Examiners, or to introduce a new principle of membership altogether.

Proposed Changes in the Tenement House Law.

THE TENEMENT HOUSE COMMISSION'S NEW BILL.

The text of the Tenement House Commission's bill to amend the tenement house law of last year, is given below. Matter omitted from the old law is shown enclosed in brackets and all new matter is capitalized.

The provisions of the new bill that will attract most immediate attention are those which would allow six-story non-fireproof tenements to be erected irrespective of the width of the lot; the height of fireproof tenements to equal one-and-a-half, instead of one-and-a-third times the width of the street upon which the tenement is located; providing new provisions for yard space on corner lots and the repeal of the provisions for rebuilding in case of fire and of the celebrated "600 cubic feet of air space" requirement. In general the commission have apparently thoroughly overhauled the present law with the view of meeting the objections that have been raised against it in detail. No concession, however, has been made with regard to area of lot that may be occupied, except in minor particulars; as to the school sinks or as to the light and ventilation for inner rooms in existing tenement houses. Otherwise objections have met with liberal treatment, considered, of course, from a tenement reform point of view. Whether the changes will meet the expectations of owners, builders and architects or are in the form desired by them can only become apparent after time has been given them to study and discuss the provisions of the new bill.

AN ACT

To amend Chapter Three Hundred and Thirty-four of the Laws of nineteen hundred and one, entitled "An act in relation to tenement houses in cities of the first class."

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section Five of chapter three hundred anl thirty-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and one, entitled "An act in relation to tenement houses in cities of the first class," is hereby repealed.

Section 2. Section Eleven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 11. Fireproof tenements, when required. Every tenement house hereafter erected exceeding [fifty-seven feet, or exceeding five] SIX stories or parts of stories, in height above the curb level, shall be a fireproof tenement house, nor shall any tenement house be altered so as to exceed such height without being made a fireproof tenement house. [Provided, that this section shall not apply to a building of a height not exceeding sixty-seven feet, and not exceeding six stories or parts of stories in height above the curb level, if such building shall have a frontage exceeding forty feet.] A cellar THE CEILING OF WHICH DOES NOT EXTEND MORE THAN TWO FEET ABOVE THE CURB LEVEL is not a story within the meaning of this section.

Section 3. Sub-division one of section twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

[1] The fire escapes shall [be located both on the front and rear of the building] OPEN DIRECTLY FROM AT LEAST ONE ROOM IN EACH APARTMENT at each story above the ground floor, and NO FIRE ESCAPE SHALL BE PLACED IN A COURT EXCEPT AS PROVIDED IN SECTION FIFTY-SEVEN OF THIS ACT. [Where there is an apartment not containing any room fronting on either the street or yard, an additional fire escape shall be provided for such apartment. Where, however, there are not more than four rooms in a line comprising part of one apartment, and the apartment extends from the street to the yard, the rear fire escape may be omitted.] Fire escapes may project into the public highway to a distance not greater than four feet beyond the building line.

Section 4. Section thirteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

13. Bulkheads.—Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have in the roof a fireproof bulkhead with a fireproof door to the same, and EVERY TENEMENT HOUSE HEREAFTER ERECTED EXCEEDING THREE STORIES AND CELLAR IN HEIGHT shall have fireproof stairs with a guide or hand-rail leading to the roof, and such stairs shall be kept free from encumbrance at all times. No bulkhead door shall at any time be locked with a key, but it may be fastened on the inside by movable bolts or hooks.

Section 5. Section fifteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

15. Stairways in non-fireproof buildings.—Every non-fireproof tenement house hereafter erected containing over [eighty] TWENTY-FOUR APARTMENTS OR SUITES OF rooms shall also have an additional flight of stairs for every additional [eighty rooms] TWENTY-FOUR APARTMENTS or fraction thereof; if said house contains not more than THIRTY-SIX APARTMENTS [one hundred and twenty rooms], in lieu of an additional stairway, the stairs and public halls throughout the entire building may each be at least one-half wider than is specified in sections fourteen and twenty of this act.

Section 6. Section Sixteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

16. Stairways in fireproof buildings.—Every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected containing over THIRTY-SIX APARTMENTS OR SUITES OF [one hundred and twenty] rooms shall also have an additional flight of stairs for every additional THIRTY-SIX APARTMENTS [one hundred and twenty rooms] or fraction thereof; but if said house contains not more than FORTY-EIGHT APARTMENTS [one hundred and eighty rooms], in lieu of an additional stairway the stairs and public halls throughout the entire building may each be at least one-half wider than is specified in sections fourteen and twenty of this act; and a power passenger elevator, enclosed in a separate shaft from the stairs and distant not less than thirty-five feet from the main flight of stairs, shall be deemed the equivalent of an additional flight.

Section 7. Section Eighteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

18. Stair halls.—The stair halls in all non-fireproof as well as fireproof tenement houses hereafter erected EXCEEDING THREE STORIES AND CELLAR IN HEIGHT shall be constructed of fireproof material throughout, except as in this section specified. The risers, strings and banisters shall be of metal or stone. The treads shall be of metal, slate or stone, or of hardwood not less than two inches thick. Wooden hand rails to stairs will be permitted if constructed of hardwood. The floors of all SUCH stair halls shall be constructed of iron or steel beams and fireproof filling and no wooden flooring or sleepers shall be permitted. All windows on SUCH stair halls opening on courts shall be of good quality wire-glass in frames of fireproof material.

Section 8. Section Nineteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

19.—Stair halls, continued.—In every non-fireproof tenement house hereafter erected EXCEEDING THREE STORIES AND CELLAR IN HEIGHT all stair halls shall be enclosed on all sides with brick walls. The doors opening from SUCH stair halls shall be fireproof and self-closing, and if provided with glass such glass shall be good quality wire-glass. There shall be no transom or movable sash opening from a stair hall to any other part of the house. [Except on the entrance floor.] Each stair hall shall be shut off from all non-fireproof portions of the public halls and from all other non-fireproof parts of the building, on each story, by self-closing fireproof doors, and if glass is used in such doors it shall be of good quality wire-glass.

Section 9. Section Twenty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

20. Entrance halls.—Every entrance hall in a tenement house hereafter erected shall be at least three feet six inches wide in the clear, from the entrance up to and including the stair enclosure, and beyond this point at least three feet wide in the clear. [It shall be enclosed with brick walls.] IN TENEMENT HOUSES HEREAFTER ERECTED EXCEEDING THREE STORIES AND CELLAR IN HEIGHT EVERY ENTRANCE HALL SHALL BE ENCLOSED WITH BRICK WALLS, EXCEPT THAT IN A FIREPROOF TENEMENT HOUSE HEREAFTER ERECTED IT MAY BE ENCLOSED WITH TERRA-COTTA BLOCKS NOT LESS THAN FOUR INCHES THICK AND WITH ANGLE IRON CONSTRUCTION, and shall comply with all the conditions of the preceding sections of this act as to the construction of stair halls. If such entrance hall is the only entrance to more than one flight of stairs [said hall], THAT PORTION OF SAID HALL BETWEEN THE ENTRANCE AND THE FIRST FLIGHT OF STAIRS shall be increased one foot in width in every part for each such additional flight of stairs. In every TENEMENT [such] house HEREAFTER ERECTED, access shall be had from the street to the yard, either in a direct line or through court.

Section 10. Section Twenty-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

21. First tier of beams.—In all non-fireproof as well as fireproof tenement houses hereafter erected five stories or more in height, exclusive of the cellar, the first floor above the LOWEST cellar, or, if there be no cellar, above the lowest story, shall be constructed fireproof with iron or steel beams and fireproof flooring; and the bottom flanges and all exposed portions of such iron or steel beams below the abutments of the floor arches or filling shall be entirely encased with hard-burnt clay or porous terra-cotta or with metal lath properly secured and plastered on the under side. In all non-fireproof tenement houses hereafter erected less than five stories in height, where the first floor above the LOWEST cellar, or, if there be no cellar, above the lowest story, is not constructed fireproof with iron or steel beams and fireproof flooring, the cellar ceiling of said tenement house shall be lathed with [wire or] metal lath and plastered thereon with two coats of brown mortar of good materials, or shall be covered with plaster boards not less than one-half inch in thickness, made of plaster and strong fibre and all points made true and well-pointed.

Section 11. Section Twenty-three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

23. Cellar stairs in non-fireproof buildings.—In non-fireproof tenement houses hereafter erected EXCEEDING THREE STORIES AND CELLAR IN HEIGHT there shall be no inside stairs communicating between the LOWEST cellar or other lowest story and the floor next above, but such stairs shall in every case be located outside the building, and if enclosed shall be constructed entirely fireproof and be enclosed in a fireproof enclosure with fireproof self-closing doors at all openings.

Section 12. Section Twenty-four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

24. Cellar stairs in fireproof buildings.—In every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected the stairs communicating between the LOWEST cellar [and] OR other lowest story and the floor next above, if not located underneath the stairs leading to the upper stories, may be placed inside of the said building; provided that the portion of the cellar or other lowest story into which said stairs lead is entirely shut off by fireproof walls from those portions thereof which are used for the storage of fuel, or in which heating appliances, boilers or machinery are located. All openings in such walls shall be provided with self-closing fireproof doors.

Section 13. Section Twenty-six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

26. Cellar entrance.—In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be an entrance to the cellar or other lowest story from the outside of the said building. In such tenement houses, WHICH EXCEED THREE STORIES AND CELLAR IN HEIGHT, unless the entire ceiling and floor above the cellar or other lowest story is constructed fireproof, all receptacles for fuel or storage in the cellar or other lowest story shall be constructed entirely of fireproof materials.

Section 14. Section Twenty-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

27. Fire stops.—In tenement houses hereafter erected, in all walls WHERE WOODEN FURRING IS USED all the courses of brick from the under side of the floor beams to the top of the same shall project a distance of at least two inches beyond the inside face of the wall so as to provide an effective fire stop; and wherever floor beams run parallel to a wall AND WOODEN FURRING IS USED such beams shall always be kept at least two and one-half inches away from the inside line of the wall, and the space between the beams and the wall shall be built up solidly with brickwork from the under side of the floor beams to the top of the same so as to form an effective fire stop.

Section 15. Section Twenty-eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

28. Wooden tenement houses.—Within the fire limits no wooden tenement house shall hereafter be erected, and no wooden building not now used as a tenement house shall hereafter be altered or converted to such use. BUT outside of the fire limits [wooden], tenement houses not exceeding two stories in height, exclusive of the cellar, may be erected OF WOOD, but shall not provide accommodations for, or be occupied by, more than four families in all, or more than two families on any floor; and such houses, WHETHER OF WOOD OR OTHER MATERIAL, need not comply with the foregoing provisions of this act in reference to protection from fire nor with the provisions of sections twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two [thirty-six], thirty-seven and thirty-eight of this act.

Section 16. Section Thirty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

32. Scuttles, bulkheads and ladders.—Every now existing tenement house shall have in the roof a bulkheal or scuttle constructed as in this section required. No scuttle shall be less in size than two feet by three feet, and all scuttles shall be covered on the outside with metal and shall be provided with STAIRS OR stationary [iron] ladders [or stairs] leading thereto and easily accessible to all tenants of the building and kept free from encumbrance, and all scuttles and ladders shall be kept so as to be ready for use at all times. Every bulkhead hereafter constructed in a tenement house shall be fireproof with a fireproof door to the same and shall have [fireproof] stairs with a guide or hand-rail leading to the roof, and such stairs shall be kept free from encumbrance at all times. No scuttle and no bulkhead door shall at any time be locked with a key, but either may be fastened on the inside by movable bolts or hooks.

Section 17. Section Thirty-three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

33. Stair halls, public halls and entrance halls.—If any now existing tenement house shall be so altered as to increase the number of rooms therein by [twenty] THIRTY-THREE AND ONE-THIRD per centum or more, or if such building is increased in height SO THAT THE SAID BUILDING IS MORE THAN FOUR STORIES OR PARTS OF STORIES ABOVE THE CURB LEVEL, AND ALSO THE NUMBER OF ROOMS IS INCREASED THEREIN, the entire stair halls, entrance halls and other public halls of the whole building shall be made to conform to the requirements of sections fourteen to twenty, inclusive, of this act.

Section 18. Section Thirty-four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

34. [Tenements damaged by fire. If any now existing tenement house shall hereafter be damaged by fire or otherwise to an amount greater than one-half of the value thereof, exclusive of the value of the foundation, such building shall not be repaired or rebuilt except in conformity with the foregoing provisions of this act for the construction of tenement houses hereafter erected. If the stairs in any now existing tenement house shall be damaged by fire or otherwise, to an amount greater than one-half of the value thereof the entire stairs in the said tenement house shall be reconstructed in accordance with the provisions of this act for stairs in tenement houses hereafter erected.] ALTERATION OF WOODEN TENE-

MENT HOUSES.—NO NOW EXISTING WOODEN TENEMENT HOUSE SHALL BE INCREASED IN HEIGHT SO AS TO EXCEED TWO STORIES, EXCLUSIVE OF THE CELLAR, NOR SHALL IT BE ALTERED SO AS TO BE OCCUPIED BY MORE THAN TWO FAMILIES ON ANY FLOOR NOR BY MORE THAN FOUR FAMILIES IN ALL.

Section 19. Section Fifty-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

51. Percentage of lot occupied. No tenement house hereafter erected shall occupy more than ninety per centum of a corner lot, or more than seventy per centum of any other lot [the measurements in all cases to be taken at the ground level]; provided, that the space occupied by fire escapes of the size heretofore prescribed shall not be deemed a part of the lot occupied. FOR THE PURPOSES OF THIS SECTION THE MEASUREMENTS SHALL BE TAKEN AT THE GROUND LEVEL, EXCEPT THAT WHERE SUCH A BUILDING HAS NO BASEMENT, AND THE CELLAR CEILING IS NOT MORE THAN TWO FEET ABOVE THE CURB LEVEL, THE MEASUREMENTS AS TO PERCENTAGE OF LOT OCCUPIED MAY BE TAKEN AT THE LEVEL OF THE SECOND TIER OF BEAMS.

Section 20. Section Fifty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

52. Height.—The height of no tenement house hereafter erected shall be more than one [third] HALF exceed the width of the widest street upon which it stands. Such height shall be the perpendicular distance measured in a straight line from the curb level to the highest point of the [building exclusive of cornices and bulkheads], ROOF BEAMS [provided such bulkheads are not more than eight feet high and do not exceed in area ten per centum of the area of the roof]; PROVIDED THAT WHERE THERE ARE BULKHEADS EXCEEDING TEN FEET IN HEIGHT OR EXCEEDING IN AREA TEN PER CENTUM OF THE AREA OF THE ROOF, THE MEASUREMENTS SHALL BE TAKEN TO THE TOP OF THE BULKHEAD; BUT THIS SHALL NOT APPLY TO ELEVATOR ENCLOSURES NOT EXCEEDING FIFTEEN FEET IN HEIGHT. The measurements in all cases shall be taken through the center of the facade of the house.

Section 21. Section Fifty-three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

53. Yards.—Behind every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a yard extending across the entire width of the lot, and EXCEPT UPON A CORNER LOT, at every point open from the ground to the sky unobstructed, except that fire escapes or unenclosed outside stairs may project not over [three] FOUR feet from the rear line of the house. The depth of said yard, measured from the extreme rear wall of the house to the rear line of the lot, shall be as set forth in the two following sections.

Section 22. Section Fifty-five of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

55. Yards of corner lots.—The depth of the yard behind every tenement house hereafter erected upon a corner lot shall be not less than ten feet in every part. PROVIDED THAT WHERE SUCH LOT IS LESS THAN ONE HUNDRED FEET IN DEPTH, THE DEPTH OF THE YARD MAY BE NOT LESS THAN TEN PER CENTUM OF THE DEPTH OF SUCH LOT, BUT SHALL NEVER BE LESS THAN FIVE FEET IN EVERY PART. WHERE A TENEMENT HOUSE HEREAFTER ERECTED ON A CORNER LOT HAS NO BASEMENT AND THE CELLAR CEILING IS NOT MORE THAN TWO FEET ABOVE THE CURB LEVEL, SAID YARD MAY START AT THE LEVEL OF THE SECOND TIER OF BEAMS. WHERE A CORNER LOT IS MORE THAN FIFTY FEET IN WIDTH, THE YARD FOR THAT PORTION IN EXCESS OF FIFTY FEET SHALL CONFORM TO THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION FIFTY-FOUR OF THIS ACT.

Sction 23. Section Fifty-six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

56. Yard spaces of lots running through from street to street.—Wherever a tenement house hereafter erected is upon a lot which runs through from one street to another street, and said lot is not less than seventy feet nor more than one hundred feet in depth, there shall be a yard space through the center of the lot midway between the two streets, which space shall extend across the full width of the lot and shall never be less than twelve feet in depth from wall to wall; but where [the ground floor of] such building HAS NO BASEMENT AND THE CELLAR CEILING IS NOT MORE THAN TWO FEET ABOVE THE CURB LEVEL [is used or intended to be used as a store], such yard space may start at the LEVEL OF THE second tier of beams. Where such lot is over one hundred feet in depth such yard space shall conform to the provisions of section sixty-two of this act for inner courts, and shall be left through the center of the lot midway between the two streets, AND SHALL EXTEND ACROSS THE ENTIRE WIDTH OF THE LOT. WHERE A SINGLE TENEMENT HOUSE HEREAFTER ERECTED IS SITUATED ON A LOT FORMED BY THE INTERSECTION OF TWO STREETS AT AN ACUTE ANGLE, THE YARD OF THE SAID HOUSE NEED NOT EXTEND ACROSS THE ENTIRE WIDTH OF THE LOT, PROVIDED THAT IT EXTENDS TO A POINT IN LINE WITH THE MIDDLE LINE OF THE BLOCK.

Section 24. Section Fifty-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

57. Courts.—No court of a tenement house hereafter erected shall be covered by a roof or skylight, but every such court shall be at every point open from the ground to the sky unobstructed, EXCEPT AS HEREINAFTER OTHERWISE PROVIDED, and shall conform to the requirements of the following sections; provided, that an apartment not containing any room fronting upon the street or yard [may] SHALL have a fire escape in a court, projecting not more than [three] FOUR feet from the wall of the house.

Section 25. Section Sixty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

60. Outer courts, continued.—Wherever an outer court changes its initial horizontal direction, or wherever any part of such court extends in a direction so as not to receive direct light from the street or yard, the length of such portion of said court shall never exceed the width of said portion; such length to be measured from the point at which the change of direction commences. Wherever an outer court is less in depth than the minimum width prescribed by this [section] TITLE then its width may be equal to, but not less than its depth, provided that such width is never less than four feet in the clear. This exception shall also apply to each offset or recess in outer courts. And no window except windows of water closet compartments, bath-rooms or halls shall open upon any offset or recess less than six feet in [its least dimension] WIDTH.

Section 26. Section Sixty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

62. Inner courts, continued.—Where an inner court is not situated upon the lot line, but is enclosed on all four sides, the least horizontal dimension of the said court for tenement houses sixty feet in height, shall not be less than twenty-four feet; and for every twelve feet of increase or fraction thereof in the height of said building, the said court shall be increased one foot in each horizontal dimension, throughout the entire height of said court; and for every twelve feet of decrease in the height of the said building below sixty feet, the horizontal dimensions of the said court may be decreased one foot in each direction, but no such court shall ever be less than twenty-one feet in its least horizontal dimension. Offsets or recesses in inner courts will be permitted, but where the depth of such offset or recess is less than the minimum width prescribed, then the width of said offset or recess may be equal to but not less than its depth, provided that such width is never less than four feet in the clear. And no window except windows of water closet compartments, bath-rooms or halls shall open upon any offset or recess less than six feet in [its least dimension] WIDTH.

Section 27. Section Sixty-four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

64. Outer and inner courts.—Nothing contained in the foregoing sections concerning outer and inner courts shall be construed as preventing windows at the angles of said courts, provided that the running length of the wall containing such windows does not exceed six feet. In construing said sections the height of the building is to be measured from the curb level to the top of the highest wall enclosing or forming such court. WHEN A TENEMENT HOUSE HEREAFTER ERECTED HAS NO BASEMENT AND THE CELLAR CEILING IS NOT MORE THAN TWO FEET ABOVE THE CURB LEVEL, THE COURTS MENTIONED IN THE SEVEN PRECEDING SECTIONS MAY START AT THE LEVEL OF THE SECOND TIER OF BEAMS. THIS PROVISION, HOWEVER, SHALL NOT BE CONSTRUED SO AS TO PERMIT ANY ROOM WITHOUT A WINDOW OPENING ON THE STREET OR YARD OR ON A COURT IN EVERY PART THE DIMENSIONS PRESCRIBED IN THE FOREGOING SECTIONS. WHERE A COURT STARTS AT THE LEVEL OF THE SECOND TIER OF BEAMS IN WHOLE OR IN PART, AND THE BOTTOM OF SAID COURT IS A SKYLIGHT OVER A STORE OR HALL, PROPER ACCESS TO THE TOP OF SAID SKYLIGHT SHALL BE PROVIDED, AND SAID SKYLIGHT SHALL BE SO ARRANGED AS TO BE EASILY CLEANED.

Section 28. Section Seventy-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

71. Alcoves.—[In every tenement house hereafter erected where any room adjoins another room, and has eighty per centum or more of one entire side open to the other room, and there is no door between, it shall be considered as part of the said room. Under other circumstances every alcove shall be deemed a separate room for all purposes within the meaning of this act.] ALCOVE ROOMS MUST CONFORM TO ALL THE REQUIREMENTS OF OTHER ROOMS.

Section 29. Section Seventy-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

72. Public halls.—In every tenement house hereafter erected, EXCEEDING TWO STORIES AND CELLAR IN HEIGHT, every public hall shall have at least one window opening directly upon the street or upon a yard or court. Either such window shall be at the end of said hall, with the plane of the window at right angles to the axis of said hall or there shall be at least one window opening directly upon the street or upon a yard or court [for] IN every twenty feet in length or fraction thereof of said hall; BUT THIS PROVISION FOR ONE WINDOW IN EVERY TWENTY FEET OF HALLWAY SHALL NOT APPLY TO THAT PORTION OF THE ENTRANCE HALL BEWEEN THE ENTRANCE AND THE FIRST FLIGHT OF STAIRS, PROVIDED THAT THE ENTRANCE DOOR CONTAINS NOT LESS THAN FIVE SQUARE FEET OF GLAZED SURFACE. In [such halls] EVERY PUBLIC HALL IN A TENEMENT HOUSE HEREAFTER ERECTED recesses or returns the length of which does not exceed twice [the] THEIR width [of the hall] will be permitted without additional window. But wherever the length of such recess or return exceeds twice [the] ITS width [of the hall] the above provisions in reference to one window [for] IN every twenty feet of hallway shall be applied. Any part of a hall which is shut off from any other part of said hall by a door or doors shall be deemed a separate hall within the meaning of this section.

Section 30. Section Seventy-four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

74. Windows for stair halls, size of.—In every tenement house hereafter erected the aggregate area of windows to light or ventilate stair halls shall be at least [twenty-one] EIGHTEEN square feet for each floor. There shall be provided for each story at least one of said windows, which shall be at least [three] TWO AND A HALF feet wide and five feet high, measured between the stop beads. A SASH DOOR SHALL BE DEEMED THE EQUIVALENT OF A WINDOW IN SECTIONS SEVENTY-TWO, SEVENTY-THREE, AND SEVENTY-FOUR OF THIS ACT, PROVIDED THAT SUCH DOOR CONTAINS THE AMOUNT OF GLAZED SURFACE PRESCRIBED FOR SUCH WINDOWS.

Section 31. Section seventy-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

77. Yards.—No now existing tenement house shall hereafter be enlarged or its lot be diminished, so that the yard shall be less than [five] TEN feet in depth when the building is on a corner lot, or less than twelve feet in depth in other cases, the measurements in all cases to be taken from the extreme rear wall of the building to the rear lot line, and across the full width of the lot, and such yard shall be at every point open from the ground to the sky, except as provided in section fifty-three of this act.

Section 32. The said act is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section, to be known as section seventy-seven-A, and to read as follows:

77-A. HEIGHT.—NO NOW EXISTING TENEMENT HOUSE SHALL BE INCREASED IN HEIGHT SO THAT THE BUILDING SHALL EXCEED BY MORE THAN ONE-HALF THE WIDTH OF THE WIDEST STREET ON WHICH IT STANDS.

Section 33. Section seventy-eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

78. Additional rooms and halls.—Any additional room or hall that is hereafter constructed or created in a now existing tenemen house shall comply in all respects with the provisions of the foregoing sections of [this] chapter THREE OF THIS ACT. [as to the size, arrangement, light and ventilation of rooms and halls in tenement houses hereafter erected.]

Section 34. Section seventy-nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

79. Rooms, lighting and ventilation of, continued.—No room in a now existing tenement house shall hereafter be occupied for living purposes unless it shall have a window upon the street, or upon a yard not less than [five] FOUR feet deep, or upon a court or shaft of not less than twenty-five square feet in area, open to the sky without roof or skylight, or unless such room has a sash window opening into an adjoining room in the same apartment which itself has a window opening on the street, or on a yard not less than [five] FOUR feet deep, said sash window having at least fifteen square feet of glazed surface, being at least three feet [high and] BY five feet [wide] between stop beads, and at least one-half thereof being made to open readily. PROVIDED, HOWEVER, THAT WHERE A ROOM IN A NOW EXISTING TENEMENT HOUSE OPENS UPON A SHAFT ALREADY CONSTRUCTED BUT OF A LESS SIZE OR DIFFERENTLY VENTILATED THAN ABOVE PRESCRIBED, SUCH ROOM MAY BE OCCUPIED FOR LIVING PURPOSES IF ADEQUATE LIGHT AND VENTILATION IS PROVIDED FOR SUCH ROOM IN SUCH MANNER AS MAY BE APPROVED BY THE DEPARTMENT CHARGED WITH THE ENFORCEMENT OF THIS ACT. [Furthermore, no room in a now existing tenement house which does not have a window opening directly upon the street or upon a yard not less than five feet deep or upon a court or shaft of not less than twenty-five square feet in area open to the sky without roof or skylight shall hereafter be occupied for living purposes unless such room contains at least sixty square feet of floor area, and also at least six hundred cubic feet of air space; and no such room shall be so occupied unless there is six hundred cubic feet of air to each individual occupying the same. No such room shall be so occupied unless it be in every part not less than eight feet high from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; provided, that an attic room need be eight feet high in but half its area.]

Section 35. Section eighty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

80. Public Halls, lighting of.—In every now existing tenement house four stories or over in height, whenever a public hall on any floor is not light enough in the daytime to permit a person to read in every part thereof without the aid of artificial light, the wooden panels in the doors located at the ends of the public halls and opening into rooms shall be removed, and ground glass, OR OTHER TRANSLUCENT GLASS or wire glass panels of an aggregate area of not less than four square feet for each door shall be substituted; or in lieu of removing the panels in the doors a fixed sash window of wire glass of an area of not less than five square feet may be cut into the partitions separating the said hall from a room which opens directly upon the street or upon a yard, court, or shaft of the dimensions specified in the last section; or said public hall may be lighted by a window or windows at the end thereof with the plane of the window at right angles to the axis of the said hall, said window opening upon the street or upon a yard, court, or shaft of said dimensions.

Section 36. Section eighty-three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

83. Skylights.—In every tenement house there shall be in the roof, directly over each stair well, a ventilating skylight with both ridge ventilators and fixed louvres, the glazed surface thereof to be not less than twenty [five] square feet in area FOR TENEMENT HOUSES FOUR STORIES OR OVER IN HEIGHT, AND FIFTEEN SQUARE FEET FOR TENEMENT HOUSES LESS THAN FOUR STORIES IN HEIGHT. PROVIDED, THAT THIS SECTION SHALL NOT APPLY TO A NOW EXISTING TENEMENT HOUSE NOW HAVING A BULKHEAD IN THE ROOF OVER THE MAIN STAIRS, WHICH BULKHEAD IS PROVIDED WITH WINDOWS MADE SO AS TO READILY OPEN, AND WITH NOT LESS THAN TWELVE SQUARE FEET OF GLASS IN THE TOP OF SAID BULKHEAD.

Section 37. Section ninety-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

91. Basements and cellars.—In tenement houses hereafter erected no room in the cellar [shall be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living purposes. And no room] OR in the basement shall be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living purposes, unless all of the following conditions are complied with:

1. Such room shall be at least nine feet high in every part from the floor to the ceiling. PROVIDED, THAT IN BUILDINGS ALREADY ERECTED AND NOT NOW USED AS TENEMENT HOUSES BUT HEREAFTER ALTERED OR CONVERTED TO SUCH USE, SUCH ROOM SHALL BE NOT LESS THAN SEVEN FEET HIGH IN EVERY PART.

2. The ceiling of such room shall be at least four feet and six inches above the surface of the street or ground outside of or adjoining the same.

3. There shall be appurtenant to such room the use of a separate water-closet, constructed and arranged as required by section ninety-five of this act.

4. Such room shall have a window or windows opening upon the street, or upon a yard or court. The total area of windows in such room shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial area of the room, and one-half of the sash shall be made to open the full width, and the top of each window shall be within six inches of the ceiling.

5. All walls surrounding such room shall be [made] damp-proof. [in the manner specified in the next section.]

6. The floor of such room shall be [made] damp-proof and water-proof. [in the manner specified in the next section.]

Section 38. Section ninety-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

92. Basements and cellars, continued.—Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have all walls below the ground level and all cellar or lower floors [made] damp-proof and water-proof. WHEN NECESSARY TO MAKE SUCH WALLS AND FLOORS DAMP-PROOF AND WATER-PROOF. [Such] THE damp-proofing and water-proofing shall run through the walls and up the same as high as the ground level and shall be continued throughout the floor, and the said cellar or lowest floor shall be properly constructed so as to prevent dampness or water from entering.

Section 39. Section ninety-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

95. Water-closet accommodations.—In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a separate water-closet in a separate compartment within each apartment, provided that where there are apartments consisting of but one or two rooms, there shall be at least one water-closet for every three rooms. All water-closet compartments must have a window opening upon the street or yard or upon a court or vent shaft. Every water-closet compartment shall be provided with proper means of lighting the same at night. If fixtures for gas or electricity are not provided in said compartment, then the door of said compartment shall be provided with ground glass or wire glass panels, or with a ground glass or wire glass transom, not less in area than four square feet. The floor of every water-closet compartment shall be made waterproof with asphalt, [cement], tile, stone, metal or some other waterproof material; and such waterproofing shall extend at least six inches above the floor so that the said floor can be washed or flushed out without leaking. No drip trays shall be permitted. No water-closet fixtures shall be enclosed with any woodwork.

Section 40. Section ninety-six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

96. Plumbing.—In every tenement house hereafter erected all plumbing pipes shall wherever possible be exposed, or if such pipes are covered there shall be at each floor access to all rising lines through removable panels; said panels shall always be as wide as the whole stack of pipes, and at least two feet and six inches in height. IN ALL TENEMENT HOUSES HEREAFTER ERECTED WHERE PLUMBING OR OTHER PIPES PASS THROUGH FLOORS OR PARTITIONS, THE OPENINGS AROUND SUCH PIPES SHALL BE SEALED OR MADE AIR TIGHT WITH PLASTER, OR OTHER INCOMBUSTIBLE MATERIALS, SO AS TO PREVENT THE PASSAGE OF AIR OR THE SPREAD OF FIRE FROM ONE FLOOR TO ANOTHER OR FROM ROOM TO ROOM.

Section 41. Section ninety-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

97. Basements and cellars.—Hereafter in any now existing tenement house no room in the basement or cellar shall be occupied for living purposes without a written permit from the department CHARGED WITH THE ENFORCEMENT OF THIS ACT, [of health], and such permit shall be kept readily accessible in said room. And no such room shall hereafter be occupied unless all the following conditions are complied with. THE SAID WRITTEN PERMIT SHALL BE ISSUED WHEN ALL OF THE SAID CONDITIONS ARE COMPLIED WITH. IF REFUSED, THE REASON FOR SUCH REFUSAL SHALL BE STATED BY SAID DEPARTMENT IN WRITING, AND A COPY THEREOF SHALL BE KEPT IN A PROPER BOOK IN THE OFFICE OF SAID DEPARTMENT, AND BE ACCESSIBLE TO THE PUBLIC.

1. Such room shall be at least [eight] SEVEN feet high in every part from the floor to the ceiling.

2. The ceiling of such room shall be in every part at least two feet above the surface of the street or ground outside of or adjoining the same.

3. There shall be appurtenant to such room the use of a [separate] water-closet.

4. There shall be outside of and adjoining such room, and extending along the entire frontage thereof, an open space of at least two feet six inches wide in every part. [The bottom of said space shall be at least six inches below the level of the floor of the room, and]. Such space shall be well and effectually drained [by a drain the bottom of which shall be at least one foot below the level of the floor of the room].

5. Such room shall have a window or windows opening to the outer air of at least nine square feet in size clear of the sash frame, and at least four and one-half square feet of which shall have been made to readily open for purposes of ventilation.

6. If the house is situated over marshy ground, or ground on which water lies, or ground on which there is water pressure from below, the lowest floor shall have been made waterproof and damp-proof.

7. SUCH ROOM SHALL HAVE SUFFICIENT LIGHT, SHALL BE WELL DRAINED AND DRY, AND SHALL BE FIT FOR HUMAN HABITATION.

Section 42. Section ninety-eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

98. Water-closets.—In all now existing tenement houses the woodwork enclosing all water-closets shall be removed from the front of said closets, and the space underneath the seat shall be left open. The floor or other surface beneath and around the closet shall be maintained in good order and repair and IF OF WOOD shall be kept well painted with [white] LIGHT-COLORED paint.

Section 43. Section ninety-nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

99. Public sinks.—In all now existing tenement houses the woodwork enclosing sinks located in the public halls or stairs shall be removed, and the space underneath said sinks shall be left open. The floors and wall surfaces beneath and around the sink shall be maintained in good order and repair, and IF OF WOOD shall be kept well-painted with [white] LIGHT-COLORED paint.

Section 44. Section one hundred of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

100. Privy vaults, school sinks and water-closets. In all now existing tenement houses, WHERE A CONNECTION WITH A SEWER IS POSSIBLE, all school sinks, privy vaults or other similar receptacles used to receive fecal matter, urine or sewage, shall, before January first, nineteen hundred and three, be completely removed and the place where they were located properly disinfected under the direction of the department CHARGED WITH THE ENFORCEMENT OF THIS ACT [of health]. Such appliances shall be replaced by individual water-closets of durable non-absorbent material, properly sewer connected, and with individual traps, and properly connected flush tanks providing an ample flush of water to thoroughly cleanse the bowl. [The seats of the water-closets shall be hinged and attached to the bowl of the closet.] Each water-closet shall be located in a compartment completely separated from every other water-closet, AND SUCH COMPARTMENT SHALL CONTAIN A WINDOW OF NOT LESS THAN THREE SQUARE FEET IN AREA OPENING DIRECTLY TO THE OUTER AIR. The floors of the water-closet compartments shall be water-proof as provided in section ninety-five of this act. [Such] WHERE water-closets [may be located] ARE PLACED in the yard [if necessary, and if so,] TO REPLACE SCHOOL SINKS OR PRIVY VAULTS long hopper closets may be used; BUT all traps, flush tanks and pipes shall be protected against the action of frost. IN SUCH CASES, THE PRESENT WOODEN STRUCTURES USED IN CONNECTION WITH SCHOOL SINKS OR PRIVY VAULTS SHALL BE ENTIRELY REMOVED, AND THE WATER-CLOSETS SHALL BE PLACED IN A FIREPROOF STRUCTURE. SUCH STRUCTURE SHALL NOT EXCEED TEN FEET IN HEIGHT; AND SHALL NOT BE CONSIDERED AS INCREASING THE PERCENTAGE OF THE LOT OCCUPIED NOR SHALL IT BE SUBJECT TO THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION SIXTY-SIX OF THIS ACT, PROVIDED THAT IT DOES NOT OCCUPY MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENTUM OF THE OPEN SPACE OR YARD IN WHICH IT IS PLACED, AND PROVIDED FURTHER THAT THE USE OF SAID STRUCTURE IS LIMITED SOLELY TO WATER-CLOSET PURPOSES. SUCH STRUCTURE SHALL BE PROVIDED WITH A VENTILATING SKYLIGHT IN THE ROOF, OF AN ADEQUATE SIZE, AND EACH WATER-CLOSET SHALL BE LOCATED IN A COMPARTMENT COMPLETELY SEPARATED FROM EVERY OTHER WATER-CLOSET. PROPER AND ADEQUATE MEANS FOR LIGHTING THE STRUCTURE AT NIGHT SHALL BE PROVIDED. There shall be provided at least one water-closet for every two families in every now existing tenement house. Except as in this section otherwise provided, such water-closets and all plumbing in connection therewith shall be in accordance with the ordinances and regulations in relation to plumbing and drainage.

Section 45. Section one hundred and one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

101. Basements and cellars.—The floor of the cellar or lowest floor of every tenement house shall be water tight. And the cellar ceiling shall be plastered, EXCEPT WHERE THE FIRST FLOOR ABOVE THE CELLAR IS CONSTRUCTED OF IRON BEAMS AND FIREPROOF FILLING.

Section 46. Section one hundred and six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

106. Shafts and courts.—In every tenement house there shall be, at the bottom of every shaft and inner court, a self-closing fireproof door giving sufficient access to such shaft or court to enable it to be properly cleaned out. PROVIDED, THAT WHERE THERE IS ALREADY A WINDOW IN A NOW EXISTING TENEMENT HOUSE, GIVING PROPER ACCESS TO SUCH SHAFT OR COURT, SUCH WINDOW SHALL BE DEEMED SUFFICIENT.

Section 47. Section one hundred and twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

112. Overcrowding.—No room in any tenement house shall be so overcrowded that there shall be afforded less than four hundred cubic feet of air to each adult, and two hundred cubic feet of air to each child under twelve years of age occupying such room [and no apartment in any tenement house shall be so overcrowded that there shall be afforded in the living rooms and bedrooms of said apartment less than six hundred cubic feet of air to each individual occupying such apartment].

Section 48. Section one hundred and thirteen of said act is hereby repealed.

Section 49. This act shall take effect immediately.

Harmonizing Trade Relations.

A TALK WITH WM. H. SAYWARD.

"My hope and belief is that through business methods the greatest benefits from the humanitarian point of view can be obtained," said Wm. H. Sayward a day or two ago. It will be remembered that Mr. Sayward is now, and has been for the past three or four months, engaged in the benevolent task of endeavoring to induce the capital and labor of the building trades of New York to join in a plan for the establishment of a court of settlement and appeal for the purpose of abolishing friction of all kind and producing continuous harmony and regularity in their affairs.

Mr. Sayward has been laboring for many years in behalf of the building trades. As Secretary of the National Association of Builders he has always insisted upon the importance of keeping the ethical side of all questions to the front. He is a practical man, a proved and successful organizer, and an able and ready speaker, so that he is probably, of all men, the fittest in the country to approach the building trades with any plan to increase their moral elevation.

"What is the principle upon which you base your work?" he was asked.

"The underlying principle," said he, "is one that was enunciated by the National Association of Builders as long ago as the convention in New York in February, 1891; that is, that employers and workmen ought to seek a common ground for the discussion and adjustment of matters in which they are mutually concerned. I have been at work here for three or four months to find out the sentiments and convictions of employers and workmen in all the building trades as to the situation, and as to whether the time is not ripe for the substitution of a system of agreements upon some common platform on which all the trades may participate, which may relieve the situation from the constant irritation now going on caused by the demands made and the insistance upon them which results in stoppages of work and embarrassment of work, and increases constantly the ill-feeling between employers and workmen.

"That investigation shows that underneath all this confusion and contention there is a positive feeling in the minds of both employers and workmen that some sensible business-like method would be welcomed. Following on that I have advised the establishment of what I term a court of settlement and appeal, the design of which is not to settle disputes as they arise, but to settle affairs of mutual concern upon a business basis, so that there shall not be any disputes of any kind or nature. The idea is that all parties shall agree for themselves and with each other that there shall be no strikes or lockouts whatever, but that all questions arising in the operations of the trade shall be referred at a proper time of the year, presumably in the winter months, December and January, to this court which I propose shall be formed in such a manner that the community, as well as the employers and workmen in these various building trades shall have complete representation. To that end the workmen in all the building trades, acting collectively through a proper committee, shall select a permanent member of this court from quite outside the building fraternity, preferably a man from the legal profession, and if possible, one who has judicial experience. The employers in the various trades acting in the same fashion select a similar permanent member of the court and these two shall select a third, again from the same profession and of the same high character; these three men to become the nucleus of a court to be paid proper fees for their services and practically to represent the interests of the community although selected by the employers and workmen as indicated. For practical operation the court is to be completed by each trade successively in the following manner: Three workmen and three employers from the trade being selected by their respective organizations to enter the court and form with the permanent members a tribunal of nine, which shall proceed to consider all matters of mutual concern to that trade and prepare articles of agreement for the ensuing year to govern and control that trade. The session for that trade being completed, the next trade in order will take part in the court in the same manner and so on through the whole list of trades. After all the trades have been considered and any points of friction between one trade and another removed by the operation of the court, full and public announcement is to be made of the agreements of the branches for the coming year. During the year the court shall be available for appeal should either employers and workmen in any trade fail to adhere to the yearly agreement, it being understood and agreed at the outset that there shall be no strikes or lockouts in any event, and that the court shall be upheld, the work going on without interruption; decision in all cases is to be final and binding on all parties.

"Is there not an objection to the introduction of outsiders into trade disputes because of their technical ignorance?"

"There is, I allow, but you see the permanent members of this court will gain knowledge from year to year which will relieve them of that objection; moreover, if they are lawyers they will see that the several agreements of the different trades do not run into one another, which is now a fruitful source of misunderstanding and often of ill-will. The establishment of a court of this nature which will give a uniform method for each and every one of the building trades will produce harmony and automatic regularity and smoothness of action in their manifold affairs which is much to be desired. The introduction of the element representing the community in the way suggested will bring all of these matters up to and hold them on a higher plane than they have ever occupied before and by that very fact will prevent the raising of many of the trifling and irrational demands that have heretofore often been the cause of irritation. The customary board of appeal composed of equal numbers of employers and workmen permits the danger of a tie and the possibility of arriving at a point where, not only can no decision be reached, but bitterness is likely to be engendered without the introduction of a disinterested and outside element. In my judgment it is much more satisfactory to have this element introduced at the start as they would thereby become acquainted with all the parties and all the circumstances in advance.

"What means do you provide for the enforcement of the decisions of the court?"

"The means of enforcement of the decisions of the court will be exactly the same as those for the enforcement of any agreement between employers and employed. I rely very fully for the maintenance of the decisions of this court up the moral sense and weight of opinion of the body of the people on both sides, which almost invariably can be relied on. In Boston we have a joint committee in the building trades nothing like so comprehensive as a court of appeal, which has worked successfully for 12 years and has had nothing to rely upon for the enforcement of their opinions, but the natural good sense and judgment of both parties, but which have caused all our agreements to be lived up to during all these years. The Joint Committee is composed of the following trades: Bricklayers, stone masons, building laborers, plasterers, hoisting engineers and derrick men. Having all these trades in agreement, has precluded the possibility of a sympathetic strike. The workmen in other organizations, whose employers have not co-operated with them in the same fashion, have frequently wanted members of the Joint Committee to join them in their disputes, but they have invariably declined."

"Now what have been the results of your work?"

"The results of my investigations show that employers and workmen are alike anxious for the establishment of some reasonable and sensible system for securing yearly agreements. As far as this specific plan is laid before them, workmen and employers alike say that it is ideal in its provisions. I have seen no organizations of workmen as yet, but I have seen a great many of the workmen themselves in an unofficial way. I have seen a large part of the organizations of employers and they have without exception approved of the general scheme and the particular method suggested, and evince a readiness to adopt it when both parties arrive at the same conclusion."

In the Legislature.

FATE OF THE MORTGAGE TAX BILL—CHANGING THE DATE OF TAX PAYMENTS—THE POSTER TAX—WATER CHARGES FOR BUSINESS PREMISES.

The stage is now being cleared for the consideration of business other than administration matters, and to give the Legislature their opportunity of adjourning if possible at the end of March. This clearance involves the mortgage tax bill introduced by Senator Stranahan and, although there is some talk of putting it through the Senate out of consideration for the mover, the bill is as good as dead. Its passage being so impossible it seems somewhat ridiculous that when time is so pressing, and so many other important matters are coming up for consideration that anything in the nature of a wake should be considered necessary. It only shows how sentiment prevails in the hard heads that make our laws. The bill meets its end through the opposition of the country members who found their revenues attacked by it, but it was Assemblyman Julius H. Seymour, of New York, the advocate of mortgage exemption, who discovered this danger for them. At the first hearing on the bill he predicted the result that is now seen.

One of the most important propositions introduced this week is that coming from Comptroller Grout, and relating to the time of payment of taxes in New York City, which is fully outlined in another column.

Some progress is being made with important New York City bills before the Legislature. For instance, that empowering the contractor for the Rapid Transit Railroad to assign his lease of the railroad when built, passed the Senate on Tuesday. The Pennsylvania Railroad bill was amended in the same chamber by making the revaluation periods of the tunnel franchise not more, instead of not less than twenty-five years.

Senator Raines introduced an amendment to the law that goes by his name, aimed at hotels improperly conducted under that measure. This would require the heads of building, health and fire departments, to make inspections and report on the request of the excise authorities, as to whether buildings used as hotels comply with all the laws, and in the event of non-compliance that the chief of the police of the locality in which they are, prosecute the proprietors.

The question of whether the policy of raising the income of the State by taxes specially levied for that purpose injured the cities, came up for discussion in the Assembly on Tuesday on the following resolution moved by Mr. George M. Palmer, the leader of the minority:

Whereas, The mortgage tax bill, now pending before the Legislature, exempts mortgage from local taxation, upon condition of paying a State tax; and

Whereas, This measure is one of many, already enacted into law, or prospective, which have stripped localities of sources of taxation until the burden of local taxation rests almost wholly upon real estate; and

Whereas, The State Board of Tax Commissioners in a recent report said that "the direct tax imposed by the State upon localities is, relatively speaking, an item of minor moment," of which "Greater New York pays 64 per cent. of the whole," so "that any remedial legislation failing to comprehend this local status must fall short of ameliorating the condition of the real estate owner or tenant;" therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Controller of the State of New York be and he is hereby requested to transmit to the Assembly all information which he may possess tending to show whether it would not be possible to pay all expected appropriations for State purposes for the ensuing year out of revenues now in hand, or certain to accrue to the State treasury, without further encroachment upon local sources of taxation.

The State comptroller's report just issued gives the following as the receipts of last year from direct sources:

On corporations	$4,966,680.93
On organization of corporations	295,091.22
On transfers	4,084,606.87
On liquor	4,197,858.72
On non-residents	397,856.43
On trust funds	1,111,863 58
	$15,035,957.75

In answering Mr. Palmer it was pointed out that of the above six items, only the first carried exemptions from personal property tax. Ex-President of the Tax Department, Thomas L. Feitner, showed in one of his latest reports that the direct loss to this city because of the appropriation of bank and other capital as a tax, subject by the State, amounted to $500,000. This loss is now admitted, and to that there has to be added $678,143.85 by the exemption of trust and insurance company capital. Comptroller Knight claims, however, that while the State would receive $2,900,000 from all these sources, the State tax would be proportionately reduced, and as New York City pays 64.67% of that tax, it would benefit to the extent of $1,915,-430, or make a net gain of $737,286.15.

Other important measures pressing for consideration are these:

Mr. Kelsey's, introduced at the request of the Rapid Transit Commission, providing that notices in condemnation proceedings shall be published twice a week only, instead of daily as provided for now.

Mr. Morgan's (Assembly Introductory No. 768), to extend Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, from its present easterly terminus to the westerly boundary of Forest Park, Queens.

Mr. Colby's (Assembly Introductory No. 756), providing that a minimum water charge for business premises in New York City now charged by meter, be made equal to the amount such building or place would pay if charged a frontage rate or rental Senator Hennessy's (Introductory No. 117), amending Chapter 626 of the laws of 1897, an act in relation to St. James pl, and altering the boundaries thereof to read as follows: Beginning on Jerome av, at a point about 296 ft north of 190th st, along Jerome av to the southerly side of Kingsbridge road; easterly there along to the westerly side of Creston av, thence northerly to 190th st, thence westerly to the westerly side of Kirkside and Morris av, thence westerly to northerly line of St. James Church premises, thence westerly to the point of beginning, "excepting the lands lying in the bed of Morris av and 192d st, as now laid out through or across the church premises. The bill also authorizes the issue of consolidated stock by the city to pay for the improvement.

Senator Wiley's (Introductory No. 440), reserving for the exclusive use and accommodation of canal boats and barges the river front, from and including the north side of pier foot of West 51st st, to and including the south side of pier foot of West 54th st.

Mr. Landons, to impose a tax of one cent for every two square feet or fraction thereof of every poster except those advertising the business carried on the premises where the poster is exposed to public view. Evidences of tax having been paid is to be in the form of a stamp procurable from the county treasurers and the Comptroller of New York, and the proceeds of the tax are to be applied, two-thirds to the general fund of the county in which it is paid, or in New York City to the general fund of the city, and the remaining third to the treasury of the State.

THE TENEMENT-HOUSE ACT.

The amendment of the Tenement House Act was brought to the front through a hearing on Thursday by the Assembly Committee on Cities on the Ash bill to amend the law, the main support of which comes from Brooklyn. There were present President De Forest and Deputy Commissioner Veiller, of the Tenement House Commission, and Assistant Corporation Counsel Whitman and Geo. B. Christman, of the United Real Estate Owners' Association, and John P. Leo, of the Builders' League. All these appeared in opposition to the measure. For the bill were Assemblyman Ash, Senator Wagner, Counsel Edward Roehr, Former Controller Palmer, of Brooklyn, Captain John H. Lee, and a score of Brooklyn men representing building interests in that borough. The Ash bill (Introductory No. 847) is chiefly intended to relieve small houses, those not more than three stories in height and occupied by not more than six families, of which there are many in Brooklyn, from most of the provisions of the existing law.

Mr. De Forest submitted a substitute bill to the Commission, drafted, which will be found on another page of this issue, but which was not favored by some who opposed the Ash bill, notably Mr. Leo. Assemblyman Ash, in defending his bill, said there were a great many three-story tenements in Brooklyn, and under the present law on a twenty-five foot front lot space had to be reserved for light and ventilation which was unreasonably large. The committee took the whole matter under advisement.

REALTY CORPORATIONS AND THE DAVIS BILL.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

The bill No. 427, introduced in the Legislature by Senator Davis, of New York City, appears to be very drastic toward all real estate companies, building companies, or mortgage loan companies, incorporated under the Business Corporations act, as it gives power to the superintendent of banks to take immediate possession of the same, if in his personal opinion any such company exceeds the powers of its incorporate certificate. The bill substantially states that this can be done if any report, obtained by the superintendent through various channels, gives him a reason in his own discretion so to do, and no opportunity to be heard in any court is permitted to prevent such summary action. The bill is ostensibly directed against building loan associations, but specifically includes all business and investment corporations, so it appears to a careful

A Change in the Date When Taxes Are Due.

A bill has been introduced into the Legislature during the week, emanating from the finance department in this city, which proposes to change the date at which taxes are due from Oct. 1 to Feb. 1. A more complete account of the details, purposes and advantages of this bill than has yet appeared in any of the daily papers, is given in the accompanying statement, which has been given us by the Comptroller's office.

Of all strange features of irregularities in the financial system of the city, none is more striking than the fact that the city's income from the tax levy begins only on the first Monday of October in each year, so that the city, between the first day of January and the first day of October, is without any resources on hand with which to pay the expenses of the government. The result is, and always has been, that during these nine months the city is compelled from time to time to go into the money market and borrow money on short time bonds known as revenue bonds. These bonds will amount to fifty or sixty millions a year, and of course are growing larger as the expenses of the city government are each year increasing. For this money the city has to pay a rate which will probably average 3½ to 4 per cent. When the taxes begin to come in, in October, November and December, the bonds are cleared off, and at the beginning of the next year the city starts again with an empty treasury. The city is thus constantly living upon its future income and is a very large loser thereby. Of course the very loss which falls upon the city in this respect must be paid for by the amount of taxes which are levied. Thus in the budget for the year 1902, there is an item of $962,500, the estimated amount of this interest on revenue bonds to be paid during this year, which is so much money lost to the city and to the taxpayers. In addition the city loses another sum which it would get by way of interest on its deposits, if it had its money on hand during the year. For instance the tax budget this year amounts to nearly ninety-eight millions of dollars. The new administration, of course, hopes to decrease it somewhat, but it still will remain considerably above ninety millions. If this sum was collected early in the year instead of during the last three months, the city would have an average balance in the bank during the year which would probably be at least twenty-five millions of dollars, on which it would get 2 per cent interest at least, so that to the sum of nearly one million dollars for interest on revenue bonds which appears in the budget, must be added a further loss of five or six hundred thousand dollars at least by way of interest which we do not get. Clearly the loss to the city by the present method of collecting taxes cannot be far from one and one-half million dollars a year, and if this sum could be saved, the tax levy would be reduced by that sum, and the transaction of city business would be very much easier. Besides this we would have the satisfaction of knowing that we were on a proper business-like financial basis.

To reach this change, however, involves a change in the time for paying taxes, and however desirable the change may be, it is a subject which must be carefully considered from the point of view of the taxpayer. Of course, if the tax levy would be reduced by the saving of a million and a half of dollars, there is a very evident benefit to the individual taxpayer. This alone, however, would not be sufficient to make the change an easy and satisfactory one for him, and the Comptroller has been trying to develop a scheme of proposed amendments to the charter in respect to the levying and collection of taxes, which will make the proposed change easy and satisfactory to the people who pay the money.

At present the taxes are levied and become a lien the first Monday in October. On all payments made during the month of October, a small discount is permitted. Sums paid during the month of November have to be the face amount of the tax bill, and on payments delayed until the first of December or thereafter, a penalty is added. The present system has another disadvantage which is this: when a person sells a piece of property after the first of October, he is still required, under the law, to pay the taxes for the full year, or if he buys before the first of October, he buys subject to the taxes for the whole year, which will be levied shortly after he takes title, and so for the three months' ownership he has to pay a whole year's taxes. So while it has been often claimed by people, even under the present system, that taxes should be apportioned and divided between buyer and seller, according to the period of the year in which the sale is made, some recognition of this would be absolutely necessary in justice to the people dealing in real estate, if the date of levying the taxes is changed.

The plan proposed, therefore, is to change the date of the levying of the taxes from the first Monday of October to the first Monday of February, and to provide at the same time that the taxes of the year are to be apportioned between buyer and seller the same as rent and interest are now apportioned, unless the parties choose to agree otherwise. In order to make the change easy, to cover a sufficient period of time for that purpose, and to give sufficient inducement to people to pay in the early part of the year, it is proposed, that having made a change of the date of levying the taxes to the first Monday of February, all taxes paid between the first of August and the first of October in the years 1903, 1904, and 1905, should be paid at the face amount of the bill and that the penalty for these years shall run on the first of October instead of the first of December. It is then proposed, for the years 1906, 1907, and 1908, to limit the period up to which the discount can be obtained to the first of June; then have the flat period cover the months of June and July and have the penalty begin the first of August, and in the year 1909 and thereafter, to limit the discount to the month of February, let the flat period cover the month of March, and have the penalty begin on the first of April.

Thus in a period of six years, and without undue burden to the taxpayers, in view of the liberal discount and the provision for the apportionment of taxes between buyer and seller and of the fact that every dollar of interest on revenue bonds saved, or of interest on deposits gained would tend to reduce the taxes, we could change the period when the major part of the taxes would come in from the months of October and November to the months of February and March. If this could be done, it would very greatly facilitate the advantage of the city and the taxpayers.

Rebuilding Paterson.

WORK IN ARCHITECTS' HANDS, AND OTHER DETAILS.

F. W. Wentworth, No. 247 Market st, is drawing plans for a 6-sty brick and stone building of slow-burning construction, 37.6x152, cost about $35,000, for the Evening News, at No. 143 and 145 Ellison st; for a 3-sty brick and stone building on Market st, for Hugo Munzer, of No. 8 Prince st, cost about $20,000; for a building that M. L. Rogowski will erect at Nos. 210 and 212 Main st; also for the building of the Paterson, Passaic & Suburban Telephone Co., at the corner of Smith and Union st, which will cost about $25,000.

Scheuer Brothers, Nos. 310 and 312 Main st, will erect a 4-sty building at Nos. 225 to 233 Main st, probably from plans by W. E. Lehman, of Newark.

Ackerman & Ross, No. 156 5th av, New York City, will draw plans for a new building to be erected on Main st for C. P. Kinsella, on lot 50x100, and it is reported that they will be the architects for the new public library, for the rebuilding of which Mrs. Mary E. Ryle has donated $100,000.

Meyer Brothers, "Boston Store," Nos. 80 to 88 Market st, will rebuild at No. 179 to 195 Main st, on a plot 125x200. The architect has not been selected.

Marshall & Ball, No. 230 Market st, will build an 8-sty building, 42x160, at No. 221 and 223 Main st, extending through to Hamilton st.

W. Elbert Dickinson, Ward and Hamilton sts, Paterson, is drawing plans for a 3-sty brick store and flats, at No. 861 Main st, for Charles Wardle; cost, $5,000.

H. T. Stephens, No. 266 Main st, is drawing plans for a 1-sty bank building to be erected by the Hamilton Trust Co, at the corner of Market and Hamilton sts, for the exclusive use of the Trust company. He will also be the architect for the Second Presbyterian Church.

Carrere & Hastings, No. 28 East 41st st, New York City, will be the achitects for the new building to be erected by the First National Bank, at the corner of Ellison and Washington sts, on plot about 50x100; no details have been decided upon.

J. H. Post, No. 18 Hamilton st, is drawing plans for a hotel for a Mr. Dunn, to be erected on Market st, and will probably draw the plans for the new Romaine office building.

George B. Post, No. 33 East 17th st, New York City, will draw the plans for the new building to be erected by the Paterson National Bank and the Paterson Safe Deposit and Trust Co. The building will be fireproof, and it is estimated will cost about $350,000.

Charles Edwards, corner of Church and Ellison sts, is drawing plans for the new building for Quackenbush & Co., to be erected on Main st; for a new building for the heirs of E. H. Muzzy, at Market and Union sts; for an office building at Nos. 107 to 111 Washington st, for Vice-Chancellor Eugene Stevens; and for the Katz Building to be erected at Nos. 162 to 168 Market st, on plot 150x100, estimates are being taken on the latter. He will also draw plans for restoring the building of the Hamilton Club.

Charles Curie, of New York City, owner of the land on which the United States Hotel stood, has decided to erect a new 5-sty hotel on Market st, near Hamilton st, and extending through to Union st.

The Paterson City Hall, for which Carrere & Hastings were the architects, will require a thorough overhauling. The structural part of the building remains intact, but all the woodwork and the entire contents of the building were destroyed, and considerable damage was done to the interior. Vanderhoff & Co. were the contractors who erected the building.

Woolworth & Co., owners of the 5 and 10 cent stores, have awarded a contract to the David Henry Building Co., of Paterson, for the erection of a new store to take the place of one destroyed by fire.

The following architects whose offices were destroyed by the fire have severally taken new quarters at the addresses following their respective names: F. W. Wentworth, No. 247 Market st; Charles Edwards, corner Van Houten and Church sts; H. T. Stephens, No. 266 Main st; J. H. Post, No. 18 Hamilton st, and James A. Fleming, corner Ward and Hamilton sts.

The following churches were destroyed in the recent fire: Second Presbyterian, Rev. Dr. Shaw, pastor; The Park Avenue Baptist, Rev. J. W. Lessinden, pastor; St. Mark's parish, Rev. R. A. Weikert, pastor; First Baptist, Rev. A. A. De Larme, pastor.

Main st, near Market st, Paterson, N. J.—Harvey Cook and J. O. Bunce, architects, Second National Bank Building, Paterson, are drawing plans for a 3-sty store and loft building, brick and iron construction, on plot 21x100; owner, H. Nathan, Paterson.

Obituary.

JOHN J. TUCKER.

The death of John J. Tucker at No. 37 West 12th st, which had been his home for many years, took place on Tuesday. Had he lived until the 26th of this month he would have completed his 74th year. For 57 years he was continuously connected with the building trade of this city. On completing his apprenticeship in 1845 he was employed by his uncle Joseph Tucker, and on the death of the latter began business for himself. That was in 1852, thus he was a master builder for 50 years. During this time he was active and successful in business, a zealous worker in raising the standard and position of the trade, in charity and in the commercial development of the city. He was president of the National Association of Builders in 1890-1, and presided over the great convention that took place in New York in 1890; the second president of the Building Trades Club, succeeding Marc Eidlitz; the first president of the Mason Builders' Association; a president and life-long member of the General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen; and, besides, a director of several banking and other corporations. His work as a builder included the Stevens Building, No. 14-18 Wall st; College of Physicians and Surgeons, Roosevelt Hospital, Lenox Library, Tiffany and Villard houses, besides many other structures of all kinds, among which the Library and Hall of Fame of New York University must not be forgotten.

A meeting of the Building Trades' Association has been called for to-day (Saturday), at 10 a. m., in the rooms of the Association, at No. 1123 Broadway, to take action on Mr. Tucker's death. Members of the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange, the Mason Builders' Association and other organizations in the building trades are invited to participate.

WILLIAM W. VAUGHAN.

Early last week Mr. William W. Vaughan died of heart disease on a ferry boat running between Astoria and Manhattan. Mr. Vaughan was an old newspaper man, connected at different times with the World, the Daily News, the Daily Register and the Times. With Fred Creighton he started gathering together records of real estate transfers and other work of a similar character, and this work of his had something to do with the founding of the Record and Guide. Mr. Vaughan was the first stenographer appointed under the act creating stenographers in the District Courts, now the Municipal Courts, of this city, and since then he acted as stenographer of the Municipal Court of the First District, serving under Judges Quinn, Callahan, Norton, Mitchell, Lynn and Finn, the present incumbent of the office. As a lawyer Mr. Vaughan had practiced steadily, and he was the attorney of record for the Fleischmann estate. He married Marion Moulton, sister of George A. and daughter of Benjamin Moulton. She died some years ago. Mr. Vaughan leaves a son and daughter.

Collection of Arrears to Be Forced.

Comptroller Grout announces that he will force the collection of arrears of taxes, water rates and assessments. He gave out a statement on Thursday in which he said: "We propose to collect it as soon as possible and if necessary to do so to enforce the provisions of the Charter providing for a sale of the property in arrears. There has been no tax-arrears sale in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx since 1889. There has been no sale for arrears of assessments for these boroughs since 1899, and there has been no sale for arrears in Brooklyn since consolidation. I have, therefore, given direction to the Collector of Assessments and Arrears to get ready as soon as possible to sell for arrears of taxes, water rates and assessments in all the boroughs of the city. According to a statement prepared by the Finance Department the collectible arrears are:

Arrears of taxes, water rates and assessments made prior to 1901		$32,257,030.36
*1901 Taxes unpaid:
Real Estate Taxes	$19,059,151.39
Personal Taxes	7,450,946.66	32,809,526.94
Total		$65,066,557.30

*Admitted to be not fairly collectible by forced measures.

Mr. Keen has also taken a lease of the Hotel Marie Antoinette, which adjoins this property, and the two hotels will be connected and run under his management. The building is to be erected by the Thompson-Starrett Co. and will be ready for occupancy on October 1 next.

Real Estate Notes.

A number of important official legal notices appear in this issue in our advertisements on pages II. and 344.

Porter & Co. were the brokers in the sale of No. 80 East 77th st and No. 469 Manhattan av reported in our last issue.

Pollizi & Co. were the brokers in the sale of No. 434 East 11th st, to which Pasquale Viscardi took title.

Dr. W. M. Smith is the buyer of No. 29 West 54th st, sold last week.

It transpires that the real purchasers of No. 414 5th av, reported last week to Fernando Wood, are Martin & Brother.

P. T. Canavan, of No. 136 8th av, negotiated the sale of No. 357 West 17th st, reported sold last week; also the sale of 427 West 16th st, title to which has just changed hands.

The report that the Atlantic Realty Co. would build on the plot on the south side of 75th st, from Broadway to Amsterdam av, is incorrect.

Francis Dovale and Lewis M. Thiery have formed a partnership and joined the ranks of real estate brokers, with handsome offices at Columbus av and 80th st; these gentlemen have been active in real estate circles for many years, and were formerly connected with large brokerage firms on the Upper West Side.

Under an agreement between President Haffen and Comptroller Grout the Board of Estimate will now be asked to take up the matter of improving the Grand Boulevard and Concourse by authorizing a contract for as much work as can be finished this year.

A bill appropriating $250,000 for the erection of a building in the borough of the Bronx, New York City, for the accommodation of the Post Office, the Internal Revenue and other Government offices, has been introduced into the House by Representative Pugsley, of New York.

The War Department has signed a long term lease of Pier 12 (new) East River, at the foot of Wall st, and the Dock Department will erect a new shed for the accommodation of passengers and freight for the army transports. The pier will be used by all other army craft.

F. Birdsall Smith, real estate broker, of Glen Ridge, N. J., has opened offices at No. 2603 Broadway, corner of 98th st, for the convenience of his many clients who make Glen Ridge their summer home. Mr. Smith has been successful in that fashionable resort, and has on his books many desirable residences, either to sell, rent or lease for the coming season.

The actual work of constructing the "L" road through St. John's College grounds to Bronx Park was commenced on Thursday. Residents of Bedford Park are clamoring for the further extension of the road from Bronx Park, across to and up Webster av to the city line. Work on the Webster av trolley is progressing very fast, and it is said cars will be running to the city line in about a month.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Alliance Realty Company was held Thursday, and the following Board of Directors were elected for the ensuing year: Charles F. Adams, Charles F. Ayer, Alwyn Ball, Jr., Edwin M. Bulkley, Charles T. Barney, Michael Coleman, Frederick Southack, H. O. Havemeyer, James J. Higginson, James H. Post, Geo. R. Read, William A. Read and John R. Hegeman. It will be noticed that Henry Morgenthau's name does not appear in this list, and current gossip is that owing to a disagreement with some of the directors of the company, Central Realty Bond & Trust interests have withdrawn from connection with it.

THE PROPORTION OF OUTSIDE BIDDERS AT LEGAL SALES.

The statement was made recently in a daily paper that fully 40 per cent. of the parcels offered at auction recently under court orders had been sold to parties not in interest. This would show, if true, an unusual vitality in this class of business. In order to test the truth of this statement, we have investigated the legal sales since the first of the year, with the following results: Up to Feb. 17th there were 194 parcels offered under court orders, of which 28 were withdrawn. Of the 166 parcels sold, 121 were sold to the plaintiff or other parties in interest, while 45 went to outsiders. This, we believe, is about the usual proportion of outside purchases. During the past week 33 parcels were offered, 12 withdrawn, 14 sold to the plaintiff or parties in interest, and only 3 to outsiders. The auction market is showing signs of increasing life, but the figures do not justify the statement made in the paper above mentioned.

HARLEM PROPERTY OWNERS.

At an executive meeting held Thursday night by the Harlem Property Owners' Association, at No. 47 East 125th st, the following delegates were chosen to represent the association at the meeting of the United Property Owners' Association to be held at Terrace Garden, on Feb. 27: Morton H. C. Foster, Edward J. Murray, and Joseph L. O'Brien. The headquarters of the financial secretary, Jacob A. Weil, of the Harlem Property Owners' Association, is not at No. 154 East 117th st.

The Brooklyn Heights Improvement Co. was incorporated Thursday with the Secretary of State, capital, $300,000, to deal in real estate, construct buildings, docks, wharves, warehouses, canals, tunnels and grain elevators. The directors are Walter H. Sloane, of New York; William W. Shaw, of Passaic, N. J.; and L. J. Horowitz, Z. D. Berry and Charles E. Miller, of Brooklyn. The first operation of the company will be the construction of a fireproof hotel, to cost about $200,000, at the northeast corner of Montague and Hicks sts.

While it is unquestionably a fact that this borough ought to have a 4-track connection with the Manhattan Rapid Transit Railroad, it is questionable whether this is a good time to agitate for it, and whether it is not preferable to take the 2-track line that can be obtained now and work for supplementary lines hereafter. A change in existing plans would render useless all the preliminary work that has been done, bringing the 2-track plan to the point of drawing contracts and advertising for bids. If this has all to be gone over again much time will be lost without any guarantee that a better or more efficient line can be obtained. Besides, it is not altogether certain that a 4-track road on the route already adopted would be better than a 2-track road, supplemented by other connections with the Manhattan line beginning at other points than City Hall square, which could probably be obtained after the first was built and in operation. Anyway, the proverb of the bird in the hand has special application to this borough's rapid transit prospects in view of the conjested condition on all present methods of transit.

The World of Building

Material Market.

The expectation of more genial weather, together with the proposed rebuilding of the city of Paterson, N. J., is no doubt responsible for a growing activity in the building material market. Dealers are purchasing not only in anticipation of a brisk demand in the near future, but also to meet present requirements. Advanced prices are naturally expected with the opening of spring, and jobbers are not to be criticized if they take advantage of present low prices.

The lessons learned by the disastrous conflagration at Paterson are evident in the fact that brick and stone, and iron and steel, with other fireproof products, are being ordered largely for the reconstruction of the churches, public buildings and residences of the city. Extensive orders have been placed for these materials during the past few days, especially for common brick. Makers and dealers alike, while deploring the city's calamity declare themselves ready to accede to all demands without interfering with orders already in hand.

Iron and Steel.—The largest purchase of pig iron reported this week is that of 100,000 to 125,000 tons of Bessemer pig by the United State Steel Corporation. Rogers, Brown & Co. have advanced No. 1 Northern Standard from our quotations of last week to 18.15@18.40, No. 2 Northern Standard to 17.65@17.90, and Grey Forge Northern to 16.65@16.90. Other prices we were informed remain the same, although the demand is overwhelming and for quick deliveries a premium of one dollar is still demanded and being paid.

Bar iron remains firm, the base price quoted for 1 to 1⅞ in. being 1.95@2.00. Plates and sheets remain firm.

Structural steel of every class is in enormous demand, and notwithstanding that many think prices of iron and steel products have about reached the limit, the outlook is prophetic of an advance in every direction.

Old material is in great demand, but it is next to impossible to give quotations because prices are largely regulated by the necessities of the purchaser or seller. Trere is an especially active demand for old steel rails, and offers to purchase at $21 per ton for rails suitable for re-rolling having been made in vain.

Window Glass.—The contemplated advance of the Window Glass Jobbers' Association has not yet been declared. It is still on the tapis, however, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. The basis of 90 and 10 per cent. off on carloads, and 90 on lesser quantities still prevails. Certain manufacturers are endeavoring to close large orders at 2½% less than the combine's prices, conditionally that the order is subject to possible advances in labor.

Brick, Cement, Lime, etc.—Prices for common brick were firm yesterday at the Brick Makers' Exchange, and many large orders were booked. Although the demand was great there was no hesitation in arranging for required deliveries. The temporary stoppage of transportation on the Hudson had been well anticipated, consequently supplies were equal if not superior to the demand.

The annual meeting of the Consolidated Brick Company took place on Wednesday last. This includes all the yards along the Hudson River.

At the Building Material Exchange cement and lime were in steady demand, but prices had not advanced from those quoted last week. Those holding large stocks were sanguine of a rush of business with the early spring.

Eastern spruce lath was quoted at 4.25@4.75.

Lumber.—Whilst there is great demand for general lumber for building purposes, prices are fluctuating very little. Lumber dealers, as a rule, have large stocks on hand, and are well able to cope with all ordinary demand. The Eastern Lumber Company, of Tonawanda, N. Y., announce that they have on hand at the present time 34,000,000 feet of selected white pine, and 2,500,000 feet of hardwood.

Lath.—This useful product is in increasing demand, and 4.25@4.50 is generally asked. In this case the supply does not appear to be quite up to the demand and further advances may be looked for.

Pig Tin, Lead, etc.—The demand is still active for pig tin and advances are to be looked for. Bruce & Cooke, a representative builder's supply house, quote 26c. in ton lots, and inform us that the orders are plentiful. The arrivals to date amount to 1,465 tons, while since February the tin afloat amounts to 4,170 tons. The demand for lead is comparatively dull, but prices remain about the same. Spelter is in good demand from 4.45@4.55.

Tin Plates.—Terne plates used for roofing purposes are in active demand, and higher prices may be looked for. The quotations this week are $16@$16.50 for about 40 lb. coating, $15.25@$15.75 for 30 lb. coating, $13.25@13.75 for 15 lb. coating, and $10 for about 8 lb. coating.

Paints, Oils, etc.—The paint manufacturers say that the demand is steady, and that prices are unchanged. Activity, however, is anticipated with the hoped for fine day weather, but as stocks are large it is even then not expected that there will be material changes in prices. Spirits of turpentine is in good demand at 47c. to 48c. in barrels.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

The work projected in Paterson is given in a special article on another page of this issue.

Attention of Building Material men and others is directed to a card of W. H. Hoffman's which is to be found in our business columns.

The Harris Safety Co., makers of modern fire appliances, illustrate on another page their national system of stair fire escapes, which are up-to-date in every particular. They also make interior fireproof Tower fire escapes, all of which are illustrated and described in booklets issued by the company. Their offices are at No. 1135 Broadway, St. James Building, and telephone call, 513 Madison.

Purchasers of flue lining, wall coping or coal slides will do well to communicate with the New York Pottery Co., foot of West 36th st. They will guarantee their flues and coping to be unexcelled in quality. They always carry a large stock, enabling them to make prompt deliveries, and their factories have a capacity of turning out unlimited quantities. You can telephone them day or night by calling up "3132 38th st."

Durex Floor Tiles made in a variety of designs of artificial stone by the American Fireproofing and Cement Construction Co. are shown in colors in a neat brochure issued by the company. Some of the qualities claimed for the Durex Floor Tiles are that they are fire and waterproof, durable, artistic, hygienic and inexpensive. The company have also issued a carefully prepared pamphlet which describes De Man's Improved Fireproof Construction, a system that has for years been extensively used in the West. Both publications may be obtained by applying to the company's offices, St. James Building, 1135 Broadway.

Amongst the heavy business since the first of the year, comes the announcement from Ernest Tribelhorn that he has taken under management and lease, a large number of buildings, chief of which are: Nos. 12 and 14 East 87th st; Nos. 163 and 165 Lenox av; Nos. 1845, 1851, 1855 7th av; "Fairfax," southwest corner of 94th st and Madison av; "Elise," southwest corner of 111th st and 7th av; "Wellington," southwest corner of 92d st and Madison av; Nos. 557, 559, 561 West 149th st; "Hotel Chastaigneray," northeast corner of Madison av and 92d st; Nos. 312 and 320 Manhattan av. This, with the large number of buildings already under Mr. Tribelhorn's management presents a startling success for the plan under which he conducts his business. The plan, as we understand it, is based upon co-operation. The property above-mentioned aggregates a value of about $4,500,000.

JANUARY BUILDING PERMITS.

Statistics for building in twenty-one leading cities of the United States, during January, collected by the Construction News, give the following figures. With the exception of Chicago, there was a decrease for each of the larger cities. New York, Pittsburg, St. Louis and Philadelphia all show big losses. Columbus, O., is doing a good deal of mercantile work.

Cities	1902 No.	1902 Cost.	1901 No.	1901 Cost
New York	251	$4,498,330	342	$5,765,155

Mayor Harrison having failed to either veto or approve the ordinance of the Chicago City Council removing the limit of height from buildings in Chicago, it has become of effect. The only plan filed since the passage of the ordinace for a big building is one for an addition, 200x140, to the building of the McCormick Harvesting Machine Co. There is talk of a tall building replacing one recently destroyed by fire at Nos. 120-130 Washington st. The site is 100x180 and worth, probably, $500,000. A commensurate building would cost $600,000. The owners are the Alexander White Estate, and the lessee James B. Dodge.

A NEW CEMENT COMPANY.

The Atlantic Building Supply Company have their offices at 76 William st in the new Bishop Building, of which Messrs. Clinton & Russell are architects and Messrs. Richard Deeves & Son builders. Mr. Frank Vernon, the President, and Mr. John J. Regan, the Secretary and Treasurer, are gentlemen who have been well-know to the building trades of this city for many years, Mr. Regan being a brother of Thomas J. Regan, a director of the above company, and associated with the Honorable W. C. Whitney in his many large metropolitan interests. Their particular specialties are Portland and Rosendale cements. They have sold great quantities of Atlantic Rosendale cement and Vulcanite and Whitehall Portland cement, as well as being local distributors of Lafarge, the only genuine non-staining cement on the market. They have already numerous large contracts to fulfill, and are constantly enlarging their field. Telephone, 4068 John.

A FIREPROOFING MONOPOLY.

The following companies are to be absorbed in the National Fireproofing Co. of Pittsburgh: Pioneer Fireproofing Co., Illinois Terra Cotta Lumber Co., E. V. Johnson & Co., and the W. B. Owens Co., of Chicago; Standard Fireproofing Co., of Woodbridge, N. J.; Henry Maurer, of Maurer, N. J.; Lyth & Son, Buffalo; Federal Clay Manufacturing Co., operating five plants, of Greentown, Ohio; Haydenville Mining & Manufacturing Co., Haydenville, Ohio; Lynch & Son, Washington, D. C.; Delaware Clay Manufacturing Co., Delaware, Ohio.

The capital of the new company has been increased from $5,000,000 to $12,500,000. The stockholders have also agreed to provide $1,000,000 working capital and to purchase 18 plants now operated by 15 different companies.

Mr. D. F. Henry, one of the new directors, has said: "I do not know of any business which comes so near having a natural monopoly as the fireproofing business." It certainly looks like a monopoly.

NO MARBLE DEALERS' COMBINATION.

A story appeared in a daily paper this week of a combination being formed of the quarry owners and marble dealers, the effort, at this time, almost entirely confined to those engaged in the business in this city. It was said that the principal firms in New York interests in the movement were Batterson & Eisele, of 11th av; Fisher & Co., of Houston st, and John H. Shipway & Brother, of Locust av and 135th st John H. Shipway & Bro. informed the Record and Guide that the story was wholly unauthorized; that there had been talk of such a combination for the last four years; that it was no nearer consummation now than it was four years ago; that in their opinion it was not possible to consummate it.

"ADJOINING" IS NOT "NEIGHBORING."

The British Court of Appeal have rendered a decision defining the much-abused word "adjoining." It was argued that the words "adjoining premises" extended not only to buildings which came in physical contact with another building, but also to any buildings which were situated near enough to it, for works done on the premises so-situated, to affect materially the first premises by obstructing easements. But their lordships declined to approve of any other meaning of "adjoining" than was expressed in the Metropolitan Building Act, 1894, where adjoining owner and adjoining occupier relate to lands, buildings, stories or rooms which are in physical contact with a building-owner's property. Adjoining is not equivalent to neighboring, and a knowledge of that fact may sometimes prevent litigation.

The "Hofman" Rule.

ITS APPLICATION IN VALUING A CITY LOT THAT IS CUT.

We are requested so frequently to answer the question, "What is the Hofman Rule?" that we do so now in our columns.

The scale became known as the "Hofman Rule" through Judge Murray Hofman publishing it in his "Digest of the Charters, Statutes and Ordinances of the City of New York" in 1866.

The rule is based on a lot with 25 feet frontage and a depth of 100 feet. The lot is divided into cross strips, the first one 10 feet wide and the others 5 feet each. On this basis the value of the lot by strips would be as follows:

25x 10 feet, 16 per cent. of full lot.
25x 15 feet, 23.50 per cent. of full lot.
25x 20 feet, 31 per cent. of full lot.
25x 25 feet, 37 per cent. of full lot.
25x 30 feet, 44 per cent. of full lot.
25x 35 feet, 50 per cent. of full lot.
25x 40 feet, 56 per cent. of full lot.
25x 45 feet, 61.50 per cent. of full lot.
25x 50 feet, 67 per cent. of full lot.
25x 55 feet, 71.50 per cent. of full lot.
25x 60 feet, 76 per cent. of full lot.
25x 65 feet, 80 per cent. of full lot.
25x 70 feet, 84 per cent. of full lot.
25x 75 feet, 87.50 per cent. of full lot.
25x 80 feet, 91 per cent. of full lot.
25x 85 feet, 93.50 per cent. of full lot.
25x 90 feet, 96 per cent. of full lot.
25x 95 feet, 98 per cent. of full lot.
25x100 feet, 100 per cent. of full lot.

Questions and Answers.

COMMISSION OF RENEWAL OF LEASE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If we rent a house on a lease for one year with a clause giving option to tenant for a renewal from one to three years at same rent, and tenant notifies us or the owner that he will renew the lease, can we claim a commission on each year of renewal?

Answer.—Yes. (See Record and Guide of Feb. 1, 1902, page 198).—Law Editor.

SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A leases to B apartment house containing fifteen families. B does not pay January rent. (1) Can A secure possession without dispossessing B? (2) Should A dispossess B can A secure possession without evicting every tenant?

Answer.—(1) No. (2) No. If A desires to secure possession by summary proceedings, he should institute proceedings and make B and all the tenants parties defendant. This dispossesses everybody, and A can subsequently make new agreements with the tenants.—Law Editor.

UNMARKETABLE TITLE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Some time ago I bought a dwelling from a responsible party and received his warrant deed. On investigation I found that the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. had formerly insured the title, therefore I thought it unnecessary to make a full search. Later on I raised a new mortgage thereon and the mortgagee at my expense had the title insured by the same company. Recently I made a contract to sell the property, but my title was rejected on the ground that there was an outstanding tax lease against the property and though the title company had always turned this up in their searches, they had thought it merged in the fee and consequently they insured the title (though never directly by me), but now they admit they made a blunder and the tax lease is still there. I am unable to find out from whom to get a release and it has already cost me several hundred dollars to get out of litigation with the party to whom I sold. Will you kindly advise what is best to be done in this matter?

(1) Can I proceed against the title company? (2) Or ought I proceed against my predecessor who sold to me under warrantee deed?

Answer.—(1) You have no cause of action against the title company. (2) You have a good cause of action against your vendor.—Law Editor.

FIXTURES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

We ask you to do us the favor of explaining through the columns of your journal the best method of securing the payment of goods sold to builders, in the way of a mortgage or special contract. In other words, should we sell a number of fixtures to be placed in a certain building and enter into a contract with the purchaser that the title in these goods shall not pass from us until after same are fully paid for, and that we have the right to remove the goods in case the payment had not been made by a certain date. This contract being placed on record and the purchaser of the goods having disposed of the building in which the goods are contained and set up, would we have the right, under the law, to remove these goods, even should the owner of the building have no knowledge of the agreement? We ask this question, as we understand that some manufacturers are in the habit of entering into similar contracts, and you would no doubt be familiar with the validity of the same.

Answer.—If your goods should be affixed to the realty so as to become part of it you would not be entitled to remove them after the purchaser of the goods sold the building to another. The same rule applies if a mortgagee forecloses his mortgage and a deed is given in pursuance of the decree. (See Andrews v. Powers, 66 App. Div., 216, which you will find reported in the Record and Guide of Jan. 25, ult., p. 167, second column, last item.) I think there is a bill before the present Legislature to protect the material man, under such circumstances but, as the law now stands, there is no protection for him except to file a mechanics' lien at the time of the first delivery of the goods, which I consider the best method for the securing payment for goods sold to builders.—Law Editor.

WIFE DIES INTESTATE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please answer the following: If a wife who has money deposited in savings banks in her maiden name dies and leaves no will, does any of the money go to her mother and brothers living, or does it go all to her husband?

Answer.—If the amount is less than $2,000 the husband takes it all.—Law Editor.

CHIMNEY FIRES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Who pays the fine attached to a chimney fire?

Answer.—Section 760 of the Charter: "If any chimney, stove pipe or flue within the city shall take fire, the occupant of the premises to which such chimney, stove pipe or flue appertains shall forfeit the sum of $5."—Law Editor.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please inform me if (1) A having leased a building to B for the period of 5 years ending last November has A extended B's lease by accepting from B a month's rent after lease expired? If so, is lease extended for the same period of time as the old lease was for? (2) If A gives B a rent receipt reading thus at end, "and it is expressly understood that the letting is for one month only and to expire on the first day of March next," does that end B's lease or tenancy if B accepts it without protest?

Answer.—(1) The lease is extended for one year only. (2) The lease having been renewed for a year, the form of receipt given does not alter it. The giving and accepting of this receipt does not make a new contract.—Law Editor.

DISCHARGE OF OLD MORTGAGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly inform me how a perfect title can be procured where a mortgage has been paid off for 30 years and receipts given therefore, but no satisfaction piece has been recorded and the attorney who had the papers is now dead.

Answer.—It will be necessary to institute a proceeding in a Court of Record to have the mortgage discharged of record. The proceeding is by petition, notice, advertising, etc., according to the circumstances of the case.—Law Editor.

LANDLORD AND TENANT—COMMISSION—RESTRICTION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

(1) Tenant of a suburban house purchases and has put up storm sash, storm doors and windows and door screens. Are the same the property of the owner of the building owing to their having been attached to same. Does the taking down of screens or storm sash or doors invalidate any claim owner of house might make claiming that they become part of the building as soon as attached to same. If not owner's property has tenant any right to deface the building by such action? (2) In case where a house was rented last spring and owner refused to pay commission is it too late to sue him now? (3) I had key of house and left it with next door neighbor, who wished to show it to friend to whom I had showed other houses; same party went to owner direct and settled matter and informed owner that I had nothing to do with it. Could I recover? (4) A house standing on property restricted to "a detached private dwelling for one family" is rented by owner to a club to be used for club purposes. Can owner of adjoining property prevent such occupancy? Restriction reads, "that no building other than a detached dwelling for one family shall be erected on the property hereby conveyed." Does a restriction of this kind apply only to the erection and not to the subsequent occupancy?

Answer.—(1) I do not think storm sash, storm doors and window screens are affixed to the realty so as to become part of it. The tenant may remove same at the expiration of his term. (2) No. Your claim does not outlaw for six years. (3) You are entitled to your commission. (4) The owner of adjoining property cannot prevent such occupancy.—Law Editor.

Legal Decisions.

Lease—Covenant by lessee not to assign or sublet. A covenant in a lease of an apartment, to be used as a private dwelling only, that the lessee shall not assign or sublet the premises, is not broken by his placing the porter of his store and the porter's wife in possession of the apartment as his servants and caretakers during his absence therefrom. To constitute a breach of such a covenant the occupant must be given some estate in the premises. If, in an action involving the question of a breach of the covenant, the evidence leaves it in dispute whether the lessee's intent was to make his porter a mere caretaker, or a tenant of the apartment, that question should go to the jury. (Court of Appeals, Presby v. Benjamin, New York Law Journal, Jan. 23, 1902).

Usury—Extension of time of payment of mortgage. A contract, made between the holder of a mortgage and a purchaser of the mortgaged premises, to extend the time of payment of the mortgage, in consideration of the purchaser assuming the mortgage debt and paying to the holder a sum above the legal interest, is usurious. The fact that the purchaser, prior to making the agreement, was not personally liable for the mortgage debt and, therefore, owed nothing to the holder of the mortgage, does not relieve the transaction of its usurious character, so long as the contract of extension and of assumption and the payment of the bonus were all one transaction. Nor can payment of the sum in excess of the legal interest, under such circumstances, be justified as a consideration for the contract of extension made with one who was not, up to that time, holden for the mortgage debt; especially when the assumption alone was a consideration for the extension. The agreement for forebearance being usurious, the party paying may elect, either to immediately bring an action to recover back the amount thus illegally paid, or, in equity, to have it applied upon the mortgage. If, having elected to apply it upon the mortgage, such course was approved by the trial court, the Appellate Division cannot, as matter of law, disturb the judgment in that respect. (Court of Appeals, 1902. Ganz v. Lancaster, New York Law Journal, Jan. 27, 1902).

Lease—option for renewal. An agreement for the leasing of premises for four months with an option for an extension not exceeding three years is not within the Statute of Frauds, since the existence of such option does not render the agreement a lease for a longer period than four months, as it might not be exercised and it is possible for the lease to terminate at the end of the definite period agreed upon, and the statute does not include an agreement, even if it is not likely or is not expected to be performed within a year, if, when fairly and reasonably interpreted, it admits of a valid execution within that time.

Landlord and tenant—deposit as security—fulfillment of lease. A deposit made for the security of rent alone and to be returned upon the "fulfillment" of the lease, can be retained by the lessors after re-entry by summary proceedings for default in payment of rent, only to the extent necessary to satisfy rent coming due before the precept was issued, and cannot be applied to a deficiency arising on an attempted reletting of the premises by the lessors as the lessee's agents for which the lessee covenated to be responsible, but which was dependant by the terms of the lease upon an entry by ejectment, since the summary proceeding terminated the lease, under Section 2,253 of the Code of Civil Procedure, providing that the issuing of a warrant for the removal of a tenant from demised premises cancels the agreement for the use of the premises and annuls the relation of landlord and tenant; and such termination is a fulfillment thereof entitling the lessee to the return of the balance of the deposit. (Michaels v. Fishel, 169 N. Y. Rep., 381).

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500 and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

February 14, 15, 17, 18, 19 and 20.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. ((†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the correspoding date.

The Attention of Architects, Builders, Owners and Managers of Hotels and Apartment Houses is called to the New York Telephone Company's

PRIVATE BRANCH EXCHANGE SYSTEM.

By means of a Private Branch Exchange city and long distance telephone service, as well as an interior service, are available to every apartment, at very moderate cost. Most people depend so much now-a-days on the telephone service that a Private Branch Exchange, connecting with the New York Telephone System, is practically a necessity in the Modern Apartment House or Hotel.

Full information on request at any of the Contract Offices:

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. ((†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

OF the stock market little can be said. It still preserves its enigmatic character and gives but little satisfaction from any point of view. Transactions are declining to figures that look very small in the light of experience of the past year, and sometimes such as would have made but a small day's business at any time. If from these figures the professional contribution could be deducted, it would leave very little for the commission houses, who are, indeed, doing comparatively nothing; and, in view of the high range of current quoted values on the one side, and the strength of the business situation and the general prosperity on the other, are indisposed to advise their connections to enter a campaign either for or against prices. On the whole, this makes an uninteresting, not to say stupid situation, though one not without gratifying features. It is surprising and previously unheard of how long stocks that are often referred to as possessing latent powers to advance have hung around particular figures. If one wants something of more moving encouragement, one is compelled to fall back upon the general business situation, which happily readily responds to the desire. Undoubtedly that situation continues to be good; railroad earnings prove that, together with the flattering reports from the centres of the great and typical industries such as the iron and steel industry where efforts, titanic as they are, are restricted by inadequacy of shipping facilities. The market took this week's shipment of a large amount of gold nonchalantly, which shows how differently the same things influence in good times and in bad. The years 1888-1895 were years of net loss of gold, amounting in the whole period of eight years to the sum of $317,646,299; in 1896, the imports exceeded the exports by $46,474,419; in 1897 there was a small loss of $253,589; the following three years were all years of gain, the imports for the whole period exceeding the exports by $160,539,012. Last year we lost again in the sum of $2,968,009, but, as in January of that year we had already exported $8,000,000, it will be seen that most of what goes out now is quickly regained. Already this year nearly $8,000,000 has gone out, but as this is the season of the European demand on this centre this fact could only be unfavorably construed if it could at the same time be shown that a compensating movement will not occur in due course before the year is out, as it did, for instance, last year, and leaving the net imports for the whole year much less than they were for the first month.

BOTH the Assembly and the Senate have passed an amendment to the Charter which will permit the local authorities to grant a perpetual franchise to the Pennsylvania Railroad for its tunnel in Manhattan; and it is known that the Mayor and the Corporation Counsel approve this bill. Presumably, it was only on these terms that the Pennsylvania Railroad will build the tunnel, so that considering the immense benefit which it will be to the Boroughs of Manhattan and Queens, it is as well that the local authorities have consented to a perpetual franchise. Yet, we cannot but regard with distrust this departure from the principle, which was embodied in the Charter for the permanent protection of the city's interests. The present exception will be made the precedent and excuse in the future for other departures of the same kind. The privilege which the Pennsylvania Railroad has probably succeeded in getting will be claimed by other roads as well; and when they are situated as the Pennsylvania is situated it will be difficult to refuse the privilege. There is this consolation in the present proposed arrangement, viz., that the rate of remuneration must be readjusted every twenty-five years. At the present time the franchise, considering the large expense which must be incurred in order to make use of it, probably has not a very great value, but when there are 1,000,000 people living in Queens, instead of 170,000, and when the present population of Hudson and Essex counties has trebled, the traffic to, from, and across Manhattan will be enormous, and the franchise will be very valuable. Even if the Governor signs the bill, however, the railroad company will still have some difficult obstacles to overcome, for the Democrats are strong in the Board of Aldermen, and have apparently decided to block the improvement if possible.

The Tenement House Law Amendments.

THE hearing in Albany on Thursday before the Joint Committee on Cities indicated with as much certainty as can possibly pertain to prophesy in such matters that what may be termed the administration amendments to the existing tenement house law will be enacted. If the show of opposition made on that occasion represents the full force of argument and influence now directed against the bill, it is clearly insufficient to prevail at this stage of the proceedings. For it must not be forgotten that the real incidence of attack at this moment cannot bear upon the amendments themselves alone which confessedly liberalize the tenement house law, but must also touch the law itself. It is hardly necessary to point out how great would have to be the opposition necessary in any case to abolish legislation already enacted and in force, or how serious and widespread would have to be the arguments and agitation sufficent to convert the administration and the Legislature to a retrograde movement. It is not belittling the opposition that does exist against the tenement measures to say that it is, for this purpose, quite ineffective. And, if for this purpose it is ineffective it follows that in its application to the amendments it cannot be quite free from the appearance of being illogical. If the law is to stand, the amendments are a distinct concession to the very criticism that has been directed against the law. On the other hand, if the amendments are insufficient, the proper course is not to attack them, but to accept them and endeavor to enlarge them as far as possible without at the same time attempting to impair the spirit and purpose of a law too firmly entrenched to be overthrown by a light cavalry movement.

The difficulty in the path of opposition therefore is the existence of the law and that which has been added by the amendments themselves. It would be easier even from the point of view of the whole principle involved to deal with these amendments were they not so distinctly liberal and conciliatory. It would even perhaps be easier to deal with them did they not receive in peculiar measure a personal support from the temperate, judicial and reasonable attitude of Mr. De Forest, who has achieved the rare success of winning both his battle and his enemies. If he hasn't converted his opponents to tenement house reform as he understands it, he has impressed them to the point that the next best thing to its defeat is that the law shall be entrusted to his administration.

As a matter of fact, however, there is very little serious opposition to the amendments. The earnest issues that remain concern the requirements for air shafts in three and four story buildings in Brooklyn and the retroactive effect of the tenement house law upon owners of existing buildings in Manhattan as well as in Brooklyn. So far as the former is concerned, our sister borough is made to feel the effect of its alliance with a city of the first class. Conditions beyond the bridge are not similar to those prevailing in Manhattan. Buildings quite permissible in a semi-urban town are distinctly impossible in a metropolitan city. Neither will it pass to contend that the semi-urban town will in time develop into the higher class, and so it is wise to proceed from the beginning in that expectation, and prohibit in the lower stage everything that will be unsuitable to the higher stage. There is a time for everything and development would be impossible upon the principle of demanding to-day the requirements of to-morrow, even though in meeting present necessities we produce much that will be distinctly disadvantageous in the future. We have seen no evidence that shows the narrow court to be a distinct evil in buildings planned and inhabited as two and three story tenements are in Brooklyn. By and by, when conditions change in Brooklyn, they undoubtedly would be as obnoxious in that borough as they are in Manhattan. The law to-day is anticipatory and the owner is called upon to pay for the anticipation. It may be a judicious investment for the city and the future, but for him it is something of a hardship.

On the other issue, that of the retroactive effect of the law upon existing tenements, we cannot but see in it an element of injustice against owners, in some cases a heavy injustice. The State has every right to enact regulations for the benefit of the community, but in equity, which no State can safely disregard, it must not be at the expense of a special and limited class of citizens. Tenement buildings that do not meet modern requirements should of course be condemned, but if they were built with the sanction of previous laws the condemnation should be at the expense of the community.

The Real Estate Situation

The real estate market, in all its branches, has been active and interesting during the past week. Sales have been very numerous and well distributed throughout the city. They include an important parcel on lower Broadway, several large plots in the mercantile district, a half-a-dozen houses along the line of middle Fifth avenue, and a good deal of unimproved property both on the West Side and in The Bronx. The buying continues to be largely speculative, and realty corporations appear in ever-increasing quantities, both as purchasers and sellers; but the amount of money which is being actually invested is on the increase. The papers put on record at the Register's Office are exceptionally numerous for this time of year. Thus in 1902, from Feb. 14th to 20th, there were 293 conveyances of Manhattan real estate recorded, involving the very large sum of $6,601,757. In 1901, from Feb. 15th to 20th (one day less) there were only 185 papers recorded, involving $1,976,762. So far during the present year the number of transfers recorded has increased from 2,201 to 2,512, while the amount involved by them has increased from $20,464,638, to $24,806,592; and it must be remembered that the year 1901 was exceptionally active. On the other hand, the number of building plans filed up to Feb. 20th decreased from 325 in 1901, to 212 in 1902, and their estimated cost from $14,186,265 to $9,603,485. Be it added, however, that during 1901 there were a large number of building plans filed, involving a larger sum of money than during any year, but one, in the past history of the city. The outlook for a very large amount of building this spring is very good. At present tenement-house plans are held back because of proposed modifications in the law; and we are informed that many plans will be filed as soon as these modifications go into effect. A good many apartment hotels are still being planned for erection all over the city, and very large numbers of mercantile buildings. On the whole, while the figures of the filings for the present year are likely to continue smaller than the year before, the work actually underway will be as great, if not greater, for in many cases the buildings for which the plans were filed late in 1901 are not as yet even started.

The General Market.

Superficially the auction market of the past week does not look very prosperous, for in the case of the largest sale of the week, most of the parcels offered were purchased in the interest of the heirs. But this superficial aspect of the matter is not the whole story. As a matter of fact, the two sales held last Thursday excited unusual interest. The auction room was well filled with people; the bidding was spirited, and outsiders generally offered prices but very little under the high prices at which the heirs bid in the property. The tenement-house parcels semed to be in particularly good demand. Two six-story modern tenements, each on lots 25 x 87.7, situated on Essex street, opposite Seward Park, brought respectively $49,500 and $50,000—a result which was reached in case of one of them only after 41 bids had been made. Considering that these buildings could not have represented an outlay of $40,000 for lot and building, the prices must be considered very good—even though the buildings will yield eight per cent. upon the investment. A six-story tenement in this part of the East Side is an extraordinarily safe and remunerative piece of income-bearing property. All the other parcels, except one, were bought in by the heirs, but at prices which in almost every case must be considered fairly high. The reason why so many auction sales are apparently failures is unquestionably the very considerable value which owners put upon their properties. The auction room far from being a place in which a man can pick up bargains, is, one the contrary, very frequently a place in which extremely liberal bids are rejected by the owners. Nevertheless, the auction business promises to be very good during the present spring. No part of the market so quickly feels the effect of wide-spread interest in real estate. In addition to the partition sale above-mentioned, there was an important auction sale during the week of a parcel fronting 67.7 feet on the east side of Broadway, between 29th and 30th streets, and containing in all about two city lots. The bidding started at $250,000, and ran up rapidly to $333,000—$500 under that figure having been offered by Flake & Dowling. As the property is rented for only $13,500, exclusive of taxes and repairs, the value obtained is due to speculative rather than investment considerations. The prospects of this part of Broadway were never so good as at present.

The Auction Market.

The two most interesting departments of business during the week has been the purchase of large parcels for the sake of improving them with business buildings, and the sale of private houses near Fifth avenue and south of 59th street. A very important transaction was the purchase of Nos. 38, 40, 42 Broadway, running through to New street, by a syndicate that proposes to erect a twenty-story office building. The plot contains 21,568 square feet, and was sold probably for a little over $100 a square foot. It has the advantage of being one of the very few large parcels remaining on Broadway or Wall street available for a big office building. Another large sale, to be followed by a similar improvement, is that of No. 76 John street and Nos. 29-33 Platt street, to the owners of the adjoining Woodbridge Building, which will be extended over this plot. New mercantile buildings are, however, even more in evidence than new office buildings. Recently there have been many sales for improvement on Broadway just south of 14th street. This week a parcel, containing 20,000 square feet on the corner of University place and 11th street has been bought for the purpose of putting a mercantile building on it. This demand for more space on the part of wholesalers and manufacturers is one of the most noticeable and wholesome influences in the market, and it seems to be the direct influence of the present business prosperity, which encourages business men to rent or purchase more room. In the two months of the present year there have been plans filed for no less than eighteen lofts, factories and warehouses, to be erected at an estimated cost of $1,885,000, which, for this class of buildings, is an unusually large proportion of the total filings; and this list includes only one of the really large improvements of this character which have been announced.

Business Property and Residences.

The other branch of real estate operations to which we wish to call particular attention is the ready sale of the new expensive residences in the course of erection, or recently erected south of the Central Park. Two of them were marketed during the week. So far during 1902 it has been south rather than east or west of the Park that has been the most important centre of interest of operations in private dwellings. Plans have been filed for twelve dwellings to be erected south of the Park, at an estimated cost of $770,000, or $64,000 each, whereas west of the Park plans have been filed for only three similar buildings, to cost $180,000, and east of the Park for four to cost $320,000. Of course, the season is still young, and the newer sections will take the lead later on, but these facts and figures afford an interesting indication of the tenacity with which well-to-do people cleave to central locations for their houses, as well as of the extraordinary strength of well-situated residence property in Manhattan. These houses are all erected upon the sites of former resirences; and the value paid for the land includes the cost of the first building. A second generation of speculative builders are operating over precisely the same territory over which an earlier generation operated during the fifteen years succeeding the war, and before they are finished will undo almost entirely the work of their predecessors. Will their own work be any more permanent?

THE destruction of the Park Avenue Hotel by fire and the deplorable loss of life that ensued gives point to our remarks of last week about the dangerous condition of certain theatres in this city. It is bad enough to have a hotel burn down, because it is always inhabited by many people, and in one way or another some loss of life is sure to result; but if a theatre catches on fire during a performance—which is the time it is most likely to catch on fire—the loss of life is many times worse. Moreover, if the theatre in question is unsafe because it has been constructed in violation of the building law, and if the lives are sacrificed because private owners have been greedy, and public officials remiss, the accident is not merely deplorable; it has become a crime, for which certain men are responsible. After the warning that has just been given the Superintendent of Buildings cannot escape the duty of having these theatres, whose names are matters of common gossip, inspected, and, if necessary, condemned—until alterations are made in conformity with the law.

PRICES on foreign exchanges seem to have got into the slow and limited see-saw that marks them in our own. Among other securities Kaffirs have settled down again to await events. Reports of production in the Rand are not appearing as frequently as could be wished and as would be the case were mining in full swing again, and unhampered by the peculiar conditions resulting from a state of war. Here and there a bright spot appears on the business horizon. One of the largest British railroads reported a fair increase of earnings for January, and European iron and steel industries are on the lookout for overflow orders from this side. A discussion not without interest to ourselves, is proceeding in Germany, on the economical effect of the great trade combinations on the country as a whole. It is claimed for the German iron, steel, coal and coke combinations, that they are more nearly monopolies than anything of the kind seen elsewhere, even in the United States, and their creation was originally defended on the ground, that controlling the situation as they did they could so restrict production to a parity with demand, and depressions could not occur. This claim was not sustained by events. It is always an unseen factor that controls eventually, and in this case the unseen factor was the competition of the foreigner whose productiveness exceeded his own demands except in times of great commercial and industrial activity within his own borders. Depression has supervened upon prosperity in Germany now as it has done on other occasions, but has still left open to discussion the point of degree. If, as is not probable, however, the present era of depression in Germany has passed its climax, it will by no means compare in intensity with other such eras, particularly that of the '70s that followed the war boom. Some of the more venturesome of the economists are taking the ground that the worst has passed and recovery begun, and that the shorter duration and lessened intensity of the depression was due to the complete hold on the markets possessed by the syndicates, which were enabled to resist pressure to reduce prices and thereby escape the necessity of cutting pay and so setting at work those forces that restrict and lessen circulation. Thus two great advantages are claimed for syndicate control of staples in Germany—one, the sustentation and prolongation of an industrial movement once begun; and, two, the ability to prevent decline running into utter stagnation when the movement is ended. This conflicts with accepted notions on the limits of consumption in any given period, but if the syndicates have in the brief period of their existence done what is claimed for them, it will be possible for them with the progress of years, to reach something like a continuous and even flow of production that would eliminate booms and relapses. Such a condition of affairs would, of course, have a direct and sustaining influence on values of industrial securities.

THIS week Comptroller Grout issued a statement for the information of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment upon the city's debt-incurring capacity, and the probable calls thereon in the current year. From this statement it appears that the borrowing limit on January 1st was not much more than $7,500,000, an amount the Comptroller thinks ought always to be kept as a margin of safety. During the year it is estimated that, by the operation of the sinking fund, collections of amounts due on improvements and increase in real estate tax valuations, resources of $37,264,438.10 will be produced, bringing up the total resources for the year to $44,815,975.97, which may be disposed of this way: Reserve, $7,500,000; already appropriated $10,319,840.20; this year's estimated further requirements for improvements, $26,882,180.40; surplus, $113,955.37. The estimated requirements were made in the Comptroller's office, but as he does not accept them as imperative, but on the contrary holds that the money should be distributed differently, it is hardly worth while to go into the items. The fact brought out is that during this year something more than $34,000,000 will be available for improvements and the question is, how shall it be spent?

Tenement House Law.

THE HEARING IN ALBANY UPON MEASURES PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE EXISTING LAW.

On Thursday the Cities' Committes of the Senate and Assembly gave a joint hearing on the bills proposing amendments to the existing Tenement House law. A number of delegations were present, sufficient to well fill the Senate chamber. The entire afternoon was devoted to the discussion, which proved to be one of the most animated that has occurred this session.

The bills considered were the Stranahan or (as it is unofficially designated) the "Administration Amendatory bill," published in full last week in the Record and Guide, and the Audett bill, which proposes to free three and four story tenements in Brooklyn from the operation of the existing tenement house law. The passage of this latter measure is urged upon the grounds that the law of 1901 presses upon Brooklyn with special severity due to particular local conditions and requirements.

Senator Hill was given the floor first. He spoke for the city of Buffalo, wherein he declared great confusion had arisen owing to a misinterpretation and a lax administration of the present law. With the amendments proposed by the Stranahan bill the new tenement house regulations would be satisfactory; but to afford relief for the tangled conditions that had arisen in Buffalo he desired that so far as that city is concerned the law should not be considered effective until the first of January, 1903.

Senator Wagner followed for Brooklyn, denouncing the tenement house law in general terms as unjust and onerous. In the borough he represented it had put an absolute stop to the building of tenements, thrown thousands of workmen out of employment, and endangered the very existence of many trades dependent upon building operations. He supported the Audett bill and offered an amendment to the existing tenement house law to the effect that none of its provisions should apply to buildings already erected or in process of erection.

Commissioner De Forest was then called upon to open the regular proceedings. Commissioner De Forest said the Stranahan bill was the result of many conferences between the authorities of New York and the parties at interest in both Brooklyn and New York and of careful observation of the operation of the Tenement House act since it became a law.

"It would have been easy," said Mr. De Forest, "for the members of the city administration to confine themselves absolutely to enforcing the law as they found it, and it would have been easy for the members of the recent State Tenement House Commission to decline to give the subject further care or consideration. We have felt, however, that we owed a higher duty to the public in continuing to put at its service the knowledge of this important subject which had already been acquired.

"I am not aware of any intelligent opposition to the amendments proposed on the side of builders or real estate owners whose interests they are intended to serve. There may be some opposition to some of these changes from so-called 'tenement reformers of the extreme type' who have not given so much consideration to the interest of builders and property owners as have the members of the old commission and the tenement house department. But even such reformers must realize that the amendments proposed involve no departure from the principles underlying the reformatory bill enacted last winter. They are distinctly intended to make building less expensive, and the buildings erected more remunerative, as well as to minimize the changes required in existing buildings; but they do this at no sacrifice of principle, and at no substantial loss to the light, air, and healthful surroundings which that law was intended to insure to the vast number of tenement dwellers. Among the more important changes are the following:

"The omission of fire escapes at both front and rear, when apartments run through from front to rear, and permitting the owner, at his option, to erect but a single fire escape and to put it either in the front or rear, as he prefers.

"Permitting stores and halls in new buildings to cover the courts on the ground floor, and on corner lots to cover even the yard. The light and ventilation of living rooms upon the open courts above the stores will not be affected by having these courts begun at the second story.

"Doing away with the necessity for fireproof construction of stairways, public halls, etc., in tenement houses not more than three stories in height. This is reverting to the law in force previous to the enactment of the tenement house law in 1901. The additional cost of this fireproofing, as represented to us, is about $1,500 per house. The risk of loss of life by fire in such low buildings is much less than in higher buildings, and we think the advantage of encouraging the construction of those low tenements, of which there will be many in Brooklyn, Queens and the Bronx, counterbalances the disadvantage of not making them fireproof in these particulars.

"The new law prevented the occupation of rooms in old tenements which opened upon courts or shafts less than twenty-five square feet in area, and which did not open to the sky without roof or skylight. These old courts or shafts are so many in number and so varied in kind that it is proposed to add a proviso to the new law whereby rooms opening upon them may, nevertheless, be occupied if adequate light and ventilation are provided.

"This amendatory act does not cover all the amendments which have been proposed by the property owners, but it covers the greater portion of them. Some of the gentlemen with whom I have been in conference have urged that the city should at least come half way to meet them. We have gone more than half way to meet them, and, indeed, have absolutely met most of them, but there are some (I have specially in mind my builder friends from Brooklyn) who wish us to go further. This we will not do."

John P. Leo, representing the Builders' League, followed, speaking in opposition to the Stranahan amendments. He said viewed in general they were a confession of the one-sided and impracticable character of the law of 1901. When the passage of that law was urged its advocates declared its provisions had been formulated after a most careful and judicial consideration of all conditions and requirements. That contention had been stoutly controverted by men perfectly familiar with the tenement house situation as it really is, men whose opinions and experience were at least equal and some might judge vastly superior to the knowledge possessed by those who framed the law in the first place or those who now were administering the law or advocating the proposed amendments. These amendments were a clear confession of original error, and substantiated the position taken and maintained right along by opponents of the law. He and the league he represented were opposed to the amendments. Many of them were dangerous, permitting much that ought not to be permitted. Section 20 of the amendatory bill regarding the height of buildings would open again a door through which many evils had already come. Likewise the curtailment of staircase accommodation and the reduction of fireproof requirements permitted by the amendments were equally unsound and dangerous. He asked how the advocates of the suggested amendments squared their present opinions regarding the permissible area for a building upon corner lots with their opinions of a year ago. Mr. Leo quoted from the original report and suggested that if those words represented the truth when written they represented the truth to-day. Again, he continued, the advocates of tenement house reform were stoutly set a year ago against any discretionary power being given to those concerned with the administration of the law. Now they ask for this very "discretion." Finally he pointed to sections 122 and 123 of the existing law, which decrees that in case of unlawful occupation of a building (even by a janitor) without a certificate, no rent shall be recoverable by owner or lessee, and that any bond or note secured by mortgage on the building may be declared due by the mortgagee. Such provisions, he declared, hardly needed characterization. He urged the committee to send a sub-committee to New York City for a couple of days to collect evidence and hear objections on the spot.

E. H. Roehr spoke in favor of the Audett bill on behalf of the Brooklyn Mechanics' & Traders' Exchange and others. His remarks applied almost entirely to the width of the interior courts (11 feet) required by the present law, and so far as Brooklyn was concerned. He did not object to the length of the court; was indeed willing that it should be extended to 18 or even more feet, but he declared if it had to be built more than three feet wide the erection of three and four story tenements in Brooklyn would cease. The conditions in that borough differed greatly from those prevailing in Manhattan. People there would not live in rear tenements. To-day apartments run through a building from street to yard. Bath rooms are in the rear and this arrangement is, he thought, infinitely preferable to the one proposed wherein water-closets and bedrooms would open on a court. But in any case the requirements of tenants and financial and other conditions would make the erection of buildings with wide courts impossible.

Mr. Roehr's remarks were listened to with marked attention by the committee, and the Chairman, Senator Stranahan, asked whether some compromise between the views of the Brooklyn people represented by Mr. Roehr and those of the Tenement House Department was not possible.

Mr. De Forest, in reply, said attempts in that direction had been made, but the Commission and the administration were unalterably opposed to any extension into Brooklyn of the narrow air shaft which had proved so great an evil, indeed one of the most serious, in tenement house construction in Manhattan.

Adolph Bloch, representing the United Property Owners' Association, spoke against the Stranahan amendments and the Tenement House law generally so far as existing buildings were concerned. He approved of most of the proposed amendments, but declared it was unjust and possibly unconstitutional to compel owners who had built under the provisions of the law existing at the time of construction to now forfeit a large part and in cases perhaps the whole of their equity in making their structures conform to new and at the moment of erection undreamed-of requirements.

Senator Stranahan intimated that the committee had considered that point and had determined that the betterments required by the new law were similar in nature to police and sanitary regulations.

Mr. Roehr answered that such regulations must always be of a reasonable nature and not confiscatory.

"Of a reasonable nature," Senator Stranahan repeated, as though convinced of the "reasonableness" of what had already been enacted.

Senator Davis asked Mr. Bloch whether he would condemn a horse to be stabled in the interior rooms of existing tenements. rooms without direct light or ventilation.

Mr. Block replied that he didn't represent such buildings.

Ex-Comptroller Palmer, of Brooklyn, Mr. Densmore and Mr. Burns spoke in favor of the Audett bill, the latter two gentlemen on behalf of labor organizations. Mr. Densmore declared that thousands of workmen had been put out of work in Brooklyn by the new law.

Mr. Lawrence Veiller, of the Tenement House Department, read, in opposition to this assertion, a letter from the Central Labor Union of Brooklyn, repudiating Messrs. Densmore and Burns, and favoring the new tenement house law. (It should be said Densmore and Burns did not say they spoke for the Central Labor people.) Subsequently in a vigorous speech Mr. Veiller quoted statistics showing that the erection of tenements under the existing law had not ceased, despite the fact that a full year's supply had been planned for last spring in anticipation of the new provisions. He declared that a considerable amount of new building was now already arranged for, and would proceed as soon as the present amendments were passed. He also pointed out several inaccuracies as to the actual and proposed requirements of the tenement law in the remarks made by Mr. Leo and others.

Abraham Stern spoke strongly favoring the amendments. Last year he and others thought the law would hamper building. Some of the objections had vanished with maturer consideration. The amendments would take care of the rest. Architects, builders and others must meet the new issue. It was quite possible to do so and work profitably under the new law. Light and ventilation are important possessions of the poor in tenements, and these must be preserved for them. The problem only needed scientific and careful consideration for solution without the sacrifice of anyone's real interests. He was surprised at Mr. Leo's attitude. In opposing the amendments on the ground Mr. Leo adopted he could not be acting frankly. Did he wish to make the Tenement House law prohibitive, or did he wish to make it a workable measure?

Messrs. Samuel Sass said he found the law quite practicable and had designed paying buildings under it. With the amendments passed work would go on all right. It was simply a matter for architects and builders to work out with brains. It could be done.

Messrs. Fredk. Pratt, of the Pratt estate, and W. J. O'Brien, the labor representative on the Tenement House Commission, favored the bill, the latter declaring that labor was heartily in sympathy with the law and had no interest in an inferior type of tenement.

The meeting closed with some short remarks from Mr. George B. Christman and others, mostly in opposition.

Geo. B. Christman, for the United Real Estate Owners' Association, handed in a statement of the sections the Association approved, and of those they did not. Regarding Section 79 of the present law, that relating to rear rooms, they asked that it be amended to read as follows: "Every room in a now-existing tenement house shall have either a window upon the street or yard, or upon a court or shaft, or shall have a window or transom opening into an adjoining room of the same apartment or the hall, but such window or transom, however, shall have at least 3 square feet of glazed surface, and at least one-half thereof being made to readily open." Section 100, requiring the removal of school sinks, the Association asks be amended so as to simply provide that the school sinks shall be kept clean, and shall be flushed daily. Sections 79 and 100, it will be remembered, are those against which the greatest outcry has been raised by owners of "now-existing tenements."

William J. Fryer was asked his opinion as to the desirability of the bill prepared by the tenement house commission amending the tenement house law being passed by the Legislature, and to give his views on the subject. He said: "I am not opposed to advanced requirements for apartment and tenement houses or any other kind of buildings. During twenty years past my efforts in connection with building laws have been in that direction. But I am opposed to harmful and unwise laws, to fool legislation. The tenement house act cannot be entirely wiped out, but it needs to be radically changed, and I am confident will be in due time. The amendments prepared by the tenement house commission are only piece-meal changes, many of them quite trivial. They are not sufficient, but so far as they go I favor them, except a few ridiculous changes, one of these being the requirement that fireproof structures shall be erected over water-closets in yards. The bill amends forty-four of the one hundred and twenty-five sections of the law, that is to say, one-third of the entire number. This is a confession of weakness. However, I am not in sympathy with those who declare that if the entire law cannot be amended properly they will agree to no piece-meal amendments. Some changes will come this year, more next year, still more the year after that, and ere long the law will be in practical shape.

"The proposed amendments relating to tenement houses hereafter erected in the bill, are few but very important. On a corner the building is to be allowed on the first story to extend back to the full depth of the lot; this is going back to the former law. A corner lot may be considered 50 feet in width, so far as the depth of yard behind a corner building is concerned. Courts for tenement houses may start at the level of the second story floor; this is again going back to the former law. These two or three changes alone will largely remove the embargo which the present law lays on building enterprises. The existing law made no provision for a triangular lot or a lot at the intersection of two streets at an acute angle any more than the former law provided for a lot running through a block and having two street frontages. This defect was pointed out a year ago, and an amendment now corrects it. Another amendment will relieve three-story tenement houses hereafter erected from fireproof halls and staircases; this is reverting to the former law. The extreme height for tenement houses hereafter erected is proposed to be placed at one and a-half times the width of the street, instead of one and a-third times; this means that such a building on a 60-foot cross-street can be built 90 feet in height instead of 80 feet, i. e., eight stories high instead of seven stories. Another amendment proposes that a non-fireproof tenement house, irrespective of its width, may be built six stories in height, instead of allowing such a height only when a non-fireproof tenement house has a frontage exceeding 40 feet as the existing law declares.

"As to existing tenement houses, the bill proposes many changes to the law for the better.

"One section of the existing law (34) which says that if any existing tenement house shall be damaged by fire to an amount greater than one-half of its value above the foundations, it shall not be repaired or rebuilt except in confomity with the new tenement house act, or if the stairs in any now-existing tenement house shall be damaged to an amount greater than one-half the value thereof, the entire stairs must be rebuilt fireproof and enclosed in brick walls—this entire section it is proposed to strike out. A good thing to do, but where did the pressure come from to effect this proposed change? From the occupants of tenement houses? From the builders? Oh, no, from none of these. It came from insurance companies and from loan companies, and it was heeded. A number of other proposed changes are to be commended, but to go over the entire bill and specifically point out what is good and what is bad or inadequate would occupy too much space.

"It would be churlish on my part not to acknowledge the general merits of the amendments to the existing tenement house law proposed in the tenement house commission's bill. The bill, if it becomes a law, as I hope it will, only slightly remedies the deplorable situation. A joint committee from both branches of the Legislature, as provided by a resolution already introduced in the Legislature, should be appointed to investigate the whole subject, including the charter provisions creating a tenement house department and the abolition of the Department of Buildings, during the coming summer months, and report back to the next Legislature in 1903 what measures of relief are just and proper."

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

In answer to your request as to my opinion of the proposed amendments to the Tenement House Law, as prepared by the Tenement House Commission, I would say that it fully bears out the stand taken by our League when the bill was proposed last March. The Commissioner now finds that fifty sections of the law require amendment. The most salient features of these amendments are: (1) Removal of the fireproof requirements for halls and stairs in a 3-sty house. Now, such a house may contain nine or twelve families, but the full rigor of the law is exacted for a 4-sty building which, with a single apartment on each floor, may contain only four families.

(2) The department now asks the privilege of using discretion as to what changes they would require in light shafts and courts of tenement houses already erected. Last year they condemned such a propostion absolutely for the reasons stated in the report of the Tenement House Commission.

(3) They now permit a non-fireproof building containing six stories to be built to a height not exceeding one-half more than the width of the street on which it faces, while if it should be made seven stories in the same height, it must be fireproof throughout—a trifle inconsistent.

(4) They now permit an entire lot, except yard, to be covered on the first floor, and the shafts started on the level of the second tier of beams, and this may be in a 6-sty building, and with no provision made for intakes of air at the foot of the shaft, while in a 3-sty building the intakes must be provided and the rigor of the law is exacted.

(5) They now permit corner lots, 50 feet wide, to be covered completely to the level of the second tier of beams in certain cases, while last year they said that it was unpardonable to cover the entire lot, as it interfered with the ventilation of the inside lots.

I might go further in the criticism, but the above is sufficient evidence of the improper manner in which they propose to tinker with the law, and the proposed amendments should certainly be looked upon with the gravest suspicion.

JOHN P. LEO, President,
The Builders' League of New York

*Mr. Leo is wrong in this. The provision he refers to applies to fireproof tenements; the bill does provide that non-fireproof tenements may be erected to the height of six stories.

TUNNEL FRANCHISES AND MOTIVE POWER—NUMEROUS MEASURES AFFECTING REALTY AND KINDRED INTERESTS.

This week was marked by the discussion of the Stranahan mortgage tax bill in the Senate, and the defeat of an amendment intended to kill the bill by striking out the enacting clause; the passage of what is known as the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.'s bill empowering New York City to grant tunnel franchises in perpetuity; and the hearing on Thursday on the Tenement House bills. Mayor Low now has the tunnel bill, and the bill increasing the powers of the Tax Department to remit or reduce taxes.

A measure likely to interest realty circles is one introduecd into the Assembly by Mr. Bennett, providing that the Governor shall appoint a commission of five persons to study in what way the State can best reform its system of recording titles to real property, so as to expedite and facilitate the same.

Assemblyman Bedell on Thursday introduced a bill requiring the railroad companies to use electricity as a motive power in the Park Avenue tunnel, but setting no specific date when the change must be made. Assemblyman Wainwright already has before the Railroad Committee a bill fixing a time limit after which the use of steam as a motive power in the tunnel is to be prohibited. Mayor Low has written to the Assembly asking that consideration of the bills be deferred until he has had time to confer with the railroad companies. He states that he is opposed to the Bedell bill, believing that some time limit should be named. He desires time to investigate, he says, before making up his mind on the Wainwright bill.

The Tenement House Commission's bill, to amend the Tenement House Act of last year, which was given in full in the last issue of the Record and Guide, was introduced into the Senate by Senator Stranahan, with introductory number 575, and into the Assembly by Mr. Kelsey, the introductory number of the bill in that chamber being 924.

The Ash bill, Assembly Intro. No. 847, has been introduced into the Senate by Senator Andett (Senate Intro. No. 525). This is the bill to take tenement houses of not more than 3 stories in height and occupied by not more than 6 families from the operation of the Tenement House Law.

Assemblyman Julius H. Seymour has taken charge of the United Real Estate Owners' Association's bill to secure that organization representation on the Board of Examiners. This bill (Introductory No. 920), if passed, would also carry for the Builders' League representation on the board and clarify the situation as to the pecuniary value of the subject of an appeal to the board: That is, whereas, the law at present provides that an appeal may be taken where the amount involved exceeds $1,000, the bill would provide that appeal would lie on any job the total cost of which exceeds $1,000. The North Side Board of Trade also sent up a bill giving the membership on the board.

Mr. Allds' (Assembly Introductory No. 898), putting the work of preparing drawings and contracts and the supervision of all state constructional work in the hands of the state architect.

Mr. Kelsey introduced into the Assembly (Introductory No. 879) Comptroller Grout's bill to change the due date for taxes in New York City from the first Monday in October to the first Monday in February, a detailed outline of which was also given in these columns last week.

Senator Slater has a bill, Introductory No. 571, to require that every conveyance of real estate must, to entitle the same to be recorded, set out the post-office address of the party to whom the conveyance is made, and must also have endorsed thereon the name and post-office address of the party at whose request the conveyance is recorded, which endorsement shall be part of the record.

Other important measures are the following:

Senator Slater's (Introductory No. 499), amending section 7 of the lien law, to provide that the burden of proving that advance payments are not made for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of the law, shall be upon the person making such payment.

Senator Foley's (Introductory No. 568), enabling commissioners of appraisal, in the matter of the New East River Bridge, to make separate reports.

Senator Trainor's (Introductory No. 549), authorizing the Dock Department to set apart a pier at or near the foot of West 22d st, for purposes of recreation.

Mr. J. A. Allen's (Assembly Introductory No. 848), laying out the block between 27th and 28th sts, 9th and 10th avs, as a public park; the property to be acquired and work to be done at the expense of the city, and without local assessment.

Mr. Marson's (Assembly Intro. No. 835), that in condemnation proceedings, where service of petition and notice is by publication, it shall be sufficient to publish the notice.

Fire Protection and Insurance Rating.

"So damned fireproof!"

Small wonder it was, if General Meigs was shocked by the pointed criticism of his construction of the Patent Office Building at Washington. It is well known that this building had been both designed and constructed by army officers who were engineers. General Meigs had full control of the construction, and when his work was completed, he was proud to escort the famous General Sherman through its spacious chambers, eagerly listening for some words of praise, but his guest was silent. General Meigs concealed his disappointment at hearing no outburst of commendation until they were about to leave the building, when he ventured to ask his brother officer for an expression of opinion upon his work.

General Sherman's Opinion.

"You have seen it all, General, but you have said nothing; what do you think of it?"

"Meigs, I have only one criticism to make;" and then Sherman hesitated. But Meigs, while concealing his elation at the fact that his friend had only one criticism to make, said: "Well, General, tell me frankly what your one criticism is."

"Well," replied Sherman, "I have, as I said, only one criticism to make, and that is, that the building is so damned fireproof."

When public buildings are built fireproof at the cost of architectural beauty, it is to be regretted. Such edifices, whether erected by government or state, should be monuments to be admired for their architectural design, besides being notable examples of fireproof construction.

The government has set up a noble example of the possibilities of fireproof construction allied with architectural completeness and beauty of design, and comparative economy, in the Congressional Library at Washington. This building is a grand success from the architect's standpoint, and on the score of fireprocfedness it is reputed to be as near perfect as can be. It measures about 10,000,000 cubic feet and cost the nation $6,000,000, or about 60 cents per cubic foot. The State House at Providence, Rhode Island, is another grand example of modern architecture, combined with usefulness and fireproof construction. We have not the dimensions at hand, but we have reliable information that the cost was about forty cents per cubic foot. Another specimen of a great fireproof structure, wherein the architect (Cass Gilbert) has produced a good design, is the new State Capital at St. Paul, Minnesota.

Some Government Examples.

As a rule, government and state carry their own risks, and, therefore, insurance companies have little to do with public buildings. This fact, however, should not prevent the encouragement of high standards of building construction by insurance interests. High ideals might surely be expected to be the outcome, and corporations, as well as individuals, with such encouragement would in the long run vie with each other in harmonizing the requirements of the underwriter with pretentions to architectural design and their ideas of economy. The requirements of the fire underwriter in building construction ought to form matter for serious consideration with the architect. In some instances they do, as also do the building laws. In some cases, however, it would appear that both buildings laws and demands of insurance underwriters have been evaded to some extent at least—hence the surprises we have from time to time in the burning of alleged "fireproof" buildings. The burning of the Armory and the Park Avenue Hotel only a week ago are notable examples of criminal negligence or gross ignorance, or both.

The Fire Underwriters' Demands.

The mere gathering in from the insurance companies of the sum for which the property is insured, however prompt they may be in payment, cannot be considered adequate compensation to the owner. If he is the originator of the building his safeguard ought to be in using materials which are vastly more durable than substances which cannot be classed as fireproof. If he does this in the first instance, he eliminates the elements of disintegration and increases the life of his building at least a hundred per cent. In addition to this he reduces his rate of insurance probably fifty per cent. The building laws do not altogether meet the case. Fireproof construction is quite as important as fireproof material, and every detail these include, ought to be made compulsory in the residence, the office building, the factory, the warehouse, the theatre or the church. If the building laws pay no heed to the architectural beauty of a construction, or its harmony with other structures of the city, by all means let them be complete in their provisions for the protection of human lives. The stipulations of the fire underwriter cannot be expected to do this, yet we have only to examine the cause of the appalling loss of life at the Park Avenue Hotel and find that compliance with the demands of the insurance underwriters might have saved it all. If fire chief Croker is reliable in his statements that there were not even fire-escapes, then we believe that parsimonious management is responsible.

True Economy in Building.

The fireproof schedule generally adopted by fire underwriters of New York City "is arranged for rating a fireproof building so that the initial rate will be that necessary to cover the wooden trim, plate glass decoration, floor boards and other combustible materials—the rate at this point (unoccupied building rate) approaching that for a non-fireproof building. It will receive a lower rate thereafter only in proportion as the insurance approaches the value, as will be seen by the table, and in proportion as the insurance actually covers the fireproof portion. A building, for example, which would rate 86 cents, with 20% of insurance, would rate 34.4 cents with 80% co-insurance. A fireproof building which would rate 116½ with 15% insurance would rate 29 cents with 80% co-insurance. With 15% insurance the company would be liable practically for the destructible portions of the building; with 80% of insurance it would be covering also bricks and mortar, iron beams, etc. It will be observed that the deduction for 80% co-insurance on one floor is 15% as compared with 30% deduction where the policy covers four or more floors." Stone treads to stairways are charged for, as they are considered serious faults, being found to succumb very readily to action of fire and water, and the result is equally dangerous where they are let into rabbets. In this case an iron staircase soon becomes full of holes and quite impassable to firemen or inmates. The building law of New York requires that iron treads shall be placed beneath the stone in every instance.

The Fireproof Schedule.

The underwriter's schedule takes particular care to designate between cast-iron, steel and wrought-iron columns, in accordance with the views of experts. It was conceded some time ago, at a convention of iron factors held in this city that cast iron was superior to wrought iron in the matter of rust, and possibly to steel. While wrought iron has been found to rust to the point of destruction, it has been demonstrated convincingly that cast iron would not rust to the point of danger. The matter of the disintegration of steel is too important to be considered seriously at present, but investigation has proved sufficient to show that even the steel which forms the framework of our mammoth structures needs protection from the action of the atmosphere. The writer has already advocated the use of lime as a preservative of iron or steel. Not mixed with cement, but pure lime. Proofs that lime will preserve iron are to be found in our Art Museum, and wherever iron has been discovered buried in limestone in any form. Our indefatigable friend, Edward Atkinson, is making deep researches, and we have no doubt that a flood of light will be thrown upon this important matter before long.

Unprotected Iron and Steel Columns.

The descriptions of "fireproof" building in the schedule which is termed "standard" is as follows: "Walls not less than 16 inches for the upper 25-feet portion, thence increasing 4 inches for each 25 feet to the bottom; not exceeding five thousand square feet of ground floor area; height not over eight stories; floor beams and girders to be supported by masonry. If 'skeleton' construction, floors carried entirely by framework. (Skeleton construction, while not so durable for weight-carrying purposes, and from a structural point of view, as the old-fashioned construction in which all the weights are carried by the brick or stone walls, is yet only little inferior for fire-resisting purposes, where the iron members are protected with incombustible materials.) Not to be occupied above seventh floor for storage of merchandise or other combustible material, whose burning would injure the ironwork. All iron beams, girders and pillars, or story posts, to be protected by approved fire-resisting material, except in office and hotel buildings, in which make half-charge for absence of covering. If wrought iron or steel is used in construction, that portion of the masonry in contact with the metal should be free from cement or plaster of Paris, and only lime mortar should be used. At least one stairway to be fireproof, with metal treads; stone treads, whether marble or slate, being dangerous."

The Standard Building.

In addition to a key rate based on the foregoing description, additional charges are added by the underwriter for deviations or differences from the building standard, as follows:

How to Estimate Insurance.

WALLS.—Skeleton Construction, wrought iron or steel columns or vertical supports (no charge for cast-iron), charge.....$.05

If average thickness of two side or bearing walls (or either of them) less than 20 inches, charge for each inch deficiency.... .02

If any portion of wall less than 12 inches, double the charge.

Stone Fronts or Side Walls or veneered with stone ashlar, charge for each if plain or "axed" finish .01; if carved or ornamental .... .02

Poor Bricks or poor quality mortar..... .20

UNPROTECTED IRON.—Charge as follows: For unprotected cast-iron columns .10; unprotected wrought-iron or steel columns .15; unprotected lower flanges of beams..... .02

One-half above charges in hotel or office buildings.

CEILING OR SHEATHING.—Wood or strawboard Ceiling, one story, not less than .01; each additional story ½ cent....

Wood or strawboard siding, one story, .01; each additional story ½ cent .....

5,000 sq. ft. to 10,000; charge for each 1,000 in excess of 5,000, ¼ of..... .01

If over 10,000 sq. ft., charge for each 1,000 in excess of 10,000 (not exceeding a total of .40)..... .04

If mercantile building exceeds ten stories, double area charge.

If building occupied exclusively above grade floor for offices or dwellings, no charge for area.

HEIGHT.—For each story over eight up to twelve, charge..... .01

For twelfth and each story over twelve up to fifteen..... .03

For fifteenth and each story over fifteen..... .10

If building occupied exclusively above grade floor for offices or dwellings, make one-fourth charge for height. Office buildings may be 10 stories without charge.

MERCHANDISE ABOVE 7TH FLOOR.—Charge .15 and add .02 more for each floor over seventh up to tenth, and .05 more for tenth and each floor above tenth. For example: an eleven-story building would have .29 added.

FLOORS.—Wooden Floor Boards laid solid on concrete without air space .10; with air space .15 (one-half charge in office buildings) .....

Floor Arches: If concrete, cement or approved plaster composition, with iron centres or supports (such as Metropolitan, Roebling, Expanded Metal, Fawcett, Columbian, Bailey, Guastavino) (no charge for brick or terra-cotta arches) ..... .10

If on exposed corrugated iron centres .15. If flat arch, supported on iron (such as Rapp)..... .20

If space between floor beams exceeds 5 ft., charge for each excess foot..... .02

One-half floor charges in office or hotel buildings.

ELEVATORS.—Not cut off according to standard, but in hallway or enclosed court, or if provided with automatic trap doors, charge ..... .06

Open..... .12

Wooden shaft (if approved metal covering half charge).. .15

For each additional elevator not cut off, add..... .02

One-third charge for elevators in office or hotel buildings.

STAIRWAYS. Enclosed in wood, lath and plaster hallway, or provided with automatic trap doors in floors..... .05

Enclosed in wood with self-closing doors, each floor.... .10

Open, charge not less than .01 each floor, not exceeding a total of ..... .12

If more than one stairway, charge for worst and add one-fourth charge for each additional. One-third charge for stairs in office or hotel buildings.

If elevator and stairway are combined in the same shaft or opening, only one charge for the two.

If at least one stairway is not fireproof with metal treads under stone treads (no charge for hardwood treads over iron), charge as many times .02 as building has floors (one-third charge for office building). If stairway in fireproof hall or enclosure protecting treads from heat, one-half final charge.

WELL-HOLES.—Add for each floor pierced, not less than..... .03

No charge in office or hotel buildings.

CHUTES, DUMB-WAITERS, VENT. SHAFTS (unless fireproof shaft), and small floor openings.—For each floor pierced, not less in each case than..... .02

No charge for steam or water pipes if space around the same is filled in with mineral wool, or other incombustible material, and properly arranged to prevent draughts and leakage.

SKYLIGHTS.—If of thin glass (less than ½-inch), or if unprotected wooden frames, charge for each 9 sq. ft. in excess of 9 sq. ft. (not exceeding a total of .10)..... .01

If skylight is monitor style, charge for square feet in sides as well as top. If protected above and below with approved wire netting, or if ¼-inch glass, one-half charge.

Same charge for floor lights less than ¾ inches thick.

STREET.—If street on which building fronts is less than 60 ft. wide, but over 50..... .02

If under 50 ft., add for each 5 ft. less..... .02

WIRES.—Overhead to interfere with fire dept., not less than ½ cent.

TENANTS.—Each in excess of one, exclusive of office and dwelling tenants ..... .01

If manufacturing risk add .01 for every 10 operatives employed in excess of 20 (not exceeding a total of .10 in risks where first column charge does not exceed .25. In wood-working and other hazards where first column charge exceeds .25, double the charge, but total not to exceed .25).

LIGHTING.—Electricity, approved, add..... .01

STONE PIERS.—Stone columns, pillars, or brick piers with bond stones, especially supporting beams or girders in basements, etc., charge according to number, not less than..... .02

DEDUCTIONS FOR EXCEPTIONAL CONSTRUCTION.

Auxiliary private fire plant, force pump, etc.....	10

The Frame Mercantile Building.

The standard frame building is described "as one which does not exceed two stories in height, with a ground floor area not exceeding one thousand square feet—say, 25x50. The building itself and all buildings should rest on substantial foundations of brick or stone laid below frost line. The side walls should be of clapboard finish in substantial hardwood studdings, either filled in with brick between studs or with back-plastering on inside of outside sheathing between studs. (These two forms of finish are usually intended as non-conductors of heat, and as a protection against the weather, but they are also admirable provisions for preventing the rapid spread of fire, particularly when in connection with mortar fire stops, which cut off drafts from floor to floor.) If the building is veneered with brick, or sheathed with metal—tin or corrugated iron—five per cent. is deducted. Wooden side walls should be painted with good fire-resisting paint. Roof should be of metal or tile, or shingles laid in mortar."

The basis rate for the foregoing is four times the key rate of city, not exceeding a total of 160. The additions for deviations from a standard building are as follows:

FOUNDATIONS.—If on wooden posts, 25 cents.

ROOF.—Ordinary pine, cypress or cedar not laid in mortar, add 15 cents; ordinary pine, cypress or cedar laid in mortar, 5 cents; redwood, not laid in mortar, 10 cents; basswood laid in mortar, 30 cents; basswood, not laid in mortar, 50 cents; composition or gravel, 3 cents; slate, 5 cents.

CEILING.—Wood or strawboard, etc., each story, 5 cents (if side walls 5 cents additional); if cloth, 25 cents each story.

AREA.—(Ground floor).....ft. x.....ft., total.....sq. ft.—For each 1,000 sq. ft., or fraction in excess of 1,000 sq. ft., charge 10 cents.

HEIGHT.—For third story, charge 10 cents; for fourth story, 25 cents; for fifth and each additional story, 50 cents.

(These charges cumulative, for example, a five-story building, should have 85 cents added.)

HEATING.—Furnace, 5 cents; stoves, 3 cents. (No charge if charge has been made for furnace); stovepipe, through hollow partition or floor protected, each passage, 2 cents; stovepipe, through floors or partition, not protected, 50 cents; stovepipe through window, roof or wall, protected by double metal chimney, 50 cents; pipe through window, etc., not protected, 100 cents; stovepipe entering bottom flue vertically, 25 cents; stovepipe entering flue in attic, etc., 25 cents; natural gas or oil for fuel, 5 cents.

CHIMNEY.—Not built from ground, each 10 cents; resting on attic floor beam or roof joist, 25 cents; poor bricks or mortar, 25 cents; terra-cotta or cement, 50 cents.

STREET.—If street on which building fronts is inaccessible, unpaved, etc., not less than 10 cents. (No charge if no fire department); less than 60 ft. wide, over 50, 5 cents (unless opposite side vacant); under 50 ft., for each 5 ft., 5 cents.

OVERHEAD TELEGRAPH WIRES.—On poles, front of building, sufficient to interfere with fire department, not less than 2 cents.

NUMBER OF TENANTS.—Each, in excess of one, exclusive of office and dwelling tenants, 2 cents.

WEATHER BOARDING.—If side walls not clapboard or shingled, but "balloon" frame or board finish, from 25 to 50 cents.

CONDITION.—If not in good condition, not well painted, etc., from 5 cents to 25 cents.

AGE OF BUILDING.—If over fifteen years, charge according to condition, not less than 5 cents.

LIGHTING.—If by kerosene or electricity, system and installation in compliance with unlerwriters' rules, 2 cents.

DEDUCTIONS FOR EXCEPTIONAL CONSTRUCTION.

	Per cent.
If oak or other hardwood, frame.....	3
If back-plaster is between studs.....	10
If filled in with brick.....	15
If fire-resisting paints on side walls and roof.....	3
For metallic lathing	10
If brick is veneered.....	15
If ironclad or covered with metal—tin, corrugated iron, or metallic shingles	5

The charges on construction which is acknowledged non-fireproof are more numerous than the foregoing illustrations of the fire underwriters' methods of arriving at a fair rate of insurance upon buildings alleged to be fireproof. These charges are to be found in the Universal schedule with other matter which, while interesting to the insurer, are not necessary to this article. The general allowances for fire apparatus are as follows:

DEDUCTIONS FOR FIRE APPLIANCES.

	Per cent.
One hydrant supplied by 8-inch water main, within 300 ft...	5
Two or more hydrants (8-inch), main within 300 ft.....	10

Not a Monopoly After All.

The news of the reorganization of the National Fireproofing Co., of Pittsburg, Pa., with a capitalization of $12,500,000, which was telegraphed to certain newspapers last week, including the Record and Guide, we find needs considerable correction.

The name of Henry Maurer, of Maurer, N. J., was included among the manufacturers of fireproofing product in the combine without the least authority for so doing, as will be seen from the following letter:

New York, February 27, 1902.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir: With relation to a notice published in the Record and Guide of February 22d, referring to a fireproofing consolidation, wherein we find our name mentioned as about to be absorbed in connection with one, the National Fireproofing Company of Pittsburg.

We beg to emphatically deny that this is so! Such an assertion is entirely unauthorized by us.

We trust you will give this refutal equal prominence with the report above referred to. Yours truly,

HENRY MAURER & SON.

The following letter on the same subject is also called out by the "monopoly" claim made for the National Fireproofing Co.

New York, February 25, 1902.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir: In your issue of Feb. 22d, you allow a statement to be made that the fireproofing interests are now in the hands of a monopoly. As this is not so, I am sure you will permit me to contradict it.

My business is owned and controlled by John W. Rapp. Furthermore, appearances do not indicate that the concern mentioned in your worthy paper has any monopoly of the fireproofing business. I hold some of the largest contracts in this city, to wit: the Mount Sinai Hospitals, and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.'s buildings, and have no reason to complain of the business I am doing in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston, Washington and the principal cities of this country.

Yours truly, JOHN W. RAPP.

Fireproof or Not Fireproof.

The word "fireproof" has caused unusual enquiry as to its real application during the past week. So many things have been declared to be "fireproof" from time to time, and then found wanting when the test has come, that it is not to be wondered at, if the untechnical public are sceptical as to its reality.

They read of fireproof wood, fireproof paper, fireproof paint, fireproof curtains, in fact "fireproof" is connected with almost everything of a combustible nature, and the people, not caring or having the time to consider the truth of the application of this most important word, either ignore it altogether or accept it implicitly.

The Park Avenue Hotel is the most recent awful example of the blind faith we refer to. Some fireproof building materials used according to old methods of construction had been used in that building, and the owner and his guests seem to have been satisfied in their ignorance of what in present practice is regarded as "fireproof." In the face of twentieth century invention and enlightenment on the subject of fireproof construction and protection, such unprotected construction ought not to be classed as fireproof.

"Fireproof" ought to mean what it says: Proof against fire, and ought never to have any other meaning. Things which are designated as fireproof in order to make them sell ought to be denounced. Life and property are too sacred to be at the mercy of a misapplied term. The word no doubt in some instances is used without intent to deceive and without due thought. Undoubtedly there are chemicals which will render some things temporarily flame proof. A solution of phosphate of ammonia will render almost any fabric, including lace curtains, proof against flame.

Brick, however, has been proved time and again as the prince of building materials and there can be no question as to its being the basis of the highest class of fireproof material known to-day. Experiment with the elements of this material has evolved what is known as terra-cotta; and by its admixture with other matter we have what is called porous terra-cotta, which is the nearest approach to the original brick to-day. By the porousness or elasticity of this material, or its power to withstand intense heat followed by sudden cooling by water we have an almost perfect fireproof composition which cannot well be over-estimated.

Concrete is still another material invaluable in fireproofing. It is made of various mixtures, but the chief ingredients are: Portland cement, broken fire brick, slag and coke-breeze or cinders.

Though somewhat new in the field as a fire retardant, though not fireproof, wire glass is worthy of especial attention. A windows to elevator shafts, skylights or in any exposed place where light is required, this product has already prevented many losses from fire, and will undoubtedly prevent many more in accordance with its persistent use. Mounted in steel frames and adapted to the protection of buildings fireproof in other respects, overlooking roofs or mutual areas it is invaluable.

In the construction of a building intended to be fireproof, the principal thing is to omit the introduction of all combustible material. We know we can build the walls of non-combustible material and as for flooring—there are several flooring conbinations on the market which are fireproof and durable. With exquisite tiles, and a number of other materials which will not readily burn there ought to be little difficulty in this advanced age, in building fireproof without losing anything in the way of external or internal ornament.

The building which is to be really fireproof must have all its constructive members amply protected by one or more of the fire-resisting materials which have been approved by the fire underwriters. The outer roof should be made proof against possible flying sparks; elevator shafts built of porous terra cotta; the openings of doors of elevators should be metal lined and made to close automatically. Such an elevator would provide means of safety to guests as nothing else would. Even old residents seldom think of the stairs of the hotel under any circumstances, but always go for the elevator through sheer force of habit.

The penalties for defective fireproof construction imposed by insurance underwriters are so great in many instances that architects are in duty bound to consider them in their clients' interests. The tax imposed becomes a considerable factor on large amounts of capital.

In conclusion, let us not forget that smoke is almost as potent a danger to life as flame is to property. Many of the lives lost in the Park Avenue Hotel fire were lost through smoke from the burning wood work in the elevator shaft and openings. This is a problem in itself, but we have little doubt that it will be solved when buildings are really constructed with absolutely fireproof materials and designed so as not to be huge chimneys or artfully arranged firetraps.

Coming Auction Sales.

Peter F. Meyer makes announcement in our business pages of the coming sale, on 11th inst., of three important and valuable parcels. The first of these is the modern bachelor-apartment house, the Pierrepont, on West 32d st, a 12-sty fireproof building, containing up-to-date operating plants and every modern convenience for tenants. It stands on a plot about 59x99, and is exceptionally well located for its purpose. The second parcel is a large fireproof store and loft building, known as Nos. 209, 211 and 213 East 23d st, equipped with freight and passenger elevators, electric light, steam heat, etc. The third parcel is the large elevator apartment house, located on the northeast corner of Lexington av and 73d st, on plot 102.2x51. Book-maps and further particulars may be obtained in Room 1,842, No. 25 Broad st, and at the auctioneer's office, No. 111 Broadway. Title Guarantee and Trust Co. will guarantee titles.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. (Incorporated) will sell, in partition, on Tuesday, the modern 7-sty apartment house, located on the northwest corner of Broadway and 99th st. The building contains 13 apartments and two stores, and is furnished with all modern requirements. Maps may be had of the auctioneers, at No. 73 Liberty st, and dimensions and other particulars will be found in the advertisement of the sale on another page of this issue.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

William E. Finn has sold to the John W. Stevens Building Co. the Colonnade Hotel property, at No. 726 Broadway, and the adjoining property known as "The Old London Street." The whole fronts 120.10 on Broadway, and extends 275 feet to Lafayette place, where it has a frontage of 135 feet. Mr. Finn bought the plot early in the month for close to $1,000,000, and since December last this is the third Broadway parcel which he has bought and resold, the others being No. 543 Broadway and No. 682 Broadway.

E. A. Cruikshank & Co. have sold for Woodbury Langdon and the Mitchell estate Nos. 36 to 42 Broadway, extending through to New st. S. H. Gardyne Stewart, of Stewart & Co., bankers, is the buyer. The plot fronts 115.9 on Broadway, 115.3 on New st, has a northerly line of 174.5 and a southerly line of 197.7. The plot contains 21,483 square feet, and in the reports has figured at $200 a square foot, which is much more than it is worth, and than it actually sold for. It has been in the market, together with Nos. 44 to 50, which includes the Tower Building, at $110 a square foot, and sold for very near that figure. At $110 the price for the plot sold would be $2,363,130, which is very near the price obtained. In 1893, Nos. 32 to 42 were sold; the title, however, never passed. That plot contained 33,016 square feet, and the price agreed upon was $57.55 a square foot. With the exception of the small plot containing only 1,899 square feet at the northeast corner of Broadway and Beaver st, and which sold at $131.12 a square foot, this is the highest price per foot paid for any property on Broadway, south of Exchange place. John J. Astor paid $52.31 per square foot in 1883 for the southeast corner of Broadway and Exchange place, containing 19,115 square feet. It was on this bid that Supreme Court Justice Keogh ordered the recent sale of the property to Frank Farrell for $218,000 to be set aside on the ground that the price was inadequate. The track will be used for amateur matinee racing, to be conducted by the association recently formed within the Road Drivers' Association of this city. The track was built by the late W. F. Clark, former corporation counsel, at a cost of $800,000. Many improvements had been made on the property, and when Mr. Farrell secured it at the low price mentioned charges of conspiracy were made.

An Assembly bill (Introductory No. 828), provides for the recovery of moneys paid, with interest, on assessments for improvements which have been, since Jan. 1st, 1868, or may be hereafter annulled, for any cause. In cases of assessments heretofore annulled action is to be begun within one year from the passage of this bill, and in future cases within one year of the filing of the judgment, decree or order on appeal.

The St. Lorenz Hotel, formerly the Abingdon Square, No. 2 8th av, was transferred twice last week, first to Van Loan Smith, who bought at a foreclosure sale on Jan. 14th, at $61,100. There was over $56,210 due the Citizens' Savings Bank on the mortgage foreclosed, plus $1,288 due for taxes. The bank took back a mortgage of $45,000 at 4½%, against a mortgage of $53,000 at 5%, which they accepted in part payment when they sold the property in June, 1900, they having acquired the hotel in 1899, when over $77,000 was due them, plus over $4,000 for taxes. The second sale, to Morris B. Goldberger, was negotiated by Kahn & Baumann. Mr. Goldberger now runs a hotel at No. 75 Clarkson st, and will hereafter manage the St. Lorenz.

Evidence of activity in dealings in flats, tenements, and small properties generally, is shown when the dealings of one firm of busy operators for the month of February are noted. Cohen & Glauber, of No. 35 Nassau st, bought Nos. 1657, 1735 and 1737 Madison av, 5-sty tenements, with all improvements; No. 149 East 116th st, a 4-sty dwelling; 82 and 84 East 110th st, a plot 42x100.11, ready for improvement; No. 141 Broome st, a 4-sty single flat, and 128 Cherry st, a 5-sty tenement. They sold Nos. 15 and 17 Lewis st, 5-sty tenements, and No. 47 Gouverneur st, a 4-sty single flat. During the same period they leased for a term of years the tenements No. 200 East Houston st, No. 95 1st st, No. 282 Madison st, and No. 233 2d st. Telephone 4481 calls Cohen & Glauber. Max Cohen and Emanuel Glauber comprise the firm.

MORTGAGE LOAN STATISTICS.

A grand total of $83,036,436 was loaned on mortgage during the years 1899, 1900 and 1901, by the Title Guarantee and Trust Co. Over 23 millions were loaned in 1899, more than 24 millions in 1900, and over 35 millions last year, an increase in 1901 of more than 50 per cent over 1899. Of the grand total over 66 per cent., or $54,831,570, was loaned on Manhattan property, and over 33 per cent., or $28,204,866, on Brooklyn realty. It is interesting to note that the average amount of the Manhattan mortgages increased from $21,220 per mortgage in 1899 to $23,954 in 1900, and $28,921 per mortgage in 1901. A few weeks ago we gave the figures, showing how the average cost per new building planned increased from less than $26,000 in 1899 to $29,000 in 1900, and $48,000 in 1901. Figures were also given relative to the increase shown in the average amount involved in the conveyances, despite the largely increased number in which no price is given. The average price per conveyance increased from $17,800 in 1900 to $21,900 in 1901., There was a total of $353,025,870 loaned on mortgage in New York, Bronx and Brooklyn Boroughs during 1901, so that the $35,035,882 loaned last year by the Title Guarantee and Trust Co. represents about ten per cent of all the mortgages made.

Thomas A. Kerrigan had a successful sale of the six Willoughby av dwellings, on Thursday, all being disposed of at satisfactory prices. The results are given in the auction sales column of this issue.

The estate of Norman L. Monroe have sold to F. C. Edwards No. 109 Montague st, a 4-sty brick flat with store, 25x80x100.

No. 1170 Dean st, a 3½-sty brick and stone dwelling, on lot 20x95, has been sold by the Eagle Savings and Loan Co. to Edward M. Barlow, and resold by the latter.

A. H. Bailey has sold No. 451 Washington av, a 3-sty brownstone dwelling with 2-sty extension, on lot 20x120.

The Wilhelms Realty Co., of Brooklyn, was incorporated this week with a capital of $25,000, and with Charles R. Smith, Charles Wilhelms and R. L. Sackett as directors.

Questions and Answers.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A broker sells a piece of property on which there is a mortgage of $35,000 for $42,500. (1) Does the law allow him to charge full commission on the full amount? If so, it does not seem just. (2) Does the administrator of the estate get commission on the full amount or only on the $7,500 over the mortgage in above sale?

Answer: (1) Yes. (2) The executor or administrator of an estate gets commission only on the amount of money which passes through his hands.—Law Editor.

COVENANT NOT TO ASSIGN LEASE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Would you kindly enlighten us on the following question? A claims that he can sublet his lease to any desirable tenant, even though the owner stipulates therein "that this lease is not to be assigned or transferred without the written consent of the owner." What recourse would an owner have, providing lease with the covenant were transferred without his written consent?

Answer: The landlord cannot have summary proceedings to recover the demised premises. If there is nothing more in the lease about "assigning or transferring, etc.," than you set forth, the landlord can have only his action for damages for the breach of the covenant. If there is a provision for re-entry or forfeiture in the event of a breach of the covenant, the landlord may have an action of ejectment if the covenant is broken. "These covenants are liberally construed in favor of the lessee so as to avoid a forfeiture. * * * A covenant not to assign is not broken by an underletting." (McAdam on Landlord and Tenant, 2d Edition, page 172.)—Law Editor.

MORTGAGED FOR FULL VALUE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please answer the following questions and oblige a reader. A has a piece of property deeded to him with a first mortgage on it; for about full value, and which was put on by previous owner. Six months' interest becoming due about two months later is paid by A. Before the interest becomes due again A discovers the property is not paying for itself and declines to pay any attention to the notice received from B (the mortgagee) that the interest is due, and leaves B, the holder of the mortgage, to foreclose. Can B get a judgment against A for the difference if the property does not bring the amount to satisfy the mentioned mortgage? A is on no bond.

Answer: B cannot recover a judgment for the deficiency unless A, when he bought the property, assumed the payment of the mortgage.—Law Editor.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please inform me if a tenant that is supposed to have a verbal lease can be dispossessed as an undesirable tenant with a five days' notice?

Answer: You do not give me facts enough so that I can answer you definitely. A tenant can be dispossessed for statutory cause whether his lease is verbal or written.—Law Editor.

THREE CENTS A DAY FOR A COMPLETE SYSTEM OF REAL ESTATE RECORDS!

Ten dollars for a complete system and set of real estate records alphabetically and numerically arranged, printed and ready for as easy reference as a word in the dictionary, is an interesting proposition for everyone who has anything to do with real estate operations.

It is possible for every real estate man to equip his office with the most perfect and handiest system of real estate records at a nominal cost.

This service is supplied to all subscribers of "The Record & Guide Quarterly"—a publication issued every three months. The fourth number annually is an issue containing all the records for the entire year arranged alphabetically and numerically. The subscription price is ten dollars a year.

Those who are not subscribers should investigate the advantages of this publication. All other systems of records are needlessly cumbersome and unnecessarily expensive. Start the new year with "The Record & Guide Quarterly." The annual number for 1901 is now ready for delivery, and we will send you this number with the following three quarterly numbers for ten dollars, less than three cents a day for a complete set of real estate records.

Drop a postal card to the offices of publication Nos. 14, 16 Vesey Street, or telephone 3157 Cortlandt, and we will gladly show you the publication and explain to you its uses as a time-saver and money-maker.

The World of Building

Material Market.

With the exception of iron and steel there is no branch of the building material market which can honestly boast of any great rush of orders. With one or two exceptions, the supply in every direction appears to be quite equal, if not superior, to the demand. The demand for the rebuilding of Paterson is not yet much in evidence, but the recent snow storm is blamed for the tardiness of buyers during the past week. Prices remain generally the same, and advances are not immediately in prospect.

The demand for pig iron is exceptional, but the rumors of a dearth of supplies appears to be without strong foundation. Stocks of pig iron at furnaces are fast decreasing, and on Feb, 1st amounted to only 154,200 tons. The stock a year ago at the same time was 556,764 tons. Consumers find it difficult to place orders at any price for delivery before July 1st, and it is freely stated that prices would have been advanced five or six dollars per ton, had it not been that there was a general desire to conserve Southern companies' prices. There is no doubt that rumors of scarcity of iron have arisen through the difficulty of obtaining coke for many of the furnaces, which have been compelled to shut down in consequence.

Undoubtedly many consumers have placed orders far ahead, and after all there will in all probability be iron enough throughout the year to supply all demands.

Steel and Iron.—The demand for steel and iron bars continues firm, and orders are being booked ahead. The business in sheets is good, and the mills are making prompt deliveries, but are prepared for an increased demand which they anticipate with the opening of spring. Soft steel bars are quoted at $2.00 to $2.10 for ordinary sizes. Tool steel is quoted at $7.00 for regular quality and $13.00 for extra quality.

At the New York Metal Exchange we learned that there is a strong demand for scrap material from foreign markets. Some sales of old steel rails were reported at $19.50 per gross ton delivered.

Lumber.—There is a fair demand for all grades of lumber, and in some instances supplies are short. Hemlock is much sought after, and prices remain firm. North and South Carolina pine are in active demand, and good prices maintained. Some fair orders have also been placed for cypress during the past week.

The lumber trade may be interested to learn that a charter was granted at Raleigh, N. C., on the 26th, to the Pencardan Lumber Manufacturing Co., of Lenoir, Caldwell Co., with a capital of $3,000,000. The Union Lumber Company has also increased its capitalization from $50,000 to $125,000.

Window Glass.—The National Window Glass Jobbers' Association expects to have an early meeting after March 1st, when a reduction of prices will be one of the most important matters for consideration. At present there is nothing new to report. The demand in anticipation of building activity with the dawn of fine weather is not unusually large, and for the present prices and discounts remain the same as last quoted. The squabble between the Independent Glass Co. and the American Window Glass Co. still continues, and probably will to the advantage of the jobbers. A report has come from Pittsburg that more than half of the Jobbers' Association's members have refused to take any part of their quota of a recent 500,000 box order placed with the American Company. This move, it is said, is due to the fact that glass can be bought cheaper from the Independent Co., and also the French and Belgian plants. Two hundred men are thrown out of employment by the closing of the North American and Wheaton window glass plants at Millville, N. J. The men wanted an advance of 15 per cent. on their wages. It is expected, however, that an arrangement will be quickly arrived at, as in the case of the window glass plants at Bridgeton, Swedesboro, and Vineland, N. J., which have both settled similar disputes with employees during the past week.

Some instances of price-cutting by jobbers have been reported to us, but we are unable to verify these as we go to press. One reason for the cut given is the importation of cheaper foreign-made goods. This glass comes through the West, and one jobber estimates that the imports of the next two months will be larger than ever before at the same time of the year.

Brick, Cement, Lime, etc.—At the Brick Manufacturers' Agents' Exchange this week there was very little doing. Mr. W. K. Hammond said he put it down to the sudden snow storm, and did not think the visit of Prince Henry had tended to interfere with the general run of business. "The opening up of navigation and coming of fine 'building' weather," said Mr. Hammond, "will make a vast difference in business with brick men. Nevertheless, we should like a little more activity just now, and are well able to meet it."

At the Building Material Exchange we found that there was no unusual activity. Sellers were more in evidence than buyers. Prices quoted were same as last week for cement and lime. Eastern spruce lath was not urgently seeking orders, even at $4.25, because supplies were short. Cement and lime dealers seemed well contented with the present outlook, the general opinion being that there would be no lack of demand in two or three weeks, when the winter might be considered passed. The brick trade may be interested to learn of a new brick, which is about to be manufactured in Indiana. This new brick is said to be as hard as fieldstone, and made in any shade or any design, and can be used in the erection of buildings having claim to artistic finish. Cement, sand and other ingredients enter into the makeup of this new product, and it will be placed upon the market at $8.00, while the ordinary press brick sells from $10.00 to $12.00 per thousand. The first of these bricks have been produced at Mishawaka, Ind., by hydraulic presses, and are said to be highly satisfactory.

Paints, Oils, etc.—Prices are firm, but the demand is not by any means brisk. "Those who are placing orders now," said a representative manufacturer, "are not doing so for their immediate use, but for future use, in anticipation of big demand and advanced prices in the spring."

Hardware.—The demand for builders' hardware is considered ordinarily active for the time of the year; nevertheless, the manufacturers have all they can do to keep up with orders, and in some lines they are overtaxed. Notwithstanding the activity, prices remain firm, and there are few changes except in the way of revision.

Nails, etc.—The market for wire nails is strong, and store demand exceeds supplies. Prices are quoted at $2.25 to $2.30 per keg from store. The demand for cut nails is fair, and prices are quoted at $2.20 per keg from store.

The building trades are notified that the business of the late John J. Tucker will be continued by his sons under the name of John J. Tucker & Sons, at the old address, 37 West 12th st.

Building News.

MERCANTILE.

Henry Ives Cobb, No. 1 Wall st, is drawing plans for a 20-sty brick and stone (fireproof) office building, to be erected at Nos. 36, 38, 40, 42 Broadway, for the syndicate represented by S. H. G. Stewart, No. 115 Broadway.

George H. Pigueron, No. 1920½ Park av, will probably erect a 6-sty loft building at Nos. 23 and 25 Lispenard st, on plot 50x100. F. C. Zobel, No. 41 West 24th st, was his architect in a similar operation.

The John W. Stevens Building Co. are drawing plans for a 10-sty fireproof store and loft building, which they will erect at No. 543 Broadway, extending through to No. 114 Mercer st, on lot 25x200; also for a similar building which they will erect at No. 682 Broadway, southeast corner of Great Jones st, lot 29x130. William E. Finn, who sold them the lot, makes a building loan of $80,000 on No. 543 Broadway. It is also reported that they will erect a similar building on the site of the Old London Street, and Colonnade Hotel, which have a frontage of 120.10 on Broadway, and extend 275 feet to Lafayette place, where the frontage is 135 feet.

William T. Mapes, De Milt av, Wakefield, N. Y. City, is drawing plans for a 1½-sty frame stable, 30x50, to be erected at the corner of Railroad av and Mechanic st, for the Lorillard Refrigerator Co., No. 1168 Broadway; it will have 8 stalls, and cost $3,000.

APARTMENTS, FLATS AND TENEMENTS.

The White estate have decided to build a 10-sty hotel at the northwest corner of 37th st and Broadway, which will be used as an addition to the Hotel Navarre, at the southwest corner of 38th st and 7th av. The building will front 100 feet on 7th av and probably 250 feet on 37th st; the street end will include a theatre, which will be leased, and for which there are a number of bidders. Barney & Chapman, who drew the plans for the original Navarre, will probably be the architects for the new building.

Harry T. Howell, northeast corner of 138th st and Brook av, is drawing plans for a 5-sty brick and stone flat with stores, 25x65, to be erected on the southeast corner of Jennings st and Christopher st, for Kirk & Graham, owners.

Schmeidler & Bachrach, No. 31 Nassau st, will build at Nos. 322 and 324 West 11th st, from plans by Oscar Lowinson, No. 39 Cortlandt st, a 6-sty tenement with stores, three families on floor, on irregular plot, 45.6x58.10, x48x60, brick construction; estimated cost, $32,000.

Sass & Smallheiser, No. 23 Park row, are drawing plans for a 6-sty brick and stone (non-fireproof) flat, 42.4x92, to be erected on the north side of 18th st, 100 west 3d av, to cost $30,000; Mishkind & Feinberg, No. 83 East 7th st, owners and builders.

For plans filed see pages 582 and XI.

DWELLINGS.

A. De Saldern, No. 130 Broadway, is drawing plans for a 2½-sty frame cottage, 20x61, to be erected at Loring pl, to cost $5,000; S. Caplin is the owner.

Welch, Smith & Provot, No. 11 East 42d st, are drawing plans for a 3-sty brick and stone (non-fireproof) dwelling and store, 40x80, to be erected at Nos. 236-238 West 40th st; J. Weber, No. 213 West 42d st, owner; cost, $20,000.

Charles Glenn, who has just purchased the plot, 51.1x100.8, on the north side of 89th st, 178.11 feet east of 5th av, will erect thereon two 5-sty American basement dwellings, for which Joseph Hamershlag makes him a building loan of $50,000.

ALTERATIONS.

P. F. Brogan, No. 119 East 23d st, is drawing plans for general interior alterations to store, at No. 131 West 23d st, to cost $5,000; George W. Connell, No. 227 West 70th st, is the owner.

William T. Mapes, De Milt av, Wakefield, N. Y. City, is drawing plans for a 2-sty frame addition, 50x50, to factory, at the corner of Railroad av and Mechanic st, which will be used for varnish and tin shop, and cost $7,500; Lorillard Refrigerator Co., No. 1168 Broadway, are the owners.

Sobel & Kean, No. 400 East 74th st, will be ready for estimates next week for the general alteration of three 3-sty brick flats with stores, at the northwest corner of 3d av and 75th st, on plot 102x120.

A new front and 4-sty rear extension will be added to the 4-sty and basement dwelling, No. 34 East 63d st, by Frank C. Hollins, who bought the property recently. H. Edwards Ficken is the architect.

Frank M. Wright, No. 503 5th av, is drawing sketches for interior alterations to store at No. 508 5th av, for John S. Huyler, No. 64 Irving pl and No. 863 Broadway.

No. 473 5th av, alteration of dwelling to store and loft building; estimated cost, $15,000; Lionel Moses, architect, 156 5th av; Schultz, Dowling & Butler, lessees, 431 5th av.

ESTIMATES RECEIVABLE.

Charles Fall, No. 112 14th st, Hoboken, is taking estimates for nine 2-sty and attic frame dwellings, 22x50, to be erected at Oak st, West Hoboken, N. J., to cost $50,000.

Estimates are being taken for the general interior and exterior alterations to the 5-sty brick and stone (non-fireproof) dwelling, 25x68, at No. 133 East 62d st, for Robert McA. Lloyd, No. 100 Broadway; Foster, Gade & Graham, No. 281 4th av, are the architects.

BROOKLYN.

Edward Chestresmith, No. 60 Broadway, N. Y. City, is preparing sketches for a 2½-sty frame dwelling, 34x36, to be erected at Sea Gate, to cost $4,500; Joseph Reshower, care architect, owner.

Sass & Smallheiser, No. 23 Park row, are drawing plans for a 4-sty brick flat, 40x90, to be erected on the southwest corner of Stuyvesant av and Kosciusko st, to cost $28,000; Balleisen & Wexler, No. 170 McKibbon st, Brooklyn, are the owners.

COUNTRY WORK OF NEW YORK ARCHITECTS.

Bristol, Conn.—George Palliser Co., incorporated, 32 Park place, has drawn plans for frame church, on plot 40x50, Gothic design, open timber roof, stained glass windows; Lutheran Kirche, Bristol.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

C. H. Southard, dealer in second-hand building materials, with yards at 9th av, 14th to 15th st, has the contract to demolish the St. Cloud Hotel, Broadway and 42d st, and will commence work next Monday.

The New York Ophthalmic and Aural Institute, now located at Nos. 44 and 46 East 12th st, will erect a new building at the north corner of Central Park West and 64th st, a plot 100x150, which they have just purchased. Charles T. Barney and Miss Alice Duke signed the contract of purchase. The officers of the institution are William A. Wheelock, president; William Howe, secretary; and William Salomon, treasurer.

The final report of the United States Industrial Commission submitted to Congress states that, as nearly as the United States Department of Labor can reach the facts, the aggregate loss of wages to employees, as the result of labor disputes, in the twenty years from 1881 to 1900, inclusive, was no less than $306,683,223, or a little over $15,000,000 annually. The loss to employers during the same period from a similar cause is placed at $141,659,104, or rather less than one-half the amount lost by the striking workers. Adding these two losses together, it will be seen that the aggregate loss on account of strikes in the twenty years covered by the statistics quoted, amounts to nearly $450,000,000, or an average of about $22,500,000 annually, or nearly $2,000,000 a month.

A handsome vest pocket diary for 1902 issued by the John P. Kane Co. contains much information valuable to busy men, including population of important cities of the U. S., foreign trade as shown by value of imports and exports for nearly 30 years, rules for computing interest, tables of weights and measures, and Weather Bureau explanation of flag signals. The diary also contains what is equally important to contractors, builders and architects, a synopsis of the merits of "Trowel" Brand Portland Cement, which has been largely used under rigid inspection and test, without the rejection of a single barrel, on such important works as the Manhattan Elevated R. R. Co., Metropolitan Traction Co., Mt. Sinai Hospital, Consolidated Subway; Union Subway, asphalt works (under approval of the Department of Highways), Departments of Docks and Ferries, U. S. Government (Army and Navy), N. Y. public schools, fire houses, police stations, public library and Riverside Viaduct, and in foundations of many commercial and residential buildings throughout the city. "Trowel" Brand Portland cement is manufactured near Catskill, N. Y., less than 100 miles from New York City, and is delivered by barge directly from the works to any city dock. The plant for its manufacture is strictly up-to-date and every detail from the quarry to stockhouse is under the closest supervision. The John P. Kane Co. (whose facilities for handling building materials for the largest operations are well known) is largely interested in the manufacture and guarantees every delivery of "Trowel" Brand Portland cement. Estimates will be cheerfully given on application to the John P. Kane Co., dealers in masons' building materials, main office, northeast corner 22d st and 4th av. Telephone, 3231 18th st.

INTER-UNION STRIFE.

Over 700 mechanics of various trades are on strike on work of the Geo. A. Fuller Construction Co. in different parts of the city. The trouble is a development of the quarrel between the Brotherhood of Carpenters and the Amalgamated Carpenters. The former entered into a contract with the Construction Co. which was not approved by the Building Trades' Council, and that body ordered all the organizations affiliated with it to quit work until the carpenters' contract is annulled or modified to conform with the constitution of the council. The buildings affected by the strike include the Union Club Building, at 51st st and 5th av; the Century Building, 70 Broadway; the Tontine Building, Wall and Water sts; the Maritime Exchange Building; southeast corner of Maiden lane and Broadway; No. 180 Broadway; building on 48th st, near 5th av; and another on 63d st and Madison av. The strikers' headquarters are at Central Hall, No. 147 West 32d st. Vice-President McConnell, of the Geo. A. Fuller Construction Co., when seen yesterday, would have nothing to say on the subject of the strike.

Another Fireproofing Combine.

The International Metal Lath Company, of Niles, Ohio, has sold out to the General Fireproofing Company, of Youngstown, Ohio, which has been incorporated with a capital of $500,000. The plant of the International Co. will be entirely removed to Youngstown, O., and will be on a much larger scale, in conjunction with the new works of the International. The Herrington expanded metal lath, another fireproof construction, will constitute the general product of the new company. The officers are Myron I. Arms, president; W. H. Foster, secretary; and W. A. Kingsley, treasurer and general manager.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500, and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

February 21, 24, 25, 26, 27.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. ((†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. ((i) signifies that the first name is actitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of this list.

NOW READY FOR DELIVERY.

The annual number of the Record and Guide Quarterly containing all the real estate records for the year 1901, annotated and alphabetically and numerically arranged. Published by the Record and Guide, 14 16 Vesey St.

THE stock market presents to-day a more curious problem than it has ever done before. Perhaps for the first time in its history the late boom left stocks in the hands of the big men who are numerically small, and the little ones who make up the crowd have since been held back fearing that if they venture in the positions will be reversed. The public are now so thoroughly impressed with the idea that present holders of stocks are only waiting an opportunity to unload upon them that it seems almost impossible to induce them to return to speculative ventures. Meantime prices are kept strong, and in a sufficient number of cases advancing, so as to create the impression at least that a new bull movement is under way; but all the time commission broker's offices are inconsistently empty. One element of strength and the one that explains the buoyancy of the better class of dividend paying stocks, is the large amount of money that is seeking investment in a market previously raked over and over again for securities that will return a fair income with perfect safety for principal. The volume of transactions in listed bonds has fallen off heavily from what it was a few weeks ago, as if their attraction had been exhausted for the time being. New York City bonds, which, since the passage of the act taxing capital and surplus of banking and trust companies, are not so much esteemed as an investment for surplus as they were before, are plentiful enough. There is no doubt of the value of this bond as an investment and the individual buyer ought to give it his attention. It cannot be bought for speculative advances, because the city must be a large borrower for years to come, and thus will keep up the supply, but where confidence in the investment and a moderate return are all that are desired, these bonds should be attractive. Coming back to the general situation, it may be remarked that current events, such as rate cutting, gold exports, crop reports, the movements of money, etc., are not what are usually responded to by advancing prices, but all opinions agree on the soundness of the general business situation, and this for the time being outweighs all the rest.

SINCE the movement in Kaffirs subsided, the only activity in the financial markets of Europe comes from the placing of government and municipal loans. All the offerings of merit are covered by subscription many times over. Dealings on the market, however, are not large and prices move up slowly. Typical issues, such as British Consols and German Imperial 3s have advanced but three or four points in the past year. The former are still selling near the low records of the past generation, made on the outbreak of hostilities between France and Germany in 1870, and on the Baring failure. It must be that buyers of either of these issues at current figures, Consols at 94@95 and German Imperial 3s at 91, will make money in the course of the next two or three years. Our coal men do not seem to have pushed their wares much in the French market; a report just issued shows that while France was a buyer of 15,391,000 tons of foreign coal last year, only 59,000 was imported from America. Latest reports from Germany are of an unsatisfactory coal business and an iron business carried on at a loss. The statement of the great Laura Works in Silesia (crude and manufactured iron and coal) for the six months ended with December 31, shows earnings of $740,000 or $550,000, less than for the corresponding months of 1900; and the significant explanation is given that these earnings resulted entirely from coal, the iron departments of the company having been operated at a loss. A very remarkable report has been issued from Berlin, to the effect that as a result of a census taken by 12,000 workmen devoting two consecutive Sundays to the task, it was discovered that there were in that city and its suburbs 76,029 persons wholly unemployed, 52,501 partly unemployed, and in addition 19,239 permanently or temporarily incapacitated through illness. If this is true, it reveals a depth of business depression previously undreamt of; but it can hardly be that in a population of less than 3,000,000—Berlin alone has less than 2,000,000—147,769 persons old enough to work are wholly or partially unemployed.

The Mayor's Message.

THE dominant impression produced by Mayor Low's message is that he is somewhat bewildered by the magnitude and difficulty of the task with which he is confronted. The specific recommendations contained in the document are very few. He suggests that something ought to be done to diminish the present annual charge made upon the municipal revenues by the Sinking Fund; that the city should appropriate $10,000,000 immediately for new school sites and construction; and that it is imperative that provision be made for an increased water supply, both in Brooklyn and Manhattan. But these and other recommendations are with the single exception of those connected with schools very vague and indecisive. The Mayor candidly admits that he has not as yet had time to become sufficiently acquainted with the municipal business of the city, and he evidently does not wish to prejudice any ultimate decisions he may reach by passing at the present time hasty and perhaps ill-advised judgments.

The mayor cannot be blamed for being circumspect in the development of his positive policy; but, considering that his term is only two years long, it is extremely unfortunate that so much time is lost in the preliminary task of obtaining information and reaching conclusions. If the accounts of the city were properly kept, if full information was given out in respect to the condition of public business and public works, and if a closer attention was paid to the hard details of municipal administration by men who may become candidates for municipal office, it would not be necessary for a mayor to postpone a decision as to the broad outlines of his constructive policy until after a fourth of his term had vanished. He would have made up his mind in advance what in general he wanted to do, and need only to leave the ways and means to post-election decision. As we pointed during the campaign, it is one of the unfortunate results of concentrating exclusive attention during a canvas upon denouncing Tammany, that after Tammany is turned out the new administration is not really ready to do business. It is better prepared to be honest and incorruptible than to be efficient. We do not mean to infer that the present administration will not in the end reach a high standard of efficiency, as it already has of frankness and honesty. It has been embarrassed so far by the necessary preliminary task of revising the budget and reforming the salary list. But as it holds office for only two years, its chance to outline and realize a definite and comprehensive constructive policy will be so much diminished by a period of indecision and delay.

After all, what is needed for the proper conduct of the municipal business of New York, is, not only a full and definite information, but a large and comprehensive understanding of the progress New York is making and the consequent necessity of adequate public improvements. The present administration will succeed or fail just in proportion as it masters the important general needs of the city, and takes adequate measures to meet them. No policy it could adopt would be more fatal, both to its own popularity, and to the essential interest of a city than a niggardly policy of limiting the improvements it will carry on to those already begun by the last administration, or of being afraid to make plans for the future, because its own term of office is limited to two years. The municipality of New York is in the position of a big estate, whose powers of production are curtailed by inadequate roads and machinery and by a financial system that does not provide sufficient means for permanent improvements, and it rests with the managers of the estate, both to provide the roads and machinery, and to find the money. The first problem to be faced is that of the debt limit, for the recent report of the Comptroller on this question showed plainly that under the present limit absolutely necessary and extremely remunerative improvements have to be held up, because of the restrictions of that limit. The increase of debt every year under the existing constitutional amendment is inadequate to pay for improvements already authorized, and if it is perpetuated no plan of additional improvements would be possible. The city would have to maintain a hand-to-mouth existence, always some years behind the actual needs of its increasing inhabitants, and threatened by a future congestion of population and traffic, which will seriously injure its business efficiency and retard its growth.

The objection is made to any proposed increase of the debt limit, that no increase or extension could be legally authorized until after the expiration of the term of the present administration, and that it would be bad policy to afford Tammany, in case it resumed power, an opportunity of spending this money. But if the present administration should act upon this objection it would practically prohibit the realization of any additional improvements, which could not be completed during its own term of office. No city can be governed under such methods and limitations. The present administration may be superseded; but the city of New York is, let us hope, a persistent entity, and as such it should be governed. It is enough of a drawback that after a reform administration assumes power, it should have to spend so much time doing away with the effects of Tammany government; but if it adds to this unfortunate necessity, the further impediment of doing nothing by which Tammany might profit, in case that organization resumed power, it must surrender all hope of doing the city any permanent benefit. It has been said that a man should live as if he were never going to die. Well, a municipal administration should govern, not as if it were never going to die, but as if the city were going to survive at any rate for some decades, and as if its citizens could be trusted to take care of themselves during that time. Of course, until additional borrowing power is obtained by the extension of the debt limit, no comprehensive and adequate scheme of public improvements, both utilitarian and aesthetic can be carried out; but the administration will accomplish a great good, if it will have such a scheme carefully prepared, and if it will do its best to provide the necessary money. By so doing, it will not only co-operate with the private interests, which are doing so much to improve New York, but it will begin to prepare the city to take its proper place as the American metropolis, to make it not merely our largest center of population and business, but also the first city in the country in the efficiency of its government, and in its standards of public life and aesthetic propriety.

The Real Estate Situation

Very much the most important piece of news announced during the week, if it prove true, is the statement made last Sunday by the authority of the engineer of the Rapid Transit Commission, that the subway will be opened for traffic on Sept. 1, 1903. The earliest date, which has hitherto been announced for this important event was about Jan. 1, 1904; and the advance in this time some four months will prove to be of the utmost importance to the real estate and building interests. If trains were running on Sept. 1, 1903, builders could begin to put up houses a year from the present spring on the expectation that the subway would bring them tenants and purchasers during the following fall, and if they commenced building early in 1903, the purchase of the necessary sites and the making of the loans would naturally start in late during the present year. Just at present the sections, which will be most immediately and profoundly affected by the subway (viz., Washington Heights and the Bronx) are very dull. On the Heights little or no building is taking place, and the only plans filed for that section this year are those of a few small residences. In the Bronx also, the plans filed for new buildings call for the expenditure of only half the amount of money that the plans filed during the first two months of last year required —$916,244 in 1902, against $1,796,961 in 1901—and of this money about one-third goes into tenements and the remainder into small residences. The whole of north New York is awaiting the expansion which is destined to take place just as soon as the subway is running. The great effect of the subway will be to give the builder and property owner with a small capital an increased chance to speculate and invest in real estate. At present real estate in Manhattan is only interesting to relatively well-to-do people. A city in which the average residence costs more than $50,000 to build, and in which a man cannot buy except in very rare instances a decent and well situated dwelling for less than $15,000, is not a city for the majority who are poor people. The subway will restore to the majority an interest in real estate, and will enable him to buy for from $30 to $50 a month a cheerful and respectable home; and it will also restore the small builders, who cannot put up more than a few thousand dollars, a chance to lose or increase their capital.

The Opening of the Subway.

A very interesting episode in the story of the week is the leasing of No. 139 Broadway for the Washington Life Insurance Company, to the Liberty National Bank. The lease runs for forty years, the old four story and basement structure now on the plot will be torn down, and a two story bank building erected in its place. The incident is very suggestive, because it is not customary on the good island of Manhattan to tear down four story buildings and erect in their stead two story buildings. Some six or seven story flats have been destroyed for the purpose of building on their sites five story dwellings; but usually low buildings are destroyed only in the interest of erecting skyscrapers. But the case of 139 Broadway is peculiar, and it is peculiar in a highly suggestive way. No. 139 Broadway was purchased by the Washington Life Insurance Company for the purpose of preserving the light and air for its new building, and the space included in its dimensions is consequently for all practical purposes an exterior court. In purchasing the property for this purpose, the Washington Life has only been forced into doing what the owners of many other "skyscrapers" have also done, and the interesting question suggested is whether other banks will not find it profitable to follow the example of Speyer & Co., and the Liberty National, and distinguish themselves by erecting banking houses that are conspicuously low. There is now in the aggregate a good deal of property in the financial district, which is intentionally withheld from improvement with tall buildings by its owners, but which is available for improvement by low buildings, conspicuously planned, which by their contrast with their surroundings, would be a better symbol of financial stability and exuberance than a towering "skyscraper." It should be noticed, however, that the erection of these low buildings, far from being an indication that office buildings are failing in popularity, are on the contrary a tribute to their popularity. They exist only as an antithesis to the tall buildings.

Episodes of the Week.

The most noticeable features of the operations of the week have been as usual the sale of residences in all parts of the city, and the purchase of corners available for improvement with loft buildings. Among the properties, which come under the second heading may be mentioned, as particularly important, the old Jaffray store, on the northeast corner of Broadway and Leonard St., and the Hotel Kensington, on the northeast corner of Fifth Ave. and Fifteenth St. This second transaction is not as yet consummated, but there is reason to suppose that it soon will be. It makes the fifth corner on Fifth Ave., between Fourteenth and Twenty-first Sts., which has been sold or leased during the present year to individuals or companies, who in the end will erect or will cause to be erected large office buildings upon them. Two of these, the northwest corners of Fourteenth and Eighteenth Sts. and Fifth Ave. are already being torn down; two others, the present sites of the Union Club and Restaurant de Logerot will be torn down sometimes during the year, and now comes the Hotel Kensington to be added to the list. Moreover, one interior lot, just north of Twenty-first St. is at present being improved with a similar building. This is a very formidable list of operations to be carried on in such a small section during one year, and it is remarkable testimony to the present expansive power of the wholesale trade in New York City. For it must be remembered that as many more similar improvements are being planned for corners on Broadway and University Place. The Fifth Ave. section feels the effect of the increased demand for space most strongly, because it is particularly the growing section, but the movement is not confined to any one locality. It may be remarked, so far as Fifth Ave. is concerned, that north of Sixteenth only three corners remain on which such improvements can be undertaken. Between Sixteenth and Fourteenth St. the process of change has not hitherto made such rapid progress, but a pace has now been set, which if it is maintained for another year will soon complete the improvement of the avenue from Fourteenth all the way to Twenty-third St. Thereafter the side streets will go still more rapidly, and then, unless we are much mistaken, fourther growth of the same kind will be diverted to the line of Fourth Ave. The demand at the present time runs strongly in the direction of buildings with a very large floor space, the larger the better; and it consequently consumes ground at an astonishing rate. Moreover, the new buildings are so much better planned than the old, that they rent quickly and well, and owners with old lofts on their hands find it difficult to pay expenses, which naturally makes them desirous to improve. The area included by the wholesale trade enlarges and changes more quickly than that devoted to any other business. A dozen years ago it was taking in the streets west of Broadway and south of Washington Square; now it has stretched along the lines of Broadway, Fourth and Fifth avenues to Twenty-third St. During the next decade, if it makes over much more territory for its own uses it will have reached as far north as Thirty-fourth St.

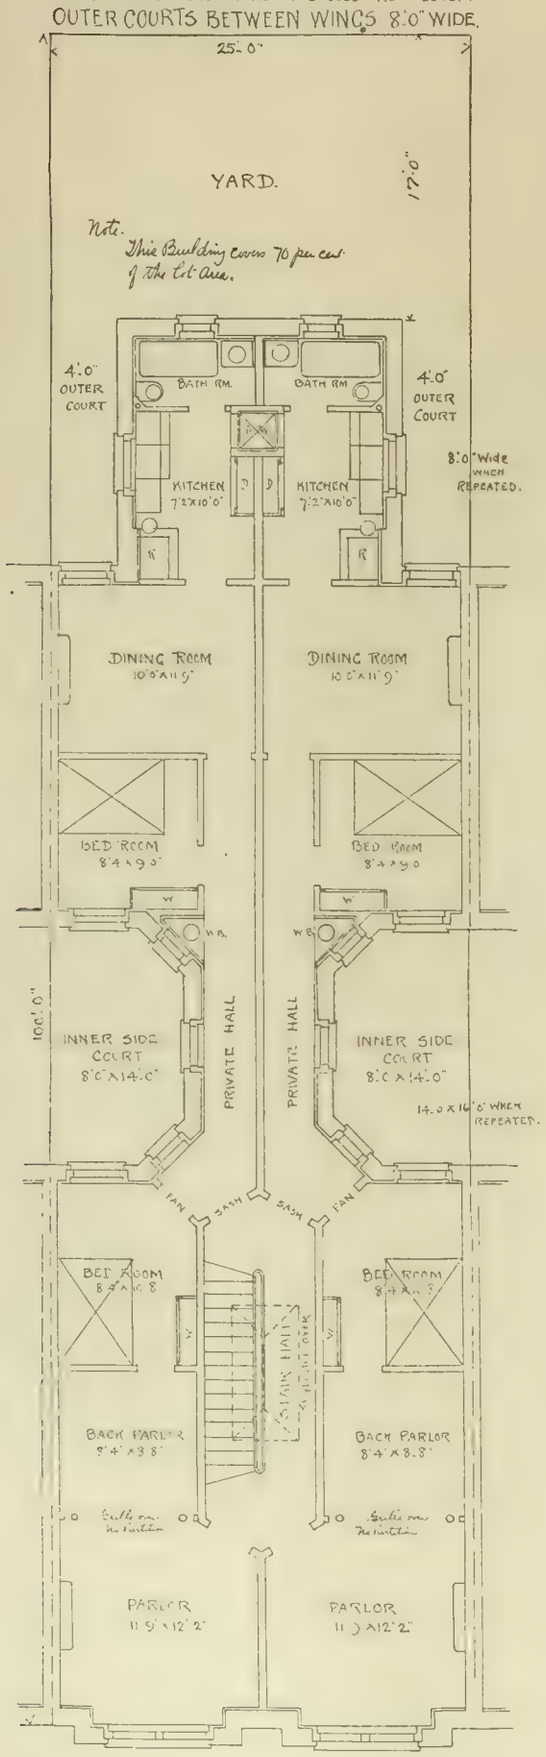
In reference to the continued activity in private dwellings east of Park ave. and north of 59th st., it is interesting to note that it is caused largely by the purchases which the New York Central has been making along Park ave. south of 56th st. in the interest of its terminal improvements. More than a hundred owners of dwellings have been displaced by these improvements, and they are naturally seeking other dwellings along the same line, but further north. This displacement is taking place all over the city, owing to the purchases of different corporations for transit purposes; but in no section has its influence been more marked than in that above-named.

THE Superintendent of the Building Department, Mr. Perez M. Stewart, has proved himself worthy of public confidence by ordering a rigorous inspection of existing hotels, apartment houses, and theatres, for the purpose if necessary of making them conform to the law. It is stated that almost every theatre in the city violates the law in some respects, but that the violations in only a few cases are serious. Furthermore, it is naturally the owners of the theatres that most flagrantly ignore the law, who are most difficult to bring to terms. Should this obduracy continue, it would be worth while to search the files of the building and law departments, so as to ascertain how these violations came originally to be passed and who were responsible for them; but, of course, the obduracy cannot continue. It is simply a matter of applying pressure firmly, and any statement in the newspapers that a particular theatre was unsafe because the law was violated, would soon bring a manager to terms, quite apart from any threat to oppose the renewal of the license. Mr. Stewart wants to start a permanent bureau devoted exclusively to watching the old buildings, which for any purpose house large numbers of people; but if a thorough inspection were made at the outset and such buildings brought in conformity to the laws, and if the existing laws are enforced in relation to new buildings, a permanent bureau for the purpose above-named seems unnecessary.

NOTHING is more discouraging in New York when it comes to deciding questions of public policy than the absence of any recognized standards. It might have been supposed, after all that has been written on the subject of procuring street signs that were convenient and good-looking, that the money necessary to procure and maintain such signs would be readily appropriated by a reform Board of Estimate and Apportionment; but when Borough President Cantor requested the necessary appropriation, he was met with the assertion that his illuminated signs were too costly, and that the city could afford to dispense with them. Yet the signs which he proposes to erect have been designed with the utmost care, so as to be seen at night, not only by people who are walking, but by people who are riding on surface moving electric cars; moreover, they are the first step toward the very necessary task of providing the streets of New York with furniture that is an embellishment rather than an eyesore. Yet this aspect of the matter, which is so important in the interest of the better New York, is ignored by those who should keep it most in mind. The Tribune, for instance, says: "It does not seem wise to expend a large sum of money simply for illuminating signs in addition to ordinary street lighting. What New York needs, is plain, simple, durable, street signs on lamps at street corners. The existing lamps, both gas and electric, should be utilized for the purpose." But the existing lamp, both gas and electric, are ugly and depressing. What is needed is not their perpetuation by increasing their utility, but the early substitution for them of others that will have a good influence upon popular taste; and an excellent first step in that direction, will be the erection of these illuminated signs. The Borough President deserves the utmost credit for his firm stand in this matter.

A New Department in Our Advertising Pages.

The readers of the Record and Guide will notice a new department in our advertising pages, which will, we believe, find favor with those who wish to buy or sell special pieces of property. This new department is called by the old but excellently descriptive title of "Wants and Offers," and in it will be printed a list of real estate parcels which brokers and owners desire to sell, or a description of the kind of property which they wish or are empowered to purchase. It will be found to be of particular use to brokers and owners, whose names are given a prominent place, and it will become, like the other departments of the paper, more or less a matter of permanent record, which can be conveniently referred to by interested operators. It is scarcely necessary to insist upon the peculiar desirability of the Record and Guide for this kind of advertising. The paper is constantly in the hands not only of all the people in any way professionally interested in real estate, but also finds it way into the offices of banks, trust companies and in general of institutions and firms which have money to invest or property to sell. In the American Newspaper Directory, in which publications are classified according to the excellence of their circulation, the Record and Guide is given, along with only a few other publications, a rating second to no other paper in the city, and no better medium could be found for people who wish to attract the attention of investors, property owners and their agents. The new department is marked by an attractive and conspicuous heading and will be retained as a regular feature of our advertising columns.



A Proposed Compromise in Relation to Brooklyn Tenements.

Referring in last week's Record and Guide to the tenement house amendments proposed by the administration, we said that, were they adopted by the Legislature, only two serious questions would remain worthy of discussion. One of these (and that of the more pressing and practical import) concerns the requirements for air shafts in three and four-story tenement houses in Brooklyn. It was stated before the legislative committee at Albany last week by advocates of the Ash or Audett bill, that if the law required, as at present, a minimum of 11 feet in width for air shafts in two and three-story tenements, an indigenous type of buildings in Brooklyn would perforce cease to exist. Local conditions across the East River, it was alleged, practically prohibit "rear" tenements, which it was held would be unavoidable as a consequence of an insistence upon an 11-foot shaft. It was suggested by Senator Stranahan that perhaps some compromise could be reached between the "11-foot" idea of the administration and its friends and the "3-foot" idea of the unregenerate Brooklynite. Compromise, however, had been attempted without success, and it was pointed out that this failure did not entail an "impasse" for the problem, even of the 11-foot shaft might be solved without necessarily involving "rear" tenements. It was merely a matter of brains. All the possibilities of planning have not been exhausted. People get traveling in a rut, and in the end come to believe that that rut is a sort of permanent way for the fixed and absolute. No doubt in Brooklyn, as in New York, builders have confounded mere habit of thought with the permanent order of things. Because they have always built a certain type of house on a certain size lot, they think that type of house and that size lot immutable. From this point of view the new tenement house requirements may yet prove to be an incentive to brains, and the more practically brains are applied to the new requirements, the better the problems involved in those new requirements will be solved.

We publish herewith two plans showing what the application of "brains" may do for the "two-family-six-rooms-on-a-floor tenements" in Brooklyn, the apartment running through from front to rear. We place along side of it for comparison a plan made under the proposed Ash law submitted by the Brooklyn delegation at Albany last week. It will be seen that the plan of Messrs. Harde and Short solves the difficulty of getting front and rear apartments with ample courtyards on a twenty-five foot lot. It is true the courts are not eleven feet, but instead are eight feet, and we present this modification hoping it will be considered a fair measure of compromise between the plans of the tenement house reformers of the extreme type and the tenement house owner "pure and simple," as he is sometimes ironically designated.

In comparing the Harde and Short plans with the Ash plan, it seems to us that the former possesses the following advantages:

The interior bedrooms are all well-lighted and well-ventilated, which is not the case with the interior bedrooms in the Ash plan. Moreover, in the H. & S. plans no window of any interior room opens opposite to any possible window in an adjacent house even at the distance of 14, not to say, 6 feet. The dining room in the H. & S. plan opens on an outer court, but in the Ash plan on an air shaft. Access to the water-closet is given in the H. & S. plan without passing through any bedroom or without going through a public hall; the contrary is the case in the Ash plan. The stair hall in the H. & S. plan, besides being lighted from a skylight, can be lighted from the windows in the inside court The hall in the Ash plan cannot be so lighted. A rear hall called in the Ash plan a "private hall" is a misnomer. It is a public hall and would necessarily be pitch dark. The H. & S plan avoids this difficulty. As to the dimensions of the rooms in the two contrasted plans they are practically the same.

THE BROOKLYN TYPE OF 3-STORY DOUBLE TENEMENT WITH NARROW AIR SHAFT WHICH THE ASH BILL IS INTENDED TO PERPETUATE.

Per contra—in favor of the Ash plan.—The kitchen in the H. & S. plan opening on an outer court is not so favorably located as that of the Ash plan. It must be pointed out that the cost of building under the H. & S. plan would be slightly more expensive, but the owner would probably be remunerated for the outlay by increased rentals. We would like our readers, particularly those of Brooklyn, to give this compromise suggestion their careful consideration. We feel sure that Mr. de Forest and the administration will receive it, at least with the reasonable and judicial spirit which they have accorded hitherto to all propositions and amendments to the law they administer.

The following letter explains itself:

March 7th, 1902.

Sir: I have given careful thought to the points you made to me in favor of the 3-sty 6-family tenement house, such as is sought to be legalized by the Ash Bill, the plan for which you showed me. While I think that the front apartment of the new law plan is distinctly preferable to either aparment of the Ash plan, I may frankly say that, as compared with the front and rear tenement plan drawn to illustrate what is possible under the present tenement house law, which you also showed me, I should prefer to live in a house of the Ash type, if I may so describe it, than to live in the rear tenement of the new law plan. The points in favor of the Ash type seem to me to be these:

1. The possibility of securing a draft from front and rear.
2. The possibility of escape in case of fire from either front or rear.
3. The fact that both suites upon the same floor are equal in value.

On the other hand, it must be said with equal frankness that an interior court only 3x12 feet affords shamefully little light and air for human beings, young or old, of whom it is desired that they shall play the part of strong men and good citizens. It is a little longer than a stable stall, but only little more than half as wide. It is for this reason that I have said to Commissioner de Forest, up to this time, that in Brooklyn, where land is cheap, I did not think it wise to reduce the size of interior courts as now fixed by law.

There are further objections to the Ash type. It necessitates the common use of a dark hall for the two families on the same floor if any one would go from front to rear in the same apartment, unless the bedrooms should be used as passage-ways. In order to reach the water-closet of each apartment, it is necessary to pass either through the bedrooms or through the public hall—an arrangement which destroys privacy. Where one of the bedrooms is rented out to a lodger, as may often be the case, this lack of privacy is especially objectionable. Moreover, not only does the dining room and one bedroom of the Ash type apartment receive light and ventilation by a window at most 2 feet wide from this narrow air shaft, but the only window of the other interior bedroom either opens against a blank wall 3 feet distant or against the window of another house at a distance of only 6 feet. It should also be noted that one-half of the rooms in the whole house—six bedrooms and three dining rooms—all receive their light and ventilation from the narrow 3x12 shaft.

Since I saw you, the other day, however, I have seen a plan which seems to me to have all the merits of the present Brooklyn type while furnishing a court 8x14 feet instead of 3x12 feet. This new plan also has the great advantage of a well-lighted private hall for each family, running straight through without break or angle from front to rear, and furnishing from every room access to the water-closet without passing through any bedroom or common hallway.

Under these circumstances, upon the recommendation of Tenement House Commissioner de Forest, I am content to acquiesce in a modification of the Administration Bill that shall allow a court of these dimensions, 8x14 feet, as the minimum court for a 3-sty tenement house to accommodate two families on a floor.

I hope that your committee will see its way to accept the proposed compromise in the spirit in which it is offered; for I am well assured that it is your desire, no less than my own, to do everything consistent with practicability to improve the conditions of life for the very many whose ability to pay rent is small. I am confident, also, that it is your wish, as well as mine, that Brooklyn shall be famous for the good quality of the lodgings that it offers to the working people who make their homes there rather than for a special type of building that contains so many objectionable features, particularly when all the advantages of this type can be secured by a change of plan that obviates most of these objections. Respectfully, (Signed.) SETH LOW, Mayor.

To Messrs. Baird, Gallagher, Meserole and others.

Taxpayers' Alliance of the Bronx.

An interesting meeting of the Taxpayers' Alliance of the Bronx took place on Monday evening when it was stated that the extension of the elevated railroad to Williamsbridge was for the purpose of making connection with the New Haven railroad there and giving commutors travelling through that point an opportunity of getting downtown without going through the Park av. tunnel. Other subjects discussed were: Water supply, rapid transit, the proposed reduction of interest on arrears and the payment of assessments by instalments (both of which latter propositions the Alliance favors), the location of a new armory and Carnegie branch library sites. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, W. W. Niles; 1st Vice-President, Geo. G. Grossman; 2d Vice-President, A. C. Hottenroth; Treasurer, Wm. Peters; Secretary, Arthur G. Bedell.

An Architect's View of the Tenement House Law and Amendments.

The Record and Guide has received from Mr. R. Thomas Short, of the firm of Harde & Short, a memorandum of his views upon the amendments to the Tenement House Law, now before the Legislature, which have been submitted to the Joint Cities' Committee of the Senate and Assembly.

Among other things, Mr. Short says:

"As a representative practical architect, engaged mostly in the erection of tenements and apartment houses in the City of New York, I would say that each and all of the changes to the present Tenement House laws as proposed in this Administration Bill, meet with my approval; and I know that the passage of these proposed amendments is anxiously awaited by architects and many investors who are contemplating building the class of buildings affected by this measure.

"To show that the present Tenement House Law has not made the planning of tenements impracticable or impossible as a commercial investment, I need only say that our own firm as architects since last year's Tenement House Law went into effect, filed plans in the Building Department, and have under actual construction in New York City, tenement houses planned in every way in conformity with the present law, amounting to a cost of about four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000), besides having other plans on our boards that have not yet reached the Building Department, and plans of large enterprises under consideration which are delayed pending the passage of the proposed amendments, as set forth in this Administration Bill. With the exception of the points fully covered in these amendments, we have, as architects, no objections to the present laws, and have found no difficulty in preparing plans for commercial tenements under their requirements. From our past practice and our experience in preparing these plans, we have found that the types of plans evolved by conforming to the present Tenement House Law are immeasurably superior to and a great improvement upon the best types of tenement houses previously erected under the old laws.

"In regard to the bill introduced by Mr. Ash, the main object of which is to allow three-story tenements with six apartments to be erected without conforming to the provisions of the present Tenement House laws in relation to size of courts for the securing of proper light and ventilation to the interior rooms. This amendment must be objected to by all who are in favor of tenement house reform. The present law does not require three-story buildings to have the same size courts as higher buildings, but provides that the size of all courts and yards may vary according to the height of the buildings. Starting with a stated size for a building 60 feet high, the courts may be considerably reduced in size, as the building is built lower and must be proportionately increased in size as the buildings are built higher.

"It has been repeatedly stated to the members of the committee by those who are advocating the passage of the 'Ash Bill' that builders erecting tenements on single lots (25x100) were compelled under the present law to have interior courts of unreasonably large dimensions. The law requires that interior courts must be 11x23 for three-story buildings, but while these are the dimensions that interior courts must conform to, the law does not in any way require the introduction of any interior courts, nor does the planning of tenements on single lots arranged for either 1, 2, 3 or 4 families to a floor necessitate the use of any such interior court. The halls and rooms may be lighted and ventilated from the street, rear yard and outer side courts, these outer side courts being located on the side of the building running from the interior rooms either to the front or rear of the building, and opening to the outer air at the street or yard. These side outer courts for a three-story building need only be 5 feet wide, which is not unreasonably wide for the purpose of providing a decent amount of light, air, ventilation, privacy and prevention of fire. The builders of the three-story tenements have only one idea; that is, they do not want to be compelled to depart from the old-style houses, that they have been used to building, the future erection of which the main object and result of the present law was to prohibit.

"These three-story flats, as erected under the old law, were planned as follows: The staircase hall was located in the centre of the building without any windows opening to the outer air, being lighted and ventilated to a limited extent by means of a skylight in the roof, and two apartments on each floor were located one on each side, running through from the street to the yard, and consisted of five or six rooms to each apartment. The front room was the parlor, the rear rooms being dining-room and kitchen, the interior rooms being small bedrooms, these interior rooms were usually used as a passage between the parlor and dining-room, as well as being used for bedrooms. They were lighted and ventilated more or less by means of the doors connecting with the dining-room and doors or portiere openings to the parlor, and also by means of small windows opening into narrow interior shafts or side wells. The objection to this class of apartments are the dark staircases, the lack of privacy to the bedrooms, the small size of the side shafts, which, even if enlarged to 3x12, according to the provisions of the proposed 'Ash Bill,' would unquestionably be altogether too small to provide a proper amount of light and ventilation to the interior rooms, and also too small to allow of proper privacy or to prevent the spread of fire from house to house.

"A simple plan for a two-family on a floor house on a single lot to meet these requirements is the placing of one apartment on the front and one on the rear, divided by the large interior court. Apartments thus planned can be arranged very desirably, and in many ways are far superior to the old style, the only objection being that the parlor of both apartments do not have a front outlook, but the advantages derived more than balance this objection. It is, however, not absolutely necessary to have front and rear apartments, as floors can be arranged to meet all the requirements of the new law, and at the same time provide a front outlook for both apartments. The three-story tenements are, according to the provisions of the Administration Bill, to be exempt from the requirements relating to fireproof stairs and halls, but positively should not be exempt from the provisions of the present law as to courts for securing proper light and ventilation. The Administration Bill has treated this class of buildings very liberally."

In the Legislature.

THE MORTGAGE TAX EXEMPTION—FIRE APPARATUS IN BUILDINGS.

This session of the Legislature is running into a tame affair owing to the early failure of important measures. This week the defeat of a motion in the Senate to recall from committee the Slater bill to exempt mortgages from taxation, put a quietus upon that effort, as the caucus a few weeks ago practically did upon the Stranahan bill to tax them. Yesterday Senator Stranahan amended his bill so as to make the moneys collected on mortgages returned to the localities in which they would be collected. He ought to have gone a step further and made it collectable by the local authorities, in which case, the chances of his bill passing would be very materially improved. The Employers' Liability bill, introduced by Senator Slater, made some progress, but its chances of ultimate success are not by any means sure.

Senator Hennessey had his bill, providing for a hospital in Bronx Borough, amended by increasing the authorized cost from $300,000 to $500,000.

Among the new bills introduced, which are summarized below, that relating to the supply of auxiliary fire apparatus in buildings may require particular attention and scrutiny on the part of property-owners. The bills selected as being of most interest to readers of the Record and Guide are:

Senator Audett's (Introductory No. 662), providing that within six months from its passage, every hotel, and, in the discretion of the fire and building authorities, every schoolhouse, factory, theatre, and other place where many persons congregate, shall be equipped with standpipes connected with pumps, and supplied with hose, to be available on any floor of the building in case of fire.

Senator Elsberg's, to add to the new site for the College of the City of New York a strip of land 30 feet wide, extending from Convent av to St. Nicholas terrace, so as to have the college site adjoin city park lands.

Senator Slater's, authorizing the New York City Sinking Fund Commission to lease Blackwell's Island for a term of ten years to the Federal Government for use as a naval station and public park. Borough President Cantor is in Washington to confer with President Roosevelt upon this matter.

Senator Marshall's (Introductory No. 658). This is Assembly bill No. 363, introduced by Mr. Wolf, forbidding the use of second-hand brick in foundations or superstructures of buildings erected in New York City. The original bill forbade the use of such brick in walls 25 ft. above the level of the curb. That now before the Legislature raises the stated height to 40 ft.

Senator Grady's (Introductory No. 641), to amend Section 473 of the Charter by adding the following: "Where two or more pieces of property having different owners have been leased and used as a whole for any business purpose, and where the water used on such premises has been paid for by the lessee of said properties, upon the dissolution of said leases and the return of the control of the different properties to the respective owners any water charges remaining unpaid and a lien on said connected premises shall be divided and charged pro rata against the respective properties by the commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity in proportion to the number of square feet contained in each parcel, and upon payment to the City of New York by the owner or owners of any parcel of such connected premises of his or their pro rata assessment of any such charges, the respective properties on which such payments are made shall be freed from lien."

Mr. Reeves' (Assembly Intro. No. 1038), to give mechanics a lien upon articles of personal property in possession, for work done, etc., on articles previously delivered to owner of same.

Senator Audett's (Introductory No. 612), amending the labor law by requiring article 8, as well as articles 5, 6, and 7, to be posted in factories; and, where the prevailing language of the employees is either German, Italian, Russian, Polish or Yiddish, that the articles shall be printed and posted in that language, as well as in English.

Senator Mills' (Introductory No. 213), to divide the cost of improving White Plains av, from the city limits to Morris Park av, between the owners of property benefited and the city in the portion of 40% to the former and 60% to the latter.

The City's Bridges.

SUMMARY OF CONDITION OF NEW BRIDGES UNDER CONSTRUCTION AND PROPOSED.

Among the work of public improvement to which the city is pledged there is none exciting more interest than the bridge work, and there need be no apology, therefore, for publishing the summary given below giving the main facts relating to and the present condition of the several bridges either in hand or proposed, which will be found below. Regarding the portion of this work that is most needed to relieve conditions of the entrance to Brooklyn bridge that have become a public scandal, it may be said, that, taken together, the East River bridge built and those under construction form a pretty comprehensive system of transpontine communication between the two great boroughs of the city. It is a pity to see time and money employed in the preparation and advocacy of other schemes, while the work on these bridges is delayed in the way it is and has been for years. With the New East River and the Pike street bridges completed, there would be in existence three great lines of travel serving a very extended area of the easterly borough, beginning at the Long Island depot, near the junction of Atlantic and Flatbush avenues and extending across to Williamsburgh, all of which would converge within a short distance of each other in the busiest section of Manhattan. With the Blackwell's Island bridge built, they would be supplemented by a line in Long Island City. All four would end at points available to very large residence and business sections with immense capacities for development still before them. While a great deal of technical legal and engineering preliminary which does not appear on the surface has been and is being done, as a whole the work is in a very backward state, as the following will show:

BRIDGES UNDER CONSTRUCTION.

New East River Bridge, No. 2.—By reason of its advanced state, and the relief it will bring to existing conditions, this bridge, of all those under construction, occupies the greatest attention. It crosses the East River at Delancey st, and touches Brooklyn near Grand st. The Brooklyn approach runs back about 200 ft. beyond Driggs av, where a plaza is planned to begin and to occupy the rest of the land to Havemeyer st, between South 4th and South 6th sts. On the Manhattan side the approach runs west along the south side of Delancey st to Clinton st. Title to the land already vests in the city, old buildings have been torn down and foundations for the approach put in. The engineers say this bridge can be finished in two years or less, and it is probable that the time of completion will be still further shortened. This is a matter now under discussion. At Clinton st, the Manhattan approach reaches grade, and the question of how it shall be carried further has arisen. The original plans contemplated that it should end in a plaza occupying the land, two blocks, bounded by Clinton, Norfolk, Delancey and Broome sts. This is now considered unsatisfactory, and it is pretty safe to say that the plaza will never be made. Several propositions are under discussion: One contemplates the making of a new street on a diagonal line from Norfolk st to Cooper Union; another the widening of Delancey and Spring sts, so as to bring the approach to the junction of Elm and Marion sts. Last December the Board of Public Improvements approved a suggestion of the then Commissioner of Bridges, John L. Shea, to widen Delancey st, and cut a new diagonal st from the Bowery to Broome and Elm sts, and taking in the triangular block bounded by Broome, Elm and Marion sts. Since then nothing has been done in the matter, though it is confidently stated that the present administration will not do more than carry the approach to the Bowery by taking off a strip on the south side of Delancey st, from Clinton st to that thoroughfare.

Proceedings for the appraisal of the property taken from Tompkins to Clinton sts are now going on, but have not reached any definite stage. A similar proceeding in a similar condition is in progress in Brooklyn.

The building of this bridge was authorized by Chap. 789, Laws of 1895, and plans were approved in 1896.

Pike Street, or Bridge No. 3.—The Manhattan entrance to this bridge is at the junction of Bowery and Canal st, and the Brooklyn entrance on Willoughby st, between Prince and Gold sts. The bridge itself will cross the East River at a point near Pike slip, and land in Brooklyn, between the foot of Adams st and Washington st. The length of this route is 9,230 ft., the Manhattan approach is 1,940 ft. long, and the Brooklyn 4,230 ft. The idea of laying out this route is that a continuous straight thoroughfare can be obtained from a point in Manhattan, that opens up to the northerly line of travel, i. e., Canal st and Bowery, to the Long Island Railroad station at the junction of Atlantic and Flatbush avs, by the removal of comparatively few buildings of poor quality and low cost.

A contract for constructing the Brooklyn tower foundations was made with John C. Rodgers at $471,757, May 1, 1901, and actual work begun August 21, 1901. The total cost of the bridge, including approaches, is estimated at $15,833,600, made up of land in Manhattan, $4,000,000; land in Brooklyn, $2,281,600; physical work, $9,552,000.

No proceedings have been begun for the acquisition of land required in Manhattan. In Brooklyn only the site of the anchorages is being condemned.

The ordinance for the construction of this bridge was approved by aMyor Van Wyck, Jan. 17, 1899.

Blackwell's Island, or Bridge No. 4.—The total length of this bridge is 3,673.5 ft., and with approaches, 8,230 ft. The Manhattan entrance will be on 2d av, between 59th and 60th sts, and in Queens, on Hunter av, at Jane and Academy sts. The function of this bridge is to connect the central portion of Manhattan with Long Island City and the surrounding section in the borough of Queens.

A contract was made June 27, 1901, for all six piers of this bridge with Ryan & Parker, at $745,547, and work is going on on both sides of the river.

The total estimated cost of the work is: Land in Manhattan, $2,398,500; in Queens, $750,000, together, $3,148,500; physical work, $9,400,000; total, $12,548,500.

Proceedigns have been begun to condemn the Manhattan anchorages, but they are delayed by the opposition of the N. Y. Steam Heating Co., whose plant is on the river front between 59th and 60th sts, and who desire that the bridge shall be built over their works. So far the courts have sustained the city in this contention, but the case may go to the Court of Appeals and render any estimate of time for completion of bridge useless.

The ordinance for the construction of this bridge was approved Nov. 15, 1900.

145th st (Harlem River), Bridge.—This bridge is being built under a contract with John C. Rodgers for $1,001,989. Work was begun Oct. 8, 1900, and it is expected that it will be opened to traffic by the beginning of next year. This estimate is based on the supposition that there will be no delay in getting iron or other material. The approach on the Manhattan side begins at Lenox av, and on the Bronx side at Gerard av. The Metropolitan Street Ry. Co. have built an underground electric line on 145th st to the bridge, and are ready to cross it as soon as completed. It will afford an additional communication of considerable value between busy portions of the two boroughs when finished.

The tunnel of the Rapid Transit railroad will pass under the Harlem River, at 145th st, and it is not known whether this will impede the bridge work.

Proceedings to condemn the land required have been completed and the report confirmed, but it is understood that the city objects to the awards, and may appeal.

Westchester av Permanent Bridge.—This crosses the Bronx River at Westchester av. Contract for the work was let to John G. Tait, Aug. 30, 1901, at $77,851, but work is delayed owing to technical objections to the grade, and there is a bill now in the Legislature (Assembly Introductory No. 728, introduced by Mr. Seymour), excluding cost of acquiring land for approaches from the cost of the bridge, and providing that the same shall be paid from the fund for street and park openings; also authorizing the Commissioner of Bridges, with the consent of the Board of Estimate, to acquire additional lands; it further proposes to authorize the award of damages to abutting property-owners for change of grade.

Mott Haven Bridge, over Canal, at 135th st.—Contract awarded May 29, 1901, to Augustus Smith for the sum of $29,360.50. Work in progress, but unforeseen obstruction in the form of shifting sand, has been met in putting in foundations. This is a small affair, consisting of two piers and a short bridge, but will be valuable to the Harlem River side traffic in the Bronx.

PROPOSED BRIDGES.

Madison av (Harlem River).—A proposition to replace present bridge with a larger one, and provide new and suitable approaches, had the endorsement of Commissioner Shea. February 21, 1901, a map was adopted by the old Board of Public Improvements, and on Feb. 28, 1901, an ordinance was introduced into the Municipal Assembly to secure the necessary authorization for doing the work, but nothing further has been heard of it.

Tremont av, over Bronx River, at 177th st.—Authorized by Chap. 657, Laws of 1897. Plans made, but letting of contract awaits the disposition of proceedings for the acquisition of land required, which are embraced in street opening proceedings for the extension of Tremont av, and regarding which no definite information is obtainable.

Williamsbridge.—Over the Bronx River, between Williamsbridge and Woodlawn station of the N. Y. & Harlem Railroad. Original plans as authorized by Chap. 357, Laws of 1897, provided a grade almost impracticable for use of trucks, etc. Legislature has so far failed to remedy this defect.

Paying Assessments.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE IN THE BRONX—GENERAL REGULATIONS—A SYSTEM TO NOTIFY OWNERS OF ASSESSMENTS AND ARREARS.

Apropos of the agitation to secure for property-owners the privilege of paying assessments in twenty annual instalments, the statement was made that there is a special provision of law which permits assessments on property in the Bronx, to be paid in five annual instalments. The Bronx Branch of the Bureau for Collection of Assessments and Arrears confirmed this statement, but could not refer the inquirer to the law in question. Pursuing inquiry further carried it through the Comptroller's office and ended in the office of the Corporation oCunsel, where one of his assistants, who is an expert on the subject, admitted that there might be such a provision of law, and finally hunted up Chapter 584 of the Laws of 1881. This was put through the Legislature by M. P. Breen, who was then in the Assembly, and provided that assessments in the 23d and 24th Wards could be paid by annual instalments of five per cent. This was supposed to be wiped out by the Consolidation Act of 1897, but whether it was or not, the Assistant Corporation Counsel referred to would not say. "As a general thing, I should say," he said, "that a property-owner would have a right to pay in instalments, and as a business proposition I should think that the Comptroller would receive payments on account, the same as any other creditor would accept payments in partial liquidation of a debt. Way back in the '70's here in Manhattan assessments could be paid in instalments, but I could not tell off-hand whether it was under provision of law or by custom; but this I can say, that comparatively few people availed themselves of this right or privilege, and whatever it was, it was not of much value to property-owners as a body." Comptroller Grout, like his predecessors in office, is opposed to the reduction of interest on arrears and to the payment of assessments by instalments. The latter involves so much book-keeping that the Finance Department has always regarded it with horror.

Collector of Assessments and Arrears Wm. E. McFadden admitted that assessments could be paid by instalments. Regarding payment of assessments generally under the terms of the existing charter, he said: Assessments for local improvements—street openings, regulating, grading and paving or sewers—are entered as soon as confirmed. Ten days after entry they become liens on the property; then the property-owner has 60 days in which to pay off the assessment without any penalty attaching. If default is made after 60 days, he is then subject to a penalty at the rate of 7% per annum on the amount of the assessment from the date of confirmation, which, under the practice of the Bureau for the Collection of Assessments and Arrears, is the date of entry, to the date of payment, which penalty the property-owner is bound to pay. Property in default for three years may be sold after announcement of the sale had been made each week successively for three months in the "City Record."

If a taxpayer will send in a requisition to the office of the Collector of Assessments in any borough in which his property may be located, and which may be subject, either now or hereafter, to an assessment for a local improvement, due notice will be given him by the office to which he applies, of the date when such assessment was or is made, and the amount of money he has to pay for the benefits accruing to his property from such improvements.

It will be remembered that an endeavor has been made for some years to establish a division of notification in the Bureau for the Collection of Assessments and Arrears. During the Strong administration a bill was passed for this purpose, but applying only to Manhattan Island. The provisions of this bill are embodied in the charter, but in such a way that they are not considered mandatory, and a notification clerk has not been appointed. There is now, however, a bill in the Legislature which was introduced by Senator Hennessy, and which is in an advanced stage in both houses, to effect the creation of this division of notification in a mandatory way.

The bill says there shall be a division of notification in the Bureau for the Collection of Assessments and Arrears, under the care of a notification clerk and assistants appointed by the Comptroller, and holding office during his pleasure, but who shall discharge their duties under the supervision and direction of the Collector of Assessments and Arrears. Any owner of any lot, piece or parcel of land, not only in Manhattan, but in any part of the city, or any person interested in such property, may, if the bill passes, file with the notification clerk a statement containing a brief description of the property, with section, block and lot number, together with a postal address, and the same will be registered. For the purposes of the act, if it becomes one, the collector must provide a book for each section included in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, and for the other boroughs such volumes as may be required and as may be directed by the oCmptroller. Strange to say, however, the bill does not say that the notification clerk shall do any notifying! It would be done, however, because the Bureau for the Collection of Assessments and Arrears are most anxious to establish the relations indicated with property-owners.

West End Affairs

The West End Association met at usual monthly meeting on Monday evening. Cyrus Clark, President, was in the chair, and Warren C. Crane, No. 121 West 70th st; Thos. C. Edgar, No. 47 West 92d st; Moses Ottinger, No. 23 West 75th st; and Charles F. Rand, No. 71 Broadway, were elected to membership.

The Special Committee on Tenement House Law reported that they were unable to procure copies of proposed amendments to act, but appeared at the hearing in Albany when amendments were considered. So far as they related to new buildings, the amendments seemed to be in the direction of greater liberality, and likely more especially to benefit the boroughs outside of Manhattan.

On motion of Mr. Wilmot, a resolution was adopted approving the proposed widening of West 59th st, from Columbus Circle to Columbus av, and on motion of Mr. Pumpelly, one approving Assembly Bill No. 792, imposing a tax on posters, and it was referred to Committee on Legislation with power to take immediate action.

Carlisle Norwood addressed the meeting relative to the fire alarm system heretofore in use in apartment houses, and the desire of the Fire Commissioner to alter the present arrangement, whereby such use was made compulsory on the owners. On motion of Mr. Stabler, it was resolved that the efforts of property-owners to resist the forcible installation of fire alarm boxes at exorbitant prices be approved, and the President was authorized to appoint a committee of five to support the Fire Commissioner in the position assumed by him.

On motion of Mr. McDonald, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Kiliaen Van Rensselaer for his conduct of the affairs of the Amsterdam Avenue Defense Committee.

Carnegie Library Sites.

Comptroller Grout and Engineer McLean, of the Finance Department, have prepared for the consideration of the Board of Estimate the following list of sites, in Manhattan and the Bronx, which they consider suitable for improvement with branch library buildings. One site, that on East 79th st, between 2d and 3d avs, has already been acquired. The list for Brooklyn is given in the news of that borough on another page:

Nos. 29, 31 and 33 East Broadway. Price asked, $102,000.

A plot, 45 feet frontage, with 100 feet depth, on the southerly side of 82d st, 100 feet east of West End av. Price asked, $47,000.

On the southerly side of 138th st, 175 feet east of Lincoln av. Price asked, $20,000.

Tremont, near Harlem Railroad Station and the borough building. No estimate given.

Nos. 224, 226 and 228 East 125th st, to be acquired by condemnation proceedings at an estimated cost of $17,000 or $18,000.

In his report to Comptroller Grout, Mr. McLean says in regard to site on 82d st, that the market value is not above $38,000. He places the value of site in the Bronx at $17,000. Because of this report it is understood that the Trustees of the New York Public Library may withdraw the recommendation and suggest the acquisition of a site at 145th st, between Willis and Alexander avs.

At a meeting of the Board of Estimate yesterday, President CantorCantor, President Haffen and Chairman of the Board of Aldermen Fornes were appointed a committee to consider sites for Manhattan, Bronx and Richmond.

Apportionment of Franchise Taxes.

"There is still a further mode of lessening the tax burdens on some real estate where local improvements have been made, and the streets are used by corporations that are annually assessed upon their franchises in streets. Why should not the annual franchise tax be apportioned to pay towards the annual taxes on the real estate abutting on the streets that they use? Let such apportionment be according to the lineal feet occupied along the land where the franchise runs. This would help the property so situated to be a continual source of compensation for the use of the streets which had been paid for by private owners abutting on the street at the time it was first constructed. At the present time all the revenue from taxation of franchises is applicable to the general fund to relieve from taxation all other taxable property in the city. Any revenue that the city derives from the use of the streets should be apportioned among the abutting owners in the same manner to reduce the annual taxes. Sewers as constructed at the expense of the abutting property owners for the joint use of individuals and the public and they are cleaned and kept in repair at the public expense. This relieves them from any other obligation.

"It is time that the property which has paid for the street and prepared it for the use of the franchise should be recognized in such a manner as to be of some financial advantage to those that must submit to the annoyance and detriment to the property value because of some of these adjacent structures which are for the use and convenience of the general public. This apportionment cannot be done without a law to that effect."—R. S. Guernsey in the Sanitarian.

A. B. See Electric Elevator Co., of No. 220 Broadway, are offering for sale a fine manufacturing 3-front site located in Brooklyn, within 2½ blocks of the main entrance to the bridge, convenient to ferries and near the City Hall. A plot so desirable by reason of its central location, shipping and carrying facilities, and suited to improvement for a variety of manufacturing purposes, is not often in the market, and this offering is, therefore, recommended to the careful attention of investors in that line of realty. A diagram of the plot, with description and the reasons why it is offered for sale, will be found in our advertising pages, or interested parties can communicate with the A. B. See Electric Elevator Co., at the address given above, who will supply full particulars.

Coming Auction Sales

Peter F. Meyer will conduct a very important sale Tuesday next, which, although comprised of three parcels, only makes up by their individual merits for smallness of number. The first of these parcels is the modern bachelor-apartment house, the Pierrepont, on West 32d st, a 12-sty fireproof building, containing up-to-date operating plants and every modern convenience for tenants. It stands on a plot about 59x99, and is exceptionally well located for its purpose. The second parcel is a large fireproof store and loft building, known as Nos. 209, 211 and 213 East 23d st, equipped with freight and passenger elevators, electric light, steam heat, etc. The third parcel is the large elevator apartment house, located on the northeast corner of Lexington av and 73d st, on plot 102.2x51. Book-maps and further particulars may be obtained in Room 1,842, No. 25 Broad st, and at the auctioneer's office, No. 111 Broadway. Title Guarantee and Trust Co. will guarantee titles.

The D. & M. Chauncey Real Estate Company will offer, at the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange, on Tuesday, 18th inst., by order of the executors of the estate of Newbury H. Frost, deceased, several very desirable parcels of improved property in the 22d Ward. By reference to our advertising pages further particulars will be found. This is the most attractive auction bill that has been offered in Brooklyn for some time.

Richard V. Harnett & Co., Inc., announce in our business pages the sale of the improved business parcel, Nos. 39-41 East 13th st, and the 4-sty and basement dwelling, No. 444 West 23d st, on Tuesday next. The auctioneers will supply maps at No. 73 Liberty st.

L. J. Phillips & Co. will sell the brick tenement, No. 953 1st av, Tuesday, 18th inst. Description is given in our advertising pages, and the auctioneers' office is at No. 158 Broadway, where full information may be obtained.

Record and Guide Quarterly—Annual Number.

The annual number of the Record and Guide Quarterly is now ready for delivery. It contains all the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations. These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more, accompanied by expert comments; also by a list of realty corporations created during the past two years, with officers and the enterprises in which they are engaged. The whole makes a large volume of references which no real estate man can afford to be without. It should be on every desk and in every library. Its cost is as nothing compared to its value as a time-saver. This important work can be obtained, with three quarterly numbers, for the comparatively small sum of $10. It is published by the Record and Guide, at Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey St., where interested parties may see it and have its uses explained to them. If you cannot call, drop a postal card to the Publisher, or call him up on telephone 3157 Cortlandt.

LEASES.

The Lichtenstein Millinery Co. has leased from the New York Realty Corporation the plot, 50x100, on the west side of 5th av, 50 feet south of 45th st. The lease is for ten years at a rental of $25,000 a year net, and includes a 4-sty building which the company is to erect. The cost of the projected building is estimated at $100,000. The site was bought not long ago for $325,000. The lessees were reported to have leased No. 414 5th av several weeks ago. S. Osgood Pell & Co. were the brokers.

Slawson & Hobbs have leased for William Gunn and Andrew Grant to Edward J. Solomons the 9-sty fireproof hotel at Nos. 206 to 210 West 56th st, to be known as Hotel Quentin, for a term of ten years, at an average rental of $22,500 per annum, or an aggregate for the lease of $225,000. The building is not yet finished, but is under contract to be fully finished in every respect by April 15th, when the building is to be delivered ready for occupancy. The lessee has already rented several suites. Mr. Solomon's success heretofore as a hotel man insures him similar results in his 56th st enterprise.

The property No. 139 Broadway has been leased by the Washington Life Insurance Co. to the Liberty National Bank, through John N. Golding and E. Cruikshank & Co., the former representing the bank. Under the terms of the lease, which covers a term of forty years, the insurance company will erect on the lot a 2-sty building for occupancy solely by the bank, and to be specially constructed with this end in view. The lot has a frontage of 23.3 feet and a depth of 110 feet. It is now covered by an old 5-sty building, which is flanked on either side by the tall structure of the North American Trust Company, at the northwest corner of Broadway and Cedar st, and that of the Washington Life Insurance Company, at the southwest corner of Broadway and Liberty st. The latter corporation bought No. 139 Broadway for $303,000 in March, 1900, to insure light and air along the southerly side of its own big building. The Liberty National Bank at present occupies part of the ground floor in the Central Building, at Liberty and West sts.

OUT OF TOWN.

B. H. Irving has sold to George W. Lockwood a plot, 75x100, on Glover av, near McLean av, Yonkers. The buyer will erect three cottages.

Real Estate Notes.

James V. Geraghty states that he has not sold No. 103 East 78th st.

Francis C. Cohn states that No. 131 East 61st st has not been sold.

Albert Stake, real estate and loan broker, has removed to No. 156 Broadway. Mr. Stake has money to loan at from 4% to 6% on east side, Brooklyn, and Staten Island properties.

At this week's auction sale of securities by Adrian H. Muller & Son, 125 shares of Geo. A. Fuller preferred sold at 92¼ @92⅝, and 50 shares of Alliance Realty at 90¼-100.

The property sold by J. Clarence Davies & Co. last week was Nos. 169 and 171 West 78th st, and not No. 173, as stated in our last issue.

William E. Finn states that he has not sold the Colonnade Hotel and "Old London Street" property on Broadway, but that he will improve the property himself.

Fred. S. Godfrey, of Scranton, Pa., took title on Thursday to the southeast corner of 7th av and 49th st, upon which he will erect a 12-sty hotel.

The property at Nos. 36 to 42 Broadway, sold last week by E. A. Cruikshank & Co., will be transferred directly by the sellers and not by J. M. Hoen.

The firm of Polstein & Cohen, real estate brokers, of 1187 Lexington av, has been dissolved. Mr. Polstein has formed a partnership with his brother and opened offices in the Bible House, Astor place and 4th av.

The Whitlock Realty Co. was incorporated at Albany, with a capital of $500,000. Sturgis Whitlock, of Shelton, Conn.; E. D. Alvord, of South Norwalk, Conn.; and Abraham Quackenbush, of this city, are the directors.

Col. Oliver H. Payne is the buyer of the Cook plot on 5th av, 102 ft. north of 78th st, a plot 70x115, with an L to 78th st, 15x102. He will erect thereon a residence for his nephew, Payne Whitney.

The long-established real estate agency and brokerage office of James R. Waterlow continues at the old stand, No. 81 West 50th st, corner 6th av. The firm's specialty is the collection of rents and management of estates. They recently negotiated the lease for Gen. J. Watts De Peyster of the northwest corner of 6th av and 42d st, for 25 years, with renewals. The lessee, Walter Salomon, will make extensive alterations.

The long-established firm of Ruland & Whiting, real estate agents and brokers, has been incorporated as the Ruland & Whiting Co., New York, by Messrs. Ruland & Whiting, and their sons. The business continues at the old stand, No. 5 Beekman st, where they have been located since 1866, except when the present building was being erected.

The Lenox Realty Co. are the buyers of the plot, 50.5x100, at the northwest corner of 58th st and Park av, reported sold in our issue of February 1.

P. J. Heaney & Co., real estate brokers, have removed to No. 770 Tremont av, near 3d av. Heaney & Co. were the brokers in the sale of the three one-family houses, on Lorillard place, near 187th st, sold to Gerald C. Connor, and reported in the Record and Guide of February 22d.

The estate of Charles F. Hoffman, by a family trade, has secured a plot, 100x100, at the southwest corner of 6th av and 32d st. The Hoffman estate gave in exchange Nos. 4 and 6 Warren st, Mrs. E. T. Gerry, who owns the adjoining corner of Broadway and Warren st, being the buyer.

Among the conveyances recorded during the past week, there appears a deed taken under foreclosure on October 26, 1876, the property involved being Nos. 449 and 451 7th av; Wm. G. Lathrop, Jr., taking title to same at about $59,000. This property was sold last September by Silas B. Brownell to Francis Blake at $90,500.

The 7-sty apartment house, at the northwest corner of Broadway and 99th st, on plot 50x100.11, sold at auction this week, was one of the first of its kind erected on the West Side; it was built by Edward Kilpatrick. It sold at auction in 1900 to M. C. Cagger, an interested party, for $138,000, and is now sold to Gustave Stillgebauer for $132,000.

The Century Realty Company met on Thursday, and besides re-electing their most active officers and directors, added some new blood. The most important addition is George E. Coleman, a son of Michael Coleman, of the Equitable Life, who will take the post of acting vice-president. President William H. Chesebrough, Vice-President E. C. Potter, Treasurer Oakleigh Thorne and Secretary Oscar T. Roberts were re-elected. The directorate for the ensuing year—the last three names being additions—is as follows: H. B. Hollins, Oakleigh Thorne, E. C. Potter, H. S. Black, Henry F. Shoemaker, Charles F. Hoffman, Charlton T. Lewis, William F. Havemeyer, General James Jourdan, Warner Van Norden, William H. Chesebrough, Robert H. McCurdy, George E. Coleman and John C. Tomlinson. Mr. McCurdy is a son of President Richard A. McCurdy, of the Mutual Life, and Mr. Tomlinson is a former law partner of W. Bourke Cockran.

Largely owing to the activity of the railroads, a tremendous boom is underway in farming land in South Dakota. It is anticipated that very large numbers of immigrants will be brought into the State this spring. The figure mentioned is 200,000, but this is probably an exaggeration. The extent of the demand may be guaged, however, by the fact that since 1898 the average price of farm land has increased from $6 per acre to three times that figure. The farmers who are moving into the country are putting the land to much more intelligent use than formerly. Tehy are the sons and grandsons of men who went early to Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, and the younger generation moves west. They come with money to put up their buildings, build their fences, plant their trees and buy their implements. They will keep on coming, for there are millions of acres of ranch land west of the Missouri—the land of the buffalo grass—to be had for 50 cents an acre from the government. When the 416,000 acres of the Rosebud Indian reservation—land worth from $1,000 to $1,600 a quarter—is opened in accordance with the treaty, there will be 25,000 claimants to rush for the land.

What Sir Martin Conway, the Alpine climber and explorer, thinks of New York architecture, according to an interview with him recently published in the "Tribune:" "I like your irregular sky-line in New York. I think Broadway, from the Battery to Madison square, and then 5th av on, the finest street in the world. Viewed from Jersey City at sunset, Manhattan Island is one of the most genuinely beautiful works of man in the world. Those irregular buildings, each different, and each with its plume of smoke, are a sight never to be forgotten. I shall not be surprised to find inside of thirty years the walls of your sky-scrapers covered with colored tiles, that send back the sun. They tell me that it is much more likely that I will see the walls covered with advertisements. Well, I answer, go ahead and cover them so. Why not? Only keep the lettering inconspicuous; or, better, make it needless by first associating it with certain pictures, and then why aren't geese as good as anything else for decorative purposes? I know a tomb in Egypt where geese are most artistically used for such a purpose. Cover the walls with pictures of geese. Only draw and color them as well as those I saw yesterday, and you will achieve an artistic effect. The architecture of the future—that is, the architecture of steel—was born and is being developed in America. I want to see everything tried out."

THE BROADWAY TABERNACLE PURCHASE.

Of the lots in the district where the church wished to locate, there was only one within the reach of our purse. (The Broadway Tabernacle, a Congregational Church, recently sold at a great price its present site at Broadway and 34th st.) It was too dear, and it was too narrow, and it was ill-shaped, and it was undesirable for various reasons, but it was Hobson's choice. There was nothing else to be done, and we bought it. We paid $450,000 for it.—The Broadway Tabernacle Tidings.

AN INTERESTING CASE.

A suit just decided in the Supreme Court reveals the actual cost of the Hamilton Building, at the northeast corner of Park av and 125th st. It was traded for the Morse Building, and figured in the trade at $625,000, as against $650,000 for the Morse Building. The actual cost of the property was $200,000 for the land and 269,873.31 for the building, making a total of $469,-873.31, besides some small charges. Charles W. Hall, the late owner of the Hamilton Building, was sued by one McGuire, under a contract by which the former agreed to pay the latter 15% of the profit on the operation, for assisting in the preparation of the plans and specifications, letting contracts and supervising work, and on which $10,000 had been paid. Justice Scott, who tried the case, gave the plaintiff a judgment for $5,001. Judgment was based upon an agreed price for selling purposes made between the parties to the suit of $576,000. This less cost of land and building, $470,233.31, and broker's commission of 1%, $5,760, left balance of profit, $100,006.69, of which 15% is $15,001; $10,000 having been paid on account, judgment was given for balance of $5,001.

Carnegie branch library sites suggested to the Board of Estimate by Comptroller Grout and Engineer McLean, of the Finance Department, are the following:

Entire block bounded by Marcy av, Rodney st, and Division av. Cost, $50,000.

The vacant plot in Franklin av, opposite Hancock st, between Fulton st and Jefferson av. Price asked, $25,000.

Vacant plot on northwest corner of Clinton and Union sts. Price asked, $26,000.

Plot on southeast corner of 4th av and Pacific st. Price asked, $30,000.

Plot on south corner of Bushwick and De Kalb avs. Price asked, $30,000.

Northwest corner of Norman av and Leonard st. Price asked, $36,000.

Southwest corner of 4th av and 51st st. Price asked, $12,500.

Of the six of these sites, there is but little difference in the price fixed by the property-owners and the estimated market value by Engineer McLean. As to the seventh site, Mr. McLean believes the price is excessive. He does not think the property is worth more than $8,000. In his report he says the localities selected are desirable. He believes, however, that the area is too large and could be reduced materially without affecting the facilities of the library. The plots average about a dozen city lots, with the exception of the site which he says is excessive in price. This contains five lots only.

Burrill Bros. have sold for Harry M. Kennedy the 3-sty brownstone dwelling, on the northwest corner of 8th av and 2d st; price given is $20,000, and buyer is said to be a resident of Manhattan.

There are a number of bills at Albany, besides those relating to taxation and tenements, which have a direct interest to realty and building circles. The purchase of land and the erection of a building in this borough is contemplated by one of these, which is to incorporate the Masonic Temple and Masonic Home and Hospital Association of Brooklyn. The bill is Assembly Introductory No. 998, and was introduced into the Legislature by Mr. Adams. The names of the incorporators are: Claudius F. Beatty, Walter T. Bennett, George G. Brown, John H. Brennan, Charles H. Cox, Elbert Crandall, Theodore E. Green, Richard Goodwin, Philip Herrschaft, Edwin F. Howell, Frank E. Haff, Robert J. Kenworthy, P. Frederick Lenhart, Andrew B. Martin, John T. Pinches, James H. Rollins, John Stewart, Horace Sawtelle, John E. Sparrow, Rufus L. Scott, Jr., Oliver E. Stanton, Alfred Sims, John B. Sabine, Josiah Smith, Walter F. Sykes.

Mr. Pendry has a bill, Assembly Introductory No. 1011, to secure to passengers on surface cars the privilege of riding between any two points for one fare.

A bill (Senate Introductory No. 659), to authorize the organization of a trust company for the 26th Ward, introduced by Senator Wagner, names among the incorporators the following: Willard M. Curtis, lumber dealer; John C. Smith, carpenter; Kyran A. Murphy, builder, and Charles H. Smith and A. H. Weston, real estate men.

The World of Building

Material Market.

Every branch of industry has suffered more or less from the storms of rain and snow during the past week. Transportation has been blocked in many directions, and building has been almost at a standstill.

The storm commenced along the Northern Pacific Coast on the 1st, moving southward until it reached Dakota, from where it extended southward to northern Texas, centering over western Texas by March 3. From that point it went east and through the Mississippi valley, and then made its centre in Virginia. Snow has been reported in Ohio valley and the Middle Atlantic States, Maryland and Pennsylvania, New Jersey, southern New York and southern New England.

New York City traffic was considerably hampered by the snow during the week, indeed, on Wednesday traffic was congested in many parts of the city. The snowfall on that day amounted to six and a-half inches by 4 p. m., with over two inches of sleet.

That shipping and railroad traffic has been seriously retarded is already known in detail through the daily newspapers. As we go to press, however, the weather appears to take on a smile which promises a spell of fine spring days, and shrewd business men are sanguine that commerce in every direction will quickly assume a healthy, if not a vigorous tone.

Paterson has had a succession of woes, and the damages caused by the flood have already proved even more serious than the ravages of the fire. Everything in the shape of building there is quite at a standstill, and business generally is paralyzed for the time being. Undoubtedly the little city will rise like a Phoenix from her ashes and build her factories, warehouses, churches and homes in a manner to defy both fire and flood in the future.

Floods have done much to retard the progress of things in Pittsburg and Allegheny. Work was stopped in many mills and furnaces last Saturday owing to the heavy floods, and this in the present condition of the iron market seriously hampers production, besides depriving the workmen of the wages they might otherwise have earned.

The mills affected were those of the Republic Iron and Steel Co., Janes & Laughlin, several of the National Tube Co.'s plants, and the American Steel and Wire Co. In the latter, about 5,800 men were forced to quit work temporarily. At the Carnegie Steel Co.'s upper and lower mills, about 2,500 men were forced to stop for a few days. Fortunately, the Homestead works were entirely out of the path of the overflowing river. It is estimated that there was altogether 30,000 men out of work through the floods in Pittsburg and Allegheny alone, and 70,000, taking the entire iron district. At the Howe-Brown plant of the Crucible Steel Co. five crucible furnaces were submerged in water, and many other steel furnaces were caught at a busy time. The damage to the steel plants alone, including the time loss of 20,000 men and over 50 of the largest manufacturing plants in the city, may be easily estimated at one million dollars. This estimate is merely on the basis of a temporary shut-down. Already many of the mills and furnaces are going on as though nothing had happened, and by the time these lines are read every iron and steel mill in the district will, we expect, be in full operation.

An interesting preface in the latest directory to the Iron and Steel trades gives us some interesting facts: "The whole number of works," says the writer, "which are now equipped to manufacture all kinds of rolled structural material, including beams, beam girders, zee bars, tees, channels, angles, bridge rods, building rods, plates for bridge work, structural tubing, etc., is 67. This branch of the American iron trade, like the production of steel castings, has made marvelous progress since the appearance of our last directory. It has been a leading factor in the development of our steel industry and in the enlargement of our Bessemer steel industry beyond the production of railway rails."

The same authority gives the number of completed blast furnaces at 406, with an annual capacity of 24,000,000 tons. In 1898 the number of furnaces was 420, with a capacity of only 18,000,000 tons. Twelve other furnaces are now in course of erection. The number of rolling mills and steel works is given as 527; twenty-eight in course of erection and one being rebuilt against 504 completed and 4 in course of erection in 1898. In 1898 there were 3,251 puddling furnaces, whereas there are now 3,889. Bessemer plants number 47, with 100 converters. In 1898 there were 45, with 100 converters. It is stated that the annual capacity of the completed Bessemer converters has increased from 10,633,000 gross tons to 12,998,700 tons. The production of open-hearth steel castings has greatly increased since 1898. The number of open-hearth steel works has increased from 99 plants, with 281 furnaces, to 112 plants, with 403 furnaces.

A new iron foundry is about to be erected in Anniston, Alabama, by the Southern Car and Foundry Co. This will give employment to 100 men.

The recently proposed hardware combine, we are informed, is not altogether satisfactory. Texas hardware men believe that every hardware house in the State would be affected by it. The president of the Bryan Hardware Co., Mr. Guy M. Bryan, says "it will be equivalent to the Texas houses being absorbed if the combination secures the leading hardware firm in St. Louis and the most important one in New Orleans, which may come to pass. In the first place, jobbers not in the combination will not be allowed to purchase from manufacturers. Efforts have failed to round-up the various jobbers several times before, and it is likely that the latest move will be another failure.

Negotiations for the purchase of valuable tracts of iron ore lands in Minnesota have been concluded. These are on the Messaba range, and amount to $350,000.

Drake & Stratton have received contracts for about 1,400,000 cubic yards of ore from the Messaba iron ore range, costing about $600,000.

It is estimated that the net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for its first year will be $111,000.

Iron and Steel Prices.—Premiums on deliveries of pig iron have advanced from $1.50 to $2.00 per ton for sharp deliveries. The floods have had a generally demoralizing effect on the iron trade and deliveries of all kinds have been retarded. Buying of pig iron is generally for future delivery. Prices are very firm even at the recent advance. Consumers are mostly bought for several months ahead; nevertheless, they keep a sharp lookout with a view to supplying their needs for the last quarter of the year before too late. All classes of finished material are strong as regards prices, and the demand is quite active. This not only includes rails, structural material and bars, but sheets, pipe plates and other forms.

Window Glass, etc.—The window glass market is in an uncertain state. It has been expected that the jobbers would hold a meeting this past week in order to advance prices. This, however, has not taken place, and prices remain just as they were. Rumors of various colors are flying about, but as confirmation could not be had from those who are in a position to know, they are of little value. One responsible jobber, however, informs us that the reports regarding the importation of French and Belgian glass were altogether exaggerated. "Experience," he said, "has proven that it is not possible to bring foreign glass measuring more than 40 meter inches over here to compete profitably with the American product."

The window glass blowers at Cumberland Glass Works at Bridgton, N. J., continued working without asking for the 10 and 15% advance demanded in Millville and Vineland. They were informed, however, that their wages would be increased to the same rate as paid elsewhere. The J. Whilden Moore Co. will follow the action of the Cumberland works.

A second window glass plant is to be erected at Point Marion, Pa., in the spring.

The high freight for glass now prevailing at Atlanta, Ga., is a serious consideration with the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co., and they are making great efforts to obtain a reduction. A central warehouse which the company recently established at Atlanta has been removed to Savannah. They much prefer Atlanta, however, as a centre, and will continue fighting for the reduced rate. The rate on window glass from Pittsburg to Savannah is 28c. per hundred. The rate to Atlanta on the same material is 56c. per hundred.

Lumber.—There has not been any unusual demand during the past week, no doubt owing to the unfavorable weather. The market, however, is strong, and as the spring advances prices may take a move in some directions. Enquiries for hemlock are reported, and as stocks are not abundant, prices are expected to advance. Ash and quartered oak are being sought after, as is also poplar and plain oak. The supply of spruce is insufficient for present orders, and advances are in the air. Mills are unable to promise quick deliveries of North Carolina pine, and prices are very firm, with expected advance. Minneapolis reports that white pine is advanced 50c. to $1.00 a thousand.

The Cheat River Lumber Co., with headquarters at Cumberland, Md., has been organized by capitalists at Elkins, W. Va. Western capitalists have also organized to develop a large slice of territory in Nicholas and adjoining counties.

Charles E. Oak, the former State land agent for Maine, owns 400,000 acres of timber land in Maine. He said recently that "it would be better for the State if all its timber lands were owned by pulp companies."

A contract has just been closed for the delivery at Pittsburg, Pa., within a year, of 100,000,000 feet of Oregon fir at a cost of $4,000,000. The Pittsburg Lumber Dealers' Association have made the deal.

Bricks, Lime, Cement, etc.—The weather has interfered with this branch of the material market very much. There are abundant supplies awaiting the lively demand sure to come with the fine weather. Prices are firm, and advances in some materials are quite possible with the spring rush, which is declared certain.

Burns & Russell, brick manufacturers, of Baltimore, have just been awarded a contract for thirteen million bricks, to be used in the erection of the new cadets' quarters' building at the Naval Academy, Annapolis, for which Noel & Thomas are the general contractors.

The Baltimore Brick Co. recently received a contract for 6,000,000 bricks for the new Custom House.

The Eppig Brick Co. has just been incorporated at Augusta, Me., with $100,000 capital. The officers are William T. Eaton, Boston, president; and Frederick Levis, treasurer.

The Kentucky Vitrified Brick Co. has just been organized at Louisville, Ky., with a capital of $75,000.

The brick plant of L. L. Stevens is about to move his brick plant from Elberton, Ga., to Lovick Station, near Birmingham, Ala. The new plant will cost about $50,000.

A paving-stone combine is reported from Utica, New York. It includes about 30 companies engaged in quarrying paving stones in Albion, Medina and Holley. The combine will have a capital of $250,000.

Plants are about to be erected in Sheffield, Ala., to use the slag from the furnaces in the manufacture of cement.

Asbestos.—Canadian asbestos is likely to meet with a big revival, since it has been discovered that the European substitute is by no means equal to the American asbestos. Canadian asbestos is now worth three times what it was a year ago, and the mines are again reported in full activity.

Building News.

MERCANTILE.

Wm. C. Hazlett, No. 1133 Broadway, has completed plans for a 3-sty and basement store and office building to be erected on the southwest corner of 16th st and 6th av. Bloodgood, No. 149 Broadway.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

Henry C. Pelton will not be ready for bids on the Darien Library, to be erected at Darien, Conn., until August 1, 1902.

Edward P. Casey, architect, formerly of No. 171 Broadway, is now located at No. 1 Nassau st.

Bradford L. Gilbert, who has been south for some weeks, and spent the past week at the exposition at Charleston, S. C., will return to New York on March 12th or 13th.

Mr. Davis, of Davis & Shepard, No. 203 Broadway, has been looking over Paterson, N. J., during the past week. This firm will begin on plans for buildings there at once.

J. & G. J. Fleischmann, the well-known builders, will name their new apartment house, at the southwest corner of Lenox av and 141st st, the Marconi.

John W. Rapp has secured the contract for fireproofing the Hammond residence, opposite the Carnegie residence, 91st st and 5th av, for which Carrere & Hastings are the architects and C. T. Wills the builder.

An interesting arch test is now being made at Schratweiser's Sheel-Metal Lath Works, 3d av, corner of 7th st, Brooklyn, which may be inspected any day until 15th inst., between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. This arch is a groined arch, and is being subjected to a total weight of pig-iron of 108,000 lbs. on a floor space of 3 ft. x 6 ft., or 6,000 lbs. to the square foot. It is the invention of Jacob Schratweiser, who will be glad to exhibit and explain the test to architects and builders.

Plans were filed at the Bureau of Buildings last Saturday for a 9-sty hotel, to be erected on the west side of 7th av, from 44th to 45th st, being 200.10 feet front by 162.3 feet deep. W. W. Astor, of London, England, is the owner, and Clinton & Russell, of No. 32 Liberty st, are the architects. The estimated cost is placed at $1,000,000. The building is being erected for W. C. Muschenheim. In all reports heretofore made regarding it, it was said the building would be 12 stories high.

The Court of Appeals have decided that contractors are not entitled to damages for delays in their contract owing to financial embarrassment of the city due to consolidation, and the operation of the new charter at the beginning of 1898. It will be remembered that the refusal of Comptroller Grout to meet instalments due on contracts tied up a great deal of work then underway for some months.

The Braender Cellar Drainer and Bilge Syphon are described and illustrated in a neat brochure issued by the patentee and manufacturer, Philip Braender, of No. 47 West 125th st. These devices, which are commended by builders, plumbers and realty owners, have for years been used with success for draining cellars and keeping them dry, and for use in excavations or any depression where water accumulates. Instances of signal success include their work at the Ansonia Hotel site, Broadway, 74th and 75th sts; apartment house, 5th av and 52d st; and Columbia College grounds. Mr. Braender, the patentee, is one of our busiest and most successful builders. The Braender Cellar Drainer and Bilge Syphon are simple in construction, besides being strong, durable and non-corrosive.

BUILDING IN CHICAGO.

In the line of big building operations, says the "Inter-Ocean," of Chicago, the week brought out a number of interesting facts. George and William R. Manierre obtained a building permit for a 17-sty office building, 63x80 feet, and 257 feet high, at the northeast corner of Dearborn and Madison sts; Marshall Field was authorized to put four additional stories to the 12-sty Merchants' Loan and Trust Company's structure, at the northwest corner of Clark and Adams sts; A. J. Alexander took out a permit for four additional stories to the Ashland block annex, at 49-51 Clark st; Wilson Brothers were granted a permit for a 10-sty mercantile structure at the southwest corner of 5th av and Charles place; and Butler Brothers for an 11-sty warehouse, at 7-13 West Randolph st. The projected improvement on the former Mason property, at 92-96 Washington st, 60x180 feet, now owned by David C. Cook, of Elgin, has advanced one step further toward reality, though the parties in interest still refuse to make any definite statements concerning it. Henry Ives Cobb, who designed the Title and Trust Building, adjoining the site on the west, has been retained to draw plans for a 16-sty building, which is to cost $700,000, and of which a part at least is to be occupied by the Trust Company.

Questions and Answers.

BROKERS' COMMISSIONS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I offered a retail store belonging to A to B about eight months ago. B looked over the stock, neighborhood, books, etc., and found the price too high. But last week B bought the place, anyhow, making and closing the deal with A. Both A and B are regular customers of mine. A nor B informed me of the deal; neither did A offer me anything in the line of a commission. Have I in law a standing to recover commission from A or not?

Answer.—If you should sue, I do not think you would recover, as so long a time elapsed between the offer of the store and its purchase by B.—Law Editor.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please answer the following: A employs B to sell or exchange his property. B finds some property through another agent in exchange for A's property. A satisfactory agreement was made on both sides, and contract was drawn up by the lawyer and signed by both parties; also when such day was set for passing the deed the deal did not go through, as agent's client, No. 2, backed out. Now I am entitled for my commission on either side. Please take notice, the client of agent No. 2 never showed up during all the transactions, as the whole business was made through agent No. 2. Now, from whom shall I collect my part commission; from agent No. 2, or the owner? Will you kindly advise what is best to be done in this matter?

Answer.—If the client produced by agent No. 2 was able to carry out his contract, you are entitled to your full commission from A. Agent No. 2 must look for his commission to his client. —Law Editor.

DIFFERENCE IN GRADE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly let me know whether the owner of property 12 feet above grade is not held responsible for all water and dirt running into adjoining premises?

Answer.—No.—Law Editor.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482, denote that the property is in section 2 block 482.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers, the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—The letters R. S. mean Revenue Stamp, as R. S. $8.00 means Revenue Stamp $8.00.

Tax on Conveyances executed prior to July 1st, 1901, on $100 to $500, 50c., and for each additional $500 or fraction thereof, 50c.; on Conveyances executed on and after July 1st, 1901, 25c., where consideration exceeds $2,500, and is not more than $3,000, and 25c. for each additional $500 or fraction thereof.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers, under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage is drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find Mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (‡) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. are preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious; real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

··· The New Rapid Transit Route

The interest taken in the new underground rapid transit route shows clearer than anything else how closely the future value of millions of dollars' worth of real estate is connected with this long-deferred enterprise.

So great was the demand for the rapid-transit maps issued recently by the Record and Guide, that the entire edition was exhausted.

A new edition is now ready for delivery; price, 10 cents; postage extra, 2 cents. The map has also been printed on bond paper. Price, 25 cents; postage extra, 2 cents.

Every real estate broker, and all who are interested in real estate, should possess this map. It gives the route of the new transit lines, the location of all stations, sections of the road, etc. Will be needed for constant reference. Order at once. RECORD AND GUIDE OFFICE,
Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey St., New York City.

Vol. LXIX. MARCH 15, 1902. No. 1774

WHILE the Stock Market retains its professional character, its continued strength and the frequency with which sensational advances are made in what are called specialties are attracting some stragglers in from the outside. The movement has not gone so far yet as to break the faith of the bear element in their own position, but it looks a little as if persistence in the tactics employed on the other side may eventually do so. It is to be hoped that when those who now believe in a lower range of values surrender their views they will not find themselves caught, but it is certainly a fact that the market was never manipulated so much as it is to-day, and has been for months past. Some encouragement is found in the reports of rain in the Southwest, supervening on a long drought; in the reasonably cheapness of money and its fairly good supply, notwithstanding the demands of the interior and foreign centers; and in the apparent ease with which labor troubles, that at first threaten to become a serious menace to trade are composed. This alone shows that business is exceptionally good, otherwise trade disputes would be left to work themselves out more. When the commercial interests interfere as they did this week in the Boston strike it is a sure sign that they are prosperous, and anxious that nothing shall interfere with their prosperity. On the other hand there are matters not so assuring. Buyers of a good many stocks at prices ruling for the past year, must be disappointed at the dividend returns, which while good and even large for post-election prices, make but a moderate return for the money invested. For instance, St. Paul on current quotations pays less than 3½ per cent., and still less upon investments made last spring. The be-fooling of holders of Amalgamated Copper in the matter of dividends ought to be a warning to them, that in dealing in such stock they are playing with fire, though history proves that that is a game Wall st. likes. Probably the most disquieting item of news is that relating to the proposed retirement of a portion of United States Steel preferred into a bond, the object of which is, of course, to obtain fresh capital to meet the requirements of the company's business. The statements issued by the company have not foreshadowed this, but their securities have always rested under the suspicion that the organization of the company was made too hurriedly, and that securities were issued too lavishly in order to avert at any cost a conflict in the steel trade that appeared to be imminent. Any price was paid for the sake of other interests at stake, and it is felt that a time must come when an equalizing process will set in and a penalty will have to be paid for previous error. Meantime, no weakness will be permitted if it is true that a new financial scheme is to be carried out, and probably the method of raising the new funds will be one that will offer some immediate advantage—a somewhat equivocal benefit—to the stock in the form of rights.

MONEY in the great European centers is approaching the "glut" stage and bankers are beginning to bemoan the prospect. The chairman of the International Bank of London recently presented the case thus: "It is probable that towards the middle and end of this year we may see a great abundance of money in this country, and corresponding difficulty for banks to invest their capital profitably. We have at the present moment in Germany an absolutely unparalleled abundance of money, which has found expression quite lately in the remarkable fact that the Imperial Bank of Germany actually had more gold in their coffers than there were bank notes outstanding, and which has produced the remarkable phenomenon that money for ordinary and stock exchange purposes in Berlin is cheaper than I ever recollect. That, I need not say, is not exactly a blessing for banking institutions, and I am afraid that as months go by we shall probably have a similar state of things in this country, especially if America, notwithstanding its great internal prosperity, is obliged to go on sending us gold in order to pay for various purchases of material and of securities." The growing production of gold has an important bearing on the matter of money supply, and returns thereof are eagerly read. Especially is this the case with reference to the Rand, where slow but sure progress is being made. Production and values reported by the Transvaal Chamber of Mines are: November, 39,095 ounces, $781,900; December, 52,897 ounces, $1,057,940; January, 70,340 ounces, $1,406,800; February, 81,405 ounces, $1,628,100. Australia reported a production of 4,330,000 crude ounces for 1901, to compare with 4,193,000 ounces for 1900, and 4,461,000 for 1899. The average value per crude ounce is $17.40, which would make the 1901 output worth $75,342,000. German iron interests report further improvement, and the cement interests, if anything, further prostration. One cement company has declared a dividend of 2 per cent., against 6 per cent. last year; one of 3 per cent., against 12 per cent. for 1900, which had, however, to be paid from surplus, although the company sold 169,700 tons of Portland; some companies are in financial straits and some contemplating reduction of capital, etc. The proposed discontinuance of sugar bounties is causing something of a scare in Austria and especially in Bohemia where a large proportion of the population lives by the production of beet sugars, and values of property and supplies are based upon large profits hitherto made by means of export bounties and high home prices.

A Fluid City.

THE Evening Post has recently commented on the fact that New York, not only industrially but socially, has not as yet been able to settle down. "The sign of an established and durable social order in a city," it says, "is the presence of dearly defined neighborhoods, where people of common tastes and similar resources find near at hand their natural associates. But it is doubtful if any great number of New Yorkers, except those of foreign origin, are in any such fortunate situation. You will find an Italian, a Chinese, a Hungarian quarter, but where will you find an aristocratic, an artistic, or a university quarter?" And it attributes this lack to a fixed domicile of people with similar tastes and modes of living to the fluid condition of the city, which prevents any gathering together of the clans.

Certainly, nothing is more remarkable about New York, than the rapidity with which population and business shift their habitations, and just at present, what with the new bridges and tunnels, which are stretching out in every direction, there are impending, perhaps, readjustments more than ever radical and rapid. Nevertheless, we believe that the Post in the aboye quotation exaggerates the lack of accomplished facts in the distribution of New York population and business. So far as the latter is concerned there is much in the present occupation of space that is relatively permanent. The financial district is well fixed, and one can scarcely imagine any very radical shifting in the future. Even the expansion of business in this district does not encroach much upon the space occupied by other trades, because it is taking place in blocks one dimension of which is twenty stories high. In the same way the glass, provision, clothes, leather and tobacco trades, all of them occupy locations, which have remained comparatively unchanged for many years, and which will change only to expand from existing centers. The greatest expansion is taking place in what may be vaguely called the wholesale trade, which within the past fifteen years has been creeping rapidly up from Bleecker st., along the lines of Broadway and 5th av., to 23d st., and which is just now devouring space hitherto devoted to residences more quickly than ever; but even in this case the change is only in the way of an advance from an existing base.

As business has pushed further north, it has displaced residences by the hundred; yet it is too much to say, as the Post says, that the habitation map of New York fails to contain any "quarters." There is an "aristrocatic" quarter, in the only sense that any quarter in New York can be aristocratic. Along the line of 5th av., north of 48th st., is a section devoted to very rich people, which is as much of a quarter in its way as the West End of London. Furthermore, south of 48th st., along the same line, there is a pretty definite district, in which clubs and bachelor apartment houses predominate; while some blocks to the west, there is a quarter known as the Tenderloin, in which people of similar tastes, if not of similar resources, are said to co-habit, and which may be considered as the "sign of a durable and established social order" in much the same way that the gallows has been considered the sign of a civilized society. It is true that New York has not like Paris, an artistic or a university "quarter," but is not that because there are not enough students and artists in New York to have "quarters" of their own? If New York were to the United States as important a center of the higher education as Paris is in France, there would certainly be a section, in which students predominated, but at present the number of aspirants to intellectual honors in New York are swamped by the mass of ordinary people. It is precisely the same in London, and yet London enjoys a social order, said to be more durable, if not more endurable, than that of Paris.

What changes in the way of redistribution the future has in store for New York, no man may predict. During the past hundred years the place in which rich and fashionable New Yorkers have liked to live has gradually shifted from Battery Park to east of the Central Park; and probably, during the next hundred years other changes just as radical as this will have been consummated. It all depends upon the rate of industrial progress, and that of expansion in population. It is frequently, somewhat boldly predicted, that it is the ultimate destiny of Manhattan to become the workshop of some ten or fifteen million people, who will live across the waters to the north, south, east and west. This may be so; but if it should ever actually happen, the arrangement would have many inconveniences. It would assuredly be very much more economical to distribute industry with population, and so far as manufacturing is concerned that is the tendency at the present time. It is only the businesses connected with finance, wholesale buying and selling, shopping and amusements, which tend to be concentrated in Manhattan, and with the increasing use of tall buildings, it is not possible that even in a century these kinds of business will require a space anything like as large as Manhattan Island. It is at least entirely possible that certain parts of the city will become comparatively permanent in the uses to which they are put. Take the millionaires "quarter" for instance. In the past rich men have been continually shifting their residences further north, because the land which they occupied was worth more for business than for residence purposes. But this is no longer the case.

The competition of very rich men for desirable locations in the present fashionable section has sent prices up so high that this property is worth more to its present owners than it is ever likely to be worth for business purposes. In the same way buildings over ten stories high must represent a certain permanence of achievement, and we shall expect to see during the next few decades a much greater tenacity, both of business and social conditions, than that to which we have heretofore been occustomed in this fluid city.

The Real Estate Situation

The present real estate situation is a curious compound of good influences and bad, and it is an extremely difficult matter to disentangle the one from the other. There are more transactions actually taking place at the present time than at any previous period in the history of New York real estate, a fact which is all the more extraordinary, because the building of small dwellings, which formerly used to bring between 750 and 1,000 new houses on the market every year is almost entirely suspended. This activity is accompanied by advancing prices, large amounts of building, and a steady and remunerative demand on the part of tenants. It has behind it many causes which are thoroughly sound and effective, among which the most important are the prevailing business prosperity, the imperative demands for certain classes of property resulting from tne land purchases in the interest of transit improvements, and finally the legitimate effect of these improvements themselves. The co-operation of these several causes has produced some remarkable advances of values, and has unsettled the heads of a good many real estate owners and speculators. They are getting the speculative fever, which when present, tends to make men forget the permanent basis of real estate value, and incites them to bid against each other and consequently to bring about unwarrantably high quotations. A good many speculators reach the same result by process of mere inflation. Through the use of dummies and corporations, which are only themselves under another name, they make it appear that certain parcels have increased marvellously in value within a few months, and they do their best subsequently to maintain these fictitious prices. The consequence of all this is that conservative investors, who want safe and substantial returns upon their purchases keep out of the market, which is left in the hands either of speculators, or of people who are buying for use rather than for investment. In a great many cases we have no doubt that these speculative prices are simply a shrewd anticipation of prospective value, and that investors five years from now or more will pay them willingly, but on the whole it is certain that the speculative element is more predominant in the market just at present than is quite wholesome; and if this element is not reduced or moderated, it may lead to an inflation which will collapse, will wipe out weak speculators, and result in years of dullness and depression.

Good Influences and Bad.

At present, however, the demand created by people who want to use and improve properties is such that the speculative anticipation of increased values is frequently more than justified. Take, for instance, the following case, which is typical of what has been going on in many parts of the city. An old building at No. 844 7th av., on a 25x100 lot, was bought in 1887 for $23,000, and did not increase much in value until recently. Three weeks ago the owner was asking $40,000 and later raised his price to $45,000, it being finally purchased at a price somewhat between the two figures, by the owner of the northwest corner of 7th av. and 54th st., which it adjoins. This corner is a lot of the same size, now improved by a five story flat. A year ago probably $60,000 would have been gladly accepted for it, but a few weeks before his recent acquisition, he was asking $75,000 for the corner alone, and he has already refused $120,000 for the whole 50x100. He thinks he can get $150,000 from somebody who wants to build an apartment hotel. It is such stories as these, freely circulated as they are at present, which turn the heads of men. A large crop of them comes from the district east of Madison av., and north of 59th st., in which the activity continues unabated. We pointed out last week that the demand for cheaper dwellings in this vicinity had been very much accelerated by the people in the vicinity of the Grand Central terminus, who had been displaced from their residences, but this has only added zest to a demand, which is already very strong. In truth, the movement in the direction of converting the old brownstone dwellings into modern American basement houses has already crossed Park av., and plots of sufficient width are in excellent demand for this purpose. Temporarily, indeed, the supply of cheaper residences has fallen behind the need of them, which is no wonder considering that only one row of relatively cheap dwelling houses that can be bought for under $30,000, is now being erected on Manhattan Island. During the past week, out of seventy-one sales reported during the first four days, forty-two were sales of private dwellings, and of these four-fifths were situated either east or south of Central Park.

In view of the fact that the plans for new tenements are being held back until the pending amendments to the law are passed, and that a number of important classes of buildings are scarcely represented at all in the plans filed, the building figures continues to show marked strength. Lofts, factories and apartment hotels are the most conspicuous features of the announcements. Our building news this week indicates the erection of a hotel on 42d st,, a twelve story business building on 34th st., a store and loft building at Broadway and 28th st., an apartment hotel on an unusually large plot on 43d st., and a twelve story business building at the corner of Fulton and Pearl sts. This is a good budget of big buildings for one week, and forebodes a continuation of the present prosperity of the building trades.

ON another page will be founnd lists of minor improvements adopted by the local boards of improvements of Manhattan and the Bronx, which require action by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and on which, it is complained, the board is not acting with the promptitude required by the Charter. So far no advantage has been gained by the localities from the charter provisions that were intended to remedy the effects of the scandalous policy of the late Municipal Assembly towards them. Under the Charter of 1897, almost everything in the nature of an improvement had to go to the Municipal Assembly for approval; in practice that was simply to bury it, because owing to inter-borough jealousies action thereon was almost impossible. The labor employed in getting a considerable amount of work through the local boards and the Board of Public improvements was wasted, because the resolutions authorizing it died with the body that ought to have adopted or rejected them. The amended charter contains provisions framed to expedite the work of development in opening streets, regulating and grading streets, building sewers, etc., by placing the power to do such work, when the cost was not more than $500,000 in any instance, with the boards of local improvement, subject only to the approval of the Board of Estimate. The board have a great deal of work on their hands and there are no doubt good reasons why they have not acted on the resolutions sent to them, but they ought to remember that the growth and progress of the city depend in a measure upon the class of improvements referred to, and that prompt action is necessary if the outlying sections are to be developed to meet the demands of natural growth in population. Development was retarded by the mulishness of the late popular representative body, which was hard enough, but it will be doubly hard if delays are to be continued now that the process of authorization has been made so simple by the elimination of the popular assembly, whose internal bickerings and jealousies were supposed to be the only cause of obstruction.

MAYOR LOW declares that the bill, now in the way of passage at Albany, giving the Board of Estimate and Apportionment emergency power over the standing and remuneration of city officials will be used simply for the purpose of properly classifying the departmental employees. Considering that the board cannot consummate this reform without the grant of this emergency power, and that it cannot properly organize and temper those departments, until the sub-officials are classified upon a just and economical basis, the Mayor was entirely justified in asking for this authority. It is very much to be hoped that the early promise of the administration to save the taxpayers' money by a vigorous pruning of the departments will be fulfilled, for if it fails to make any reduction upon the Tammany provisional budget, it will not only disappoint many of its followers, but give the whole reform movement a black eye. Such a failure will render absurd all the election talk about Tammany extravagance, and will make men wonder why it is that in New York no administration seems able actually to get regular city expenditures upon an economical basis. We offer this warning, because we observe that some of the new estimates, instead of showing a reduction from the provisional appropriations, are coming in some hundreds of thousands of dollars larger; and the Comptroller is evidently disturbed over the prospects. Nothing could be more harmful to the public interests than a merely niggardly policy of not spending a dollar that can be legally saved; but it is just because the Record and Guide appreciates the necessity of appropriating considerable sums of money for public baths, small parks, municipal art decoration, and similar purposes, that we are particularly solicitous about the making of some preliminary saving on the payroll.

A New Department in Our Advertising Pages.

The readers of the Record and Guide will notice a new department in our advertising pages, which will, we believe, find favor with those who wish to buy or sell special pieces of property. This new department is called by the old but excellently descriptive title of "Wants and Offers," and in it will be printed a list of real estate parcels which brokers and owners desire to sell, or a description of the kind of property which they wish or are empowered to purchase. It will be found to be of particular use to brokers and owners, whose names are given a prominent place, and it will become, like the other departments of the paper, more or less a matter of permanent record, which can be conveniently referred to by interested operators. It is scarcely necessary to insist upon the peculiar desirability of the Record and Guide for this kind of advertising. The paper is constantly in the hands not only of all the people in any way professionally interested in real estate, but also finds it way into the offices of banks, trust companies and in general of institutions and firms which have money to invest or property to sell. In the American Newspaper Directory, in which publications are classified according to the excellence of their circulation, the Record and Guide is given, along with only a few other publications, a rating second to no other paper in the city, and no better medium could be found for people who wish to attract the attention of investors, property owners and their agents. The new department is marked by an attractive and conspicuous heading and will be retained as a regular feature of our columns.

Minor Improvements.

THE LOCAL BOARDS BUSY, BUT THE BOARD OF ESTIMATE DOING NOTHING.

Since the beginning of the year the various local boards of improvement have sent, through the offices of their several borough presidents, a large number of small improvements to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for approval, and upon which that board has failed to act. In the Bronx it is said that action had not been taken upon any one of the resolutions forwarded from that borough; whether the same condition prevails as to the other boroughs cannot be stated, but it is probably so, because the board would be hardly likely to make flesh of one and fowl of another. These matters are probably held up by the board to await a decision on the apportionment of the available funds of the city to the various improvements under way and contemplated, but the delay overlooks the provisions of the Charter relating to local improvements. The Charter provides that the local board may order certain work costing $2,000 to be done, and, with the approval of the Board of Estimate, works involving an expenditure of not more than $500,000. Whenever the cost is greater than that the consent of the Board of Aldermen has to be obtained. These provisions were framed to expedite the adoption and execution of improvements of small cost and of local effect, which it was previously almost impossible to obtain from the Municipal Assembly. The lists of improvements sent from the local boards of Manhattan and the Bronx to the Board of Estimate since Jan. 1st will be found further on. There is given in addition lists for the Bronx of work underway and work stopped by injunction of court.

In reference to the complaints of inaction on the part of the Board of Estimate referred to above, it ought to be stated that the board held a long meeting yesterday, with the intention of clearing up routine business before taking up the revision of the Tammany budget for this year. Among the matters considered were a proposed issue of bonds to the amount of $100,000 for the improvement of Crotona, Mosholu, and the Bronx and Pelham Parkways; a resolution providing for the building of a court-house at East 161st st and 3d av; several resolutions providing for the construction of sewers; an offer to sell to the city Bath Knickerbocker, in Brooklyn; a communication from the Comptroller relative to the issue of $103,000 bonds for park and street openings; a resolution authorizing the execution of a contract with the city of Yonkers for water supply in the 24th Ward; and a petition from residents of the 26th Ward, Brooklyn, relative to the allotment of $1,000,000 for repairing streets in that borough.

Miscellaneous:
3d av and 189th st, bridge over depressed tracks of N. Y. & Harlem R. R.; estimated cost, $19,000; plans and specifications transmitted to old Board of Public Improvements and now supposed to be in the hands of Board of Estimate.
Removal of telegraph and telephone wires and poles from main thoroughfares.
Court-house at 161st st, 3d av and Brook av. City has had title to land for two years; appropriation wanted for building.

In the Bronx one of the improvements most needed is the completion of the Grand Boulevard and Concourse, from 161st st to Mosholu Parkway, which, as will be seen further on, is held up by an injunction of court. The Farragut st outlet sewer is just on the point of being completed, as is the extension of the outlet sewer to West Farms road and So. Boulevard. On the Broadway outlet sewer, which empties into the Hudson River at 192d st, extending north to Exterior st, and Broadway to the city line, progress is being hastened by the action of Prest. Haffen. Plans for constructing a bridge across the Hudson Railroad tracks, at 189th st, were approved last year, and sent to the Board of Estimate. The viaduct crossing the yards of the N. Y. & H. R. R. R., at 153d st, is receiving the structural steel, and it is expected that it will be completed in the coming spring. The Melrose av viaduct over these yards, from 163d to 165th st, was completed last fall, and makes an important connection between Melrose av and Webster av.

In the Legislature.

TENEMENT HOUSE LAW AMENDMENT BILL REPORTED—PENNSYLVANIA TUNNEL BILL PASSED—PARK AVENUE TUNNEL—OTHER MATTERS.

An agreement has been reached to adjourn March 27th. This will make Mayor Low's action on all city bills sent to him hereafter final, because the time he can hold them under the law will not expire before adjournment.

The Cities Committee of the Senate and Assembly have reported favorably the Tenement House Commission's bill to amend the Tenement House Law with the Brooklyn compromise, explained in the last number of the Record and Guide.

The bill empowering the City of New York to grant tunnel franchises in perpetuity, known as the Pennsylvania R. R. Tunnel bill, passed both houses and goes to Mayor Low.

Westchester representatives are fighting hard to make more definite as to time the terms of the bill under which it is proposed to compel the substitution of electricity for steam as the motive power in the Park av tunnel, than is found in the Apgar bill. This is the bill approved by Mayor Low. The objection to it is that it not only puts the substitution as far off as May 1, 1905, but also gives the State Railroad Commission power to extend that time. What the Westchester people want is an earlier and certain date. Assemblyman Apgar's bill, more specifically described, is Introductory No. 1105. It forbids the operation of trains by steam locomotives in the tunnel from 96th to 56th st, after May 1, 1905, with, however, discretion in the State Railroad Commission to extend the time upon proper proof that the work of changing the power is being diligently and in good faith progressed. The bill also authorizes the New York & Harlem R. R. Co. to operate through the tunnel and in the 42d st depot with electricity, compressed air or any motive power approved by the Railroad Commission.

Notwithstanding the lateness of the session, another contribution to the mass of tenement house law amendments, now before the Legislature, has been made. This, from Senator Hennessy, who has introduced a bill into the Senate (Introductory No. 733), the object of which is to exempt 3-family houses from the provisions of the law. It adds the following words to Section 2 of the act:

But all buildings now constructed and built in modern and sanitary manner in any borough within the city of New York, and are not more than three stories in height above the sidewalk, and occupied by only one family on each floor, and having only three interior rooms on each floor, and having an exterior shaft or court no less than three feet wide and ten feet long to give light and ventilation to such rooms, and having the front room facing the street and the rear room facing the yard each connected with the next adjoining interior room through what is known as portiere openings, or openings not enclosed with doors, and such houses not over sixty feet deep; and all such houses as herein described and hereafter to be constructed within the city of New York outside the present established fire limits, or fire limits hereafter to be established within any borough in said city, shall not be deemed or classified as tenement houses within the meaning of this act.

There is a bill in the Assembly (Introductory No. 901), presented by Mr. Bedell, which proposes to allow railroads operating in cities to increase their terminals, and to open and close streets therefor, with the approval of the State Railroad Commission. This, it is understood, is to enable the New York Central R. R. Co. to enlarge their depot at 42d st. The dangerous feature of this bill is its substitution of the State Railroad Commission for the city authorities in a matter relating to the internal affairs of the city. On this point the bill is quite specific. It says: "No consent or approval other than that of the board of railroad commissioners, as hereinbefore provided, shall be required in order to carry such decision into effect * * * *. All acts and parts of acts, including the Greater New York Charter, inconsistent with this act, and in so far only as they are inconsistent with this act, are hereby modified or repealed."

The fire-escape specialistic has come to the fore at Albany since the Park Avenue Hotel disaster, and on his behalf, Mr. McQuade has introduced a bill (Introductory No. 1092), requiring every room in a hotel above the ground floor to be furnished with a rope or other appliance for escape of the occupant in case of fire. This bill is also in the Senate, with Introductory No. 716.

Mr. Grady introduced the North Side Board of Trade's bill to give the board one member on the Board of Examiners, "who shall be a master builder." It is Assembly bill No. 1104.

Senator Cocks introduced a bill providing for pro rata annual payments for a period of ten years of assessments for local improvements in the Bronx, Queens and Richmond. This bill is opposed by Comptroller Grout, and has little chance of passing and none of becoming a law this year, at any rate, because it would have to be approved by Mayor Low, and in the event of a veto, would not find the Legislature in session.

Senator Hennessy and Assemblyman Grady introduced a bill authorizing the city and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad jointly to build a bridge over the railroad tracks at Westchester av, in the Borough of The Bronx. The expense is to be divided equally between the city and the railroad.

Senator Stranahan introduced a bill giving the Board of Aldermen of New York City power to authorize the erection, alteration and maintenance of any building in construction with the new rapid transit tunnel railroad. The bill will meet just such a situation as now affects the elevated railroad at Rector st, where it goes into the Empire Building, and uses part of it. Under this bill part of buildings now used for other purposes may be leased for tunnel railroad stations, or railroad buildings may have parts leased for other purposes.

Apartment Houses v. Tenements.

COVENANT AGAINST TENEMENTS NOT VIOLATED BY THE ERECTION OF AN APARTMENT HOUSE.

Justice Truax, in Special Term of the Supreme Court, has dismissed the suit of George Kitching and other property-owners in 71st st, west of West End av, to restrain Mrs. Kate C. Brown, wife of James J. Brown, from erecting apartment houses there. The houses in question are located on the south corner of Riverside Drive and 71st st, and are Nos. 342-352 West 71st st. Justice Truax's opinion in full is as follows:

The defendant is bound by the covenant created in 1873 not to erect upon her property any buildings within forty feet of the front of said premises except of brick or stone, with roofs of slate or metal, and not to erect or permit upon any part of said premises any stable of any kind, coal yard, slaughter house, meat shop, tallow chandlery, steam engine, smith shop, forge, furnace, brass foundry, nail or other iron foundry, or any manufacturing of glass, gunpowder, starch, glue, varnish, vitriol, ink, petroleum or turpentine, or any cooper's, carpenter's or cabinetmaker's shop, or any establishment for tanning, dressing, preparing or keeping skins, hides or leather, or any brewery, distillery, sugar refinery or bakery, or drinking or lager beer establishment, circus, menagerie or public show, or exhibition of animals, railroad depot, railroad stable, car, engine or tenement house, or any other trade, manufactory, business or calling which may be in any way dangerous, noxious or offensive to the neighboring inhabitants. The defendant has erected on the premises bound by this covenant three modern apartment houses, each seven stories in height and each containing two apartments on each floor. Each apartment contains the following rooms: Parlor, library, dining room, butler's pantry, kitchen, five bed rooms and servant's room, private bath room and closet and servant's bath room and closet. Each apartment has its own private hallway and each is handsomely decorated. Each apartment is lighted by electricity, has modern open plumbing, gas ranges and telephones. The buildings are equipped with electric elevators and in general are supplied with every modern convenience. The plaintiffs contend that these buildings are tenement houses within the meaning of the covenant of 1873, and ask that the defendant be enjoined and restrained from erecting or suffering to be erected any buildings designed to be occupied as the home or residence of three or more families living independently of another and doing their cooking upon the premises. The claim of the plaintiffs is based in part upon section 17 of chapter 908 of the Laws of 1867, which is entitled "An act for the regulation of tenement and lodging houses in the cities of New York and Brooklyn." Section 17 declares that "a tenement house within the meaning of this act shall be taken to mean and include every house building or portion thereof which is rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or is occupied as the home or residence of more than three families living independently of another (sic) and doing their cooking upon the premises, or by more than two families upon a floor, so living and cooking, but having a common right in the halls, stairways, yards, water closets or privies or some of them." I am of the opinion that the words tenement house in the above mentioned covenant are to be construed according to their plain, ordinary and popular sense and not according to the definition in the act of 1867. That definition is not a general one, but is confined, by the terms of the act, to the act itself. The terms of written instruments are always construed according to their ordinary meaning. "The question here, however," said Mr. Justice O'Brien in a similar case (Boyd. v. Kerwin, 15 N. Y. Sup., 721), "is not what is defined as a tenement within the provisions of the act quoted * * * but what was a tenement house within the meaning of the covenant." A tenement house then (in 1873) as well as now has a well defined popular meaning. When one says to-day that a person lives in a tenement house he does not mean that such person lives in a house like the Nevada flats, and yet those flats are occupied by more than three families living independently of one another and doing their cooking upon the premises. Webster's Dictionary of 1871 says that a tenement house is often, in modern usage, an inferior dwelling house rented to poor persons. Worcester's, citing American Cyclopedia, says that a tenement house is a building having tenements occupied by poor families. "Tenement houses," says the International Cyclopedia, volume 14, page 1851, "commonly speaking, are the poorest class of apartment houses; they are generally poorly built, without sufficient accommodations for light and ventilation, and are overcrowded; the middle rooms often receive no daylight, and it is no uncommon thing for several families to be crowded into one of these dark and unwholesome rooms. Bad air, want of sunlight and filthy surroundings work the physical ruin of the wretched tenants, while their mental and moral condition is equally lowered. Attempts to reform the evils of tenement life have been going on for some time in many of the great cities of the world." Certainly the evils of tenement life above referred to are not to be found in a tenement containing a parlor, library, dining room, butler's pantry, kitchen, five bedrooms and servant's room, private bathroom and closet and servant's bathroom and closet in a building lighted by electricity and having modern open plumbing, gas ranges and telephones. It is hardly necessary to whitewash the walls and ceilings of a "tenement house" of this kind at least twice a year, and in the months of April and October, as required by the act of 1867. In fact, the reading of that act shows that the tenement house therein referred to is the kind of a tenement house described by the dictionaries. This case is to be distinguished from the case of Levy v. Schreyer (27 App. Div., 282), and cases of like character, in which the covenant was not to erect any house except a private dwelling. The complaint should be dismissed, with costs.

Paying Assessments.

AN OFFICIAL EXPOSITION OF THE LAW RELATING THERETO.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir.—Permit me to correct a statement that appeared in your issue of the 8th inst., under the caption "Paying Assessments," wherein you call the attention of property-owners in Greater New York to the general regulations and specific laws that govern all assessments for local improvements or those confirmed by a Court of Record.

Chapter 584 of the Laws of 1881, which you quote as coming from a tax expert, does not apply to assessments for local improvements or taxes in any manner. The law that was framed allowing assessments on property in certain sections of the Bronx to be paid in annual instalments is covered by Section 1, Chapter 538 of the Laws of 1894, which reads as follows: "All assessments for local improvements in the 23d and 24th Wards of the City of New York may, after the passage of this act, be paid in annual instalments equal to twenty percentum of the whole amount of such assessments, provided, however, that interest at the rate of six percentum per annum shall be charged upon the amount of such assessment remaining unpaid after the payment of each such instalment." It will be observed that this law only applied to the 23d and 24th Wards, omitting entirely the towns and villages in Westchester and Eastchester, all of which at the present writing are in the Borough of the Bronx.

In the town of Gravesend and the cities of Long Island City and Brooklyn, prior to consolidation, various enactments were passed by the Legslature to affect almost every assessment of any importance that came up in each succeeding year. Chapter 171 of the Laws of 1893 provides for a forty-year instalment, and reads as follows: "The cost of all local improvements in the town of Gravesend shall be paid for in the first instance by the sale of bonds. As regards all unpaid assessments for local improvements heretofore imposed, assessed or levied in said town exceeding on any one plot, parcel or lot of land including all charges, penalties and arrearages of interest on the same, one hundred dollars each, it is provided that the same, instead of being assessed, levied and collected as heretofore provided by law, shall not be deemed to have been assessed, or to be payable, except in and by forty annual instalments to be levied as herein described. * * * * and shall add thereto each year one year's interest computed at the rate of six percentum per annum upon all the remaining fortieth parts or instalments of said total assessment." This law covered the grading of Surf av, from Prospect Park and Coney Island Railroad lands to Coney Island Point, in the town of Gravesend.

Chapter 520 of the Laws of 1895 provides for the payment of assessments in ten annual instalments, with a six per cent. interest clause, to open, grade, gutter or curb, etc., any street or avenue in the 8th Ward in the City of Brooklyn.

In the towns of Flushing, Newtown, Jamaica and Hempstead and the city of Long Island City, all assessments for local improvements prior to consolidation, were paid in bulk at one time with a penalty at the rate of ten percentum per annum for non-payment after three months had elapsed from the date of confirmation.

In Staten Island, prior to consolidation, the property-owners in Castleton, Middletown, Northfield, Southfield and Westfield preferred to pay all assessments for local improvements in bulk and at one time, attaching a penalty at the rate of ten percentum per annum for non-payment after a period of thirty days.

Coming down to consolidation, Section 1019 of the Greater New York Charter provides that unless the amount assessed for benefits on any person or property shall be paid within sixty days after the date of the entry of the assessment (in the Record of Titles of Assessments Confirmed), interest will be collected thereon as provided in that section. Said section provides that "If any such assessment shall remain unpaid for the period of sixty days after the date of entry thereof on said Record of Titles of Assessments, it shall be the duty of the officer * * * * to charge, collect and receive interest at the rate of seven percentum per annum, to be calculated to the date of payment from the date when such assessment became a lien, as provided by Section 159 of this act. This section provides * * * * 'An assessment shall become a lien upon the real estate affected thereby ten days after its entry in the Record of Titles of Assessments.'"

It must be remembered that if property is permitted to run in arrears of assessments for a period of three years from the date of entry of the assessment in the Record of Titles of Assessments, it becomes liable to sale at public auction by the Collector of Assessments and Arrears.

Notice of the sale shall be advertised in the "City Record" and the corporation newspapers of the City of New York once in each week successively for a period of three months.

I may add just here that a sale will be held in the second week of August, 1902, of all property in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx that is in arrears of taxes, assessments and water rents, up to and including the year 1898.

The custom of paying assessments in instalments should not be continued, as it involves the property-owner in numerous difficulties and submits him to penalties attributable to his own negligence in omitting to meet his annual payments, incurs unnecessary legal expense in cases of property transfers, and, furthermore, acts as a lien upon his real estate just as long as the instalments exist.

On the other hand, where the assessment is paid in full at one time the property-owner is at once relieved of the assessment, and happily avoids the never-ceasing worry and annoyance that instalment payments inevitable incur.

Respectfully yours, WILLIAM E. McFADDEN,
Collector of Assessments and Arrears.

Fences and Signs—Proposed New Ordinance.

Alderman Ware, on Tuesday, offered a resolution amending the Building Code as it relates to signs, which was referred to the Committee on Buildings. It was:

Section 1. Part XXVIII., section 144, of the Building Code is hereby amended by striking out the paragraphs relating to fences, signs, and bill boards, beginning with the words "Fences of wood shall not be erected over ten feet high," etc., and ending with the words "and the same shall be properly supported and braced," and substituting in lieu thereof the following words: Fences, signs, or bill boards, within the building line, erected upon uprights or supports extending into the ground, shall not be at any point over ten feet above the surface of the adjoining ground; except that when any such fence, sign or bill board shall be constructed entirely of metal, or of wood covered with sheet metal, including the uprights, supports and braces for same, it shall not be at any point over sixteen feet above the surface of the adjoining ground. Any letter, word, model, sign, device, or representation in the nature of an advertisement, announcement or direction, supported or attached, wholly or in part, over or above any wall, building or structure, which shall be visible wholly or in part against the sky from any point in the street or ground below, shall be deemed to be a "sky sign." Sky signs shall not extend or project beyond the building line, and shall be constructed entirely of metal, including the uprights, supports and braces for same, and shall not be at any point over ten feet above that part of the wall, building or structure to which they are attached or by which they are supported. All fences, signs, bill boards and sky signs must be properly secured, supported and braced, and must be so erected as not to be, or become, dangerous. Before the erection of any fence, sign, bill board or sky signs, as herein described, shall have been commenced, a permit for the erection of the same shall be obtained from the Superintendent of Buildings having jurisdiction. Each application for the erection of any such fence, sign, bill board or sky sign shall be accompanied by the written consent of the owner or owners of the property upon which it is to be erected, and shall state the location of the said property, the location of said fence, sign, bill board or sky sign on said property, and the materials and dimensions of said fence, sign, bill board or sky sign.

THREE CENTS A DAY FOR A COMPLETE SYSTEM OF REAL ESTATE RECORDS!

Ten dollars for a complete system and set of real estate records alphabetically and numerically arranged, printed and ready for as easy reference as a word in the dictionary, is an interesting proposition for everyone who has anything to do with real estate operations.

It is possible for every real estate man to equip his office with the most perfect and handiest system of real estate records at a nominal cost.

This service is supplied to all subscribers of "The Record & Guide Quarterly"—a publication issued every three months. The fourth number annually is an issue containing all the records for the entire year arranged alphabetically and numerically. The subscription price is ten dollars a year.

Those who are not subscribers should investigate the advantages of this publication. All other systems of records are needlessly cumbersome and unnecessarily expensive. Start at once with "The Record & Guide Quarterly." The annual number for 1901 is now ready for delivery, and we will send you this number with the following three quarterly numbers for ten dollars, less than three cents a day for a complete set of real estate records.

Drop a postal card to the offices of publication Nos. 14, 16 Vesey Street, or telephone 3157 Cortlandt, and we will gladly show you the publication and explain to you its uses as a time-saver and money-maker.

The D. & M. Chauncey Real Estate Co. will offer, at the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange, Tuesday next, by order of the executors of the estate of Newbury H. Frost, deceased, several very desirable parcels of improved property in the 22d Ward. This is the most attractive auction bill that has been offered in Brooklyn for some time. It includes the two handsome 3-sty and basement stone and terra cotta dwellings, Nos. 944 and 946 President st. A reference to our advertising pages will give further particulars.

In addition to the offerings on the Want and Offer page, attention is called to the offering on page 1 of several parcels in the heart of the mercantile and shipping district. The property is offered by the Henry McArdle estate, and is located on Beach, North Moore, Varick, Hudson, Laight and Vestry sts, and includes three corners.

L. J. Phillips & Co. will sell the brick tenement, No. 953 1st av, on Tuesday next. Description is given in our advertising pages, and the auctioneers' office is at No. 158 Broadway, where full information may be obtained.

MANY BROKERS are spending large sums of money in maintaining an office record of real estate transactions. Such a record is indispensable, and can now be obtained at $10 a year, by subscribing to the Record and Guide Quarterly. All records, alphabetically and numerically arranged with annotations. Where to Find Business.

At the request of a number of our patrons, we have made our "Wants and Offers" column a part of our news department, and henceforth this information, of a business character of value to all our readers, will be found immediately following the Real Estate Department. This "Wants and Offers" column will be open to all who have special requirements. By stating their necessities here, they speak at the very centre of the real estate and building interests of this city, and obtain thereby not only an interested audience, but one of incomparably greater efficiency than is to be obtained in any other manner. Every reader of the Record and Guide counts. The attention of the "trade" is secured in its columns, as well as the attention of real estate investors, real estate owners, building operators, banks, financial institutions, lawyers, the big estates, investors seeking an outlet for capital, architects, building material dealers, and all who directly or indirectly are interested in real estate. The clientele of the Record and Guide is one of the richest in the world. The Record and Guide is one of the designated official papers of the City of New York. In the American Newspaper Directory, just published, the Record and Guide is classed among the "double bullseye" journals, of which there are only a few in the United States, for the extraordinary value of its circulation. The "Wants and Offers" column offers a rare opportunity for business. Our readers will peruse it with interest and profit.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

LEXINGTON AV.—Charles Laue has sold No. 331 Lexington av, southeast corner of 39th st, a 6-sty flat and store, on lot 24x80.

20TH ST.—William and Charles Estwick have sold Nos. 233 and 235 West 20th st, two 3-sty dwellings.

5TH AV.—The John Hall Watson estate has sold Nos. 669 and 671 5th av, at the southeast corner of 53d st, two 4-sty dwellings, on a plot 42.8½x100. Jeremiah C. Lyons is reported to be the buyer, and he will probably alter both houses into a single American basement dwelling. The corner was bought by J. H. Watson in 1871 for $100,000, and No. 669 in 1892 for $67,000.

58TH ST.—L. J. Phillips & Co. have sold for Michael M. Van Bueren No. 215 West 58th st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 25x100.5. The property adjoins the plot on which Helen Gould will erect a stable. The buyer is a client of Howells, Wagner & Burghardt.

44TH ST.—Potter & Brother have sold to Michael McCormack Nos. 109 to 115 West 44th st, a plot 75x100, on which the buyer will erect a 12½-sty apartment hotel. Hall J. How & Co. were the brokers.

47TH ST.—The Long Acre Realty Co. have purchased from Miss Helen Cullen No. 153 West 47th st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 20x100.5. The company already own Nos. 145 to 151, and Potter & Bro., who control the Long Acre Realty Co., will transfer to them Nos. 155 to 159, making a plot 160x100.5.

48TH ST.—P. C. Eckhardt has sold for the estate of George Dietzel No. 404 West 48th st, a 5-sty tenement, on lot 25x100.5.

43D ST.—Mrs. M. Higgins has sold No. 429 West 43d st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 18.4x100.5.

14TH ST.—Charles E. Duross has sold for the estate of Vincent C. King No. 238 West 14th st, a 5-sty flat, on lot 25x103, for about $30,000.

STANTON ST.—Adolph Schlesinger has bought from Lowenfeld & Prager No. 7 Stanton st, a dwelling on lot 20x50.5.

48TH ST.—Henry F. Vogt has bought from Lowenfeld & Prager No. 236 East 48th st, a dwelling on lot 18.8x100.5.

5TH AV.—Jefferson M. Levy and Smith Ely have sold, through S. Osgood Pell & Co., No. 581 5th av, a 5-sty dwelling, on lot 20x100. It adjoins the residence of Miss Helen Gould, at the onrtheast corner of 5th av and 47th st. Charles A. Gardiner, counsel for the Manhattan Elevated Railroad, is given as the buyer. The sellers bought the house in November, 1901, for $116,000.

FULTON ST.—The Sands estate have sold No. 100 Fulton st, southwest corner of William st, old building, fronting 45.6 on Fulton st and 81.2 feet on William st.

43D ST.—Edward R. Finch and the Harriot estate have sold Nos. 113 to 123 West 43d st, six dwellings, on plot 125x100. Myer Hellman purchased Nos. 129 to 135 last week, and James W. Henning bought Nos. 137 to 141.

34TH ST.—The Childs Unique Dairy Co. have sold to the New York Realty Corporation Nos. 108 and 110 West 34th st, a plot, 47.3x98.9, on which they will erect a 12-sty store and office building, which has been leased to the Dairy Company for twenty-one years, at about $40,000 a year net. The lessees will use the lower floors and sublet the offices. The property adjoins the store of Sacks & Co., and was purchased by the Childs Unique Dairy Co. in September, 1901, for $295,000.

35TH ST.—Dr. Moritz L. Solomon has sold through James J. Etchingham No. 254 West 35th st, a 5-sty tenement, on lot 25x98.9.

40TH ST.—Mandelbaum & Lewine have sold to a Mr. Baumann Nos. 219 to 229 West 40th st, four 5-sty flats, on plot 150x98.9. The title is in the name of Morris Weinstein, who recently purchased three similar buildings, Nos. 215 to 221, for $72,500. D. Kempner & Son are the brokers, and report the price for the six as about $175,000.

7TH AV.—H. H. Cammann & Co. have sold for Mrs. Sarah Lee No. 844 7th av, a 4-sty building, on lot 25x100, to F. N. Lawrence, the owner of the adjoining northwest corner of 54th st. No. 844 was sold in 1879 for $23,000, and has been held by the seller at $45,000; $41,500 was refused for it. The corner is a 5-sty flat, on lot 25x100; it was in the market at $75,000, and an offer of $72,500 was refused. Mr. Lawrence is now asking $150,000 for the combined plot. The income from the corner is $5,600, and from the property just sold, between $2,300 and $2,400. An 11-sty apartment hotel is being erected on the plot, 75x100.5, on the north side of 54th st, 100 feet west of Broadway; this latter plot, together with 75x100.5, abutting on 55th st, sold at one of the Eno sales in 1899 for $122,000.

5TH AV.—Jeremiah C. Lyons has sold to Mrs. James B. Clemens No. 603 5th av, a 5-sty American basement dwelling, on lot 22.5x100, near 49th st. He bought the old dwelling in 1901 from Anson R. Flower for $120,000, and has since altered it. Mr. Flower bought it for $110,000, and it is now reported sold at $200,000. No. 601, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 27x125, was transferred by the executors of Emma A. Schley to Anson R. Flower in January, 1901, for $150,000.

58TH ST.—John J. Bowes has sold No. 125 East 58th st, a 4-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 16.6x100.5. No. 129 recently sold for $20,000. R. B. Potter was the broker.

42D ST.—Dr. A. H. Smith, who owns Nos. 18 to 24 East 42d st, and No. 310 Madison av, has bought from Emma Cattus and John J. Roberts Nos. 312 and 314 Madison av; and from William Post, No. 26 East 42d st. This gives him a plot, 144x98.9. He bought No. 310 Madison av last year for $80,000; it is 31.5x52x irregular, and No. 24 East 42d st, 26x98.9, for $93,000.

30TH ST.—Geo. R. Read has sold for Mrs. Isabelle B. Coxe to Charles Joseph, No. 3 West 30th st, a 4-sty brownstone dwelling, on lot 25x98.9, for $87,500. No. 5 was sold last week; it sold in 1887 for $55,000. The house just sold adjoins the Wilbraham, an 8-sty apartment house, at the northwest corner of 30th st and 5th av.

5TH AV.—Mathias Rock has sold No. 315 5th av, a 4-sty building, on lot 28.9x150, at the southeast corner of 5th av and 32d st. He bought it in 1882 for $170,000. No. 311, a 4-sty building, on lot 28x150, with right of way over an alley in the rear, sold in 1899 for $175,000.

20TH ST.—P. D. Benson has sold for Mrs. M. A. Meagher No. 209 East 20th st, a 4-sty flat, on lot 20x92.

BROADWAY.—Another of the much-traded properties of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. is now reported to have been sold to an investor. It is No. 436 Broadway, northeast corner of Howard st, a 9-sty building, on plot 60.10x98x60x97.8. The sellers are M. L. & C. Ernst, and the buyer is said to be Thomas L. Watt, president of the Mt. Morris Bank, who, it is said, pays all cash, but as over $1,000,000 is reported to be involved in the transaction, it is more than likely a trade. William R. Lowe & Co. were the brokers.

4TH ST.—M. L. & C. Ernst have sold to Julius Shatmann No. 25 East 4th st, an 8-sty loft building, on lot 21x127.4. It sold at foreclosure in 1900 to the plaintiff for $47,475. Joseph Bierhoff and David Davis were the brokers. The buyer gives other property in exchange.

FRANKLIN ST.—The Borden's Condensed Milk Co. have purchased the northeast corner of Franklin and Hudson sts, old buildings, on plot 75.2x64.1.

4TH ST.—McVickar & Co. have sold for Maria Knecht No. 42 East 4th st, a 3-sty dwelling, on lot 20x56.5.

55TH ST.—Daniel B. Freedman has sold No. 61 West 55th st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 20x100.5.

RUTGERS ST.—Gordon, Levy & Co. have bought Nos. 54 to 58 Rutgers st, three 6-sty tenements, each on lot 25x107.

BARCLAY ST.—John B. Streeton has sold to the Hitchcock Publishing Co., for J. B. Adrian, the leasehold, No. 7 Barclay st, a 5-sty building, on lot 25x75.3.

LEXINGTON AV.—O. Price has sold to D. B. Freedman No. 714 Lexington av, a 3-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 20x70. Montgomery & Seitz were the brokers.

7TH AV.—E. A. Cruikshank & Co. have sold for D. B. Freedman, No. 104 7th av, 5-sty tenement, on lot 26x100.

51ST ST.—Mary E. Etyinge and Louisa W. Clowes have sold Nos. 326 and 328 West 51st st, 4-sty dwellings, on plot 41x100.5. The buyer is a builder. Charles Laue recently bought Nos. 320 and 322.

8TH AV.—G. Nicholas has sold for Albert L. and Louis Lowenstein the northwest corner of 8th av and 55th st, a 5-sty flat with stores, 55.5x85.

18TH ST.—De Selding Brothers have sold for C. F. Hoffman No. 28 West 18th st, a 4-sty dwelling, on lot 24.11x92.

5TH AV.—Contracts were signed on Saturday last for the sale of the northeast corner of 5th av and 28th st, a 6-sty building, fronting 25 feet on 5th av and 125 feet on the street, the easterly 25 feet extending back 98.9 and forming an L. The price is said to be very close to $400,000. The property was purchased by Robert C. Black in 1876, the store being occupied for many years by the firm of Black, Starr & Frost. The Knickerbocker, one of the early apartment houses, occupies the southeast corner of 5th av and 28th st, and covers a plot 86.10x125, which sold in 1882 for $548,000.

BROOME ST.—Morris Weinstein and H. E. Distelhurst have purchased from Adam Happel, No. 198 Broome st, 25x59.10, with L on Suffolk st 7.4x25.

46TH ST.—P. C. Eckhardt has sold for Hester Fox No. 343 West 46th st, a 3-sty dwelling.

43D ST.—Myer Hellman, who last week purchased Nos. 129 to 135 West 43d st, has secured No. 127, giving him a plot 103.8 x100.5, which he has sold to Robert F. Spalding, who will erect a 12-sty apartment hotel.

25TH ST.—A. Miller has sold to F. Daly No. 340 East 25th st, 25x100.

28TH ST.—The Deane estate has sold to Moritz Bauer, Nos. 131 and 133 West 28th st, two 5-sty tenements, on plot 53.6x98.9.

43D ST.—T. Ortmann has sold for F. K. Keller No. 435 West 43d st, a 5-sty tenement, on lot 25x100.

RIVINGTON ST.—Down-town East Side tenement property is apparently again in demand. It was reported that Peter Herter had sold five large corners in this section; when asked, he stated that he had sold two, the southeast corner of Rivington and Ludlow sts, a 6-sty tenement, on lot 58.9x100, and the northwest corner of Rivington and Suffolk sts, a 6-sty tenement, 34x100x 25x44. E. Klingenstein bought the former and Samuel Wacht the latter; price about $125,000 for each. Mr. Herter states that he has seen in the past eight days as many prospective buyers as in the past eight years, and that he knows of other East Side owners who have offers amounting to close to $500,000.

FULTON ST.—The United States Hotel, on the south side of Fulton st, from Pearl to Water st, a historic downtown landmark, is at last to go. It has been sold by C. E. Harrell to a real estate operator for the Tilden estate at about $225,000, and fronts 100 feet on Fulton st, 85.6 feet in Water st and 76.6 feet in Pearl st. The hotel was originally opened in 1823 as Holt's Hotel It was planned and conducted on a scale of magnificence and enterprise unheard of at that time. Its cupola, which towered above the neighboring houses, was used as a ship signal station, and the hotel itself became a favorite resort for the officers of the London and Liverpool packets and other aristocratic craft that docked along the East River. When ships were sighted, the news was flagged from Sandy Hook to Staten Island, from Staten Island to Governors Island, and thence to the cupola of Holt's Hotel, whose signals could be seen by all the town. The proprietor, however, was ruined by the miscarriage of a characteristic stroke of enterprise. In the absence of municipal water-works, he undertook to drill a well under the hotel, and went down about 300 feet without finding water. The expense incurred helped to throw him into bankruptcy, and the property passed into other hands. Though renamed the United States Hotel, it was long popularly remembered as Holt's Folly. It was for years owned in partnership by William Tilden and William J. Blodgett. It was offered at auction last April and bought by a party in interest for $164,000.

MADISON AV.—Judge P. Henry Dugro has added a large plot to his already extensive holdings in the block bounded by Madison and Park avs, 58th and 59th sts. He has now purchased from George McCulloch Miller, through Samuel Goldsticker, the Scotia Building, at the southwest corner of Madison av and 59th st. It fronts 100 feet in Madison av and 145 feet in 59th st, and cost the present seller $100,000. Judge Dugro now controls the 5th av block front from 58th to 59th st, fronting 150 feet on each street; the plot, 125x200.10, running through from 58th to 59th st, and separating Judge Dugro's present purchase from the Savoy, is owned by John J. and William Astor, and the Madison Avenue Hotel, at the corner of Madison av and 58th st, by Jeremiah C. Lyons.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

136TH ST.—Fannie Rogowski has sold No. 264 West 136th st, a 3-sty building, on lot 17.6x99.11.

76TH ST.—Isaac Scheuer has sold to Alfred Sharpe No. 26 East 76th st, a 4-sty and basement dwelling, on lot 19x100.2.
